Carelessness of Workman Is Given as Cause of the Catastrophe.

Many Injured Are Rescued Through Heroism of Comrades.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 2.—One of the greatest disasters in the history of Mexican coal mining took place today in the Palau mine at Las Esperanzas, Mex.

The toll of human life which paid the penalty of negligence on the part of some miner, according to latest reports, is placed at sixty-eight. After an official report showing fifty-three dead, twelve additional bodies were recovered, bringing the total to sixty-five, while three others have died in hospitals, making the grand total of sixty-eight.

An explosion occurred in No. 3 shaft of the coal mine of the Esperanzas Mining Company, and is attributed to the ignition of gas from the flame of a cigarette smoked by a miner, contrary to mine rules.

The miners, mostly Japanese and Mexicans, had assumed their places in the different workings just after 7 o'clock.

CLOUD OF SMOKE.

At 8:30 o'clock those at work above ground heard a loud explosion, and almost instantly a vast cloud of dust and smoke issued from the mouth of the shaft.

When the onlookers realized the meaning of the disaster, assistance was immediately forthcoming. So soon as the air in the shaft could be purified sufficiently to permit rescuers to descend, many volunteers were ready to risk their lives in an endeavor to succor their stricken brothers below.

Cages were immediately sent down, loaded to their capacity with miners bent upon rescuing their comrades. On the first and second levels, everything was found intact, and the men working in these were safe.

The rescue party went on to the third level as soon as the air could be sufficiently cleared, they entered the various drifts and began a search for the dead.

MEN ARE SUFFOCATED.

Scattered about in various positions in the workings, they found the dead bodies of the men suffocated, their faces indicating the bitter fight they had waged to reach pure air and safety.

The rescuers worked in relays searching for their dead and dying companions.

After six hours' work, fifty-three bodies had been brought to the surface, while nearly forty injured men had been removed to hospitals. The injured owe their escape to the fact that they were working where they were protected from the rush of foul air.

As the bodies were brought to the surface, mourning women and children were congregated about the mouth of the shaft awaiting the recovery of loved ones.

Most of the killed were Mexicans, the Japanese miners being employed in other parts of the mine.

PROVIDE FOR VICTIMS.

State representatives sent a detailed report of the explosion and a deduction as to probable cause—the explosion of mine damp. The Governor of Coahuila and Saltillo. They instructed the local authorities to take such action as they deemed necessary and to investigate thoroughly the cause of the disaster.

The mining company officials lost no time in making provision for the injured. An order was telegraphed to Eagle Pass and Monterey for coffins for the dead, and money and food have been provided for the suffering families.

The Palau mine is one of the best-equipped coal mines in the republic. It

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Negotiations between representatives of fifty-one western railroads and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, which have been in progress for six weeks, terminated today with an emphatic refusal of the managers to increase wages.

The managers offered to submit the demands of the men for an increase to arbitration, and that offer will now be presented to the rank and file of the organization for a vote.

Railroad officials today took an optimistic view of the situation and expressed their confidence that the firemen would consent to arbitrate the whole question. The experience of the switchmen on the railroads in the North who refused to arbitrate and who went on a strike over two months ago are still striking, though their places have been filled, is expected by the managers to have a sobering effect on all the other employés.

It will be located on the banks of the Cosumnes River in the southern part of this county, along the line of the Central California Traction Company's road.

Anderson says his orchard will contain 125 acres planted exclusively to cherries. No other exclusively cherry orchard in the State contains much more than a third of the acreage of the proposed orchard. During the summer the ground will be put into condition and the trees will be set out next fall.

Scarlet Fever Sufferer Leaves Hospital When Officials Refuse Him Permission to Go Home.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 2.—Alfred C. Murray of Woodland, a student suffering from an attack of scarlet fever, broke quarantine at Guild Hospital in Palo Alto last night and has disappeared.

He was in the third week of the disease, which is considered a particularly dangerous period. He is said to have contracted the disease at his home.

Last night permission was asked to allow Murray to return home. This was not granted. As there were no guards at the hospital, his escape was made easy. Murray will possibly be dealt with legally, as his leaving is a direct violation of the law.

AMERICAN BUYS WELLS FARGO.

MERGER OF EXPRESS COMPANIES IS NEAR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—It was said in authoritative circles today that the American Express Company has purchased the Southern Pacific holdings of stock in the Wells, Fargo & Co. Express, which is taken to indicate that a merger of the two express companies is in the way.

Although Southern Pacific holdings in Wells-Fargo—40,000 shares—do not represent stock control of that company, the remainder of the shares outside of those held by the Harriman estate are so widely distributed that the stock could easily swing the balance railroad on the original investment. This, it is said, prompted the sale of the stock, acquired in the Harriman regime. Mr. Harriman also purchased a large block on his own account. It was reported today that this also had been sold by the Harriman estate, but confirmation is lacking.

The Southern Pacific's decision to sell the stock is in line with the policy of the new management of the road, to avoid stock market manipulation, and confine itself strictly to railroad affairs.

Two Hundred Thousand People Homeless in and Near Paris—Rodman Wanamaker Will Buy Loaf Daily for All Needy Sufferers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Flood conditions in the suburbs of Paris are still deplorable. There are 200,000 homeless people, many of them still wearing clothes they had on when rescued.

The police are insufficient in numbers to cope with the bands of marauders trying to loot the half submerged districts and the inhabitants have organized regular "Apache Drives." They do not trouble to arrest any one, but if a looter is caught he is thrashed and thrown into the river. Many of these robbers are supposed to have been drowned and several cases of lynching are reported.

Rodman Wanamaker, an American, has offered, through Ambassador Bacon, to pay for a loaf of bread daily for thirty days for every flood victim in Paris and vicinity.

American subscriptions include $5000 from Henry C. Frick of Pittsburgh and $1000 from citizens of Baltimore. The total of American subscriptions now exceeds $100,000, the largest sum contributed by any foreign country.

BACON HEADS SYSTE... of the relief organization and the system by which aid is rendered.

Many sad cases of insanity caused by the flood have occurred.

Lighting oil and certain kinds of food are getting scarce. The hen coops which generally supply the Paris market with fowls must all have suffered from the inundation, so scarce is this particular item of food. There is plenty of meat and there has been no legitimate rise in the price of foodstuffs.

The prices of bread and potatoes, which went up a few days ago, are now normal.

That the wholesale and retail dealers have not taken advantage of the present state of affairs is due largely to the strict law against "accaparement," which legally means the buying up of articles of necessity, such as bread, meat, wine, butter and oil, with the object of raising the price. The French penal code makes this act a grave but a criminal offense punishable by both a large fine and imprisonment, and such a sentence may carry with it police surveil... two to

...great decrease in the number of visitors generally in Paris at this time of the year. It is known that many passengers who planned to land at Cherbourg went to Germany instead.

Except in the Javel quarter, the Twelfth Arrondissement and a few isolated spots on the left bank of the river Seine, the waters have almost receded from the streets.

The retreating waters have exposed great gaps in the pavements. The work of disinfection and the restoring of transportation systems is proceeding, but it will be many days and probably weeks before the telegraph and telephone systems, the furnace railways and the railway lines are again on a normal basis.

The plain below Paris as far as St. Germain-en-Laye is still under several feet of water.

The Red Cross has more than a privately-owned automobiles at its disposal and fifty-three relief depots established in Paris and the suburbs. It is estimated the public charities department and the Red Cross are distributing daily more than 100,000 loaves of bread.

Company at the time of the bank's suspension. The tying up of the packing company's immediate resources and the uncertainty as to the possible action that might be taken led to the appointment of a receiver to conserve the assets until a settled course can be pursued. The company continues operations, and all its plants are maintaining their volume and supplying people of Mexico with their meat products. It is not expected that these operations will be interfered with. Arrangements were under way in England for furnishing the company with a large amount of additional capital at the time of the suspension of the bank. These arrangements will proceed without interruption."

Among the concessions held by the company is an exclusive right to slaughter cattle in Mexico City until 1926. Its share capital is $22,500,000, and it has a bonded debt, secured by a mortgage, of about $12,500,000, and a floating debt of $2,000,000, of which, however, only $300,000 is due. Bonds, stocks and debts are held mainly in England. The British and Mexican Trust, Limited, of London, procured the receiver as the holder of about $6,000,000 of the bonds, approximately two-thirds of the stock, and as the owner of $300,000 of floating debt.

...ination consisted largely of questions asked by the Democratic members of the committee and designed to accentuate the political phases of the testimony Glavis had previously given. Glavis and those interested with him are represented before the committee by three lawyers who have spent several weeks preparing for the hearing and who know the history of the case by heart.

Few members of the Investigating Committee have shown any familiarity with the records whatever, and Senator Nelson himself referred to the situation as "unfortunate."

The matter, it was said, was called to the attention of Atty.-Gen. Wickersham to see if some representative of the Department of Justice might not act as counsel for the government departments under investigation. It was pointed out that the only way the committee could get at the facts was to have the case presented in orderly fashion from both sides and that it was unfair to the committee to place upon them the entire burden of cross-examination to test the credibility of the witness.

Mr. Glavis, who has asked to be relieved from further attendance as soon as possible in order that he may return West, will not be excused until the attorney representing the "other side" has had an opportunity to cross-examine him.

EMBEZZLER SAYS WOMAN AND MAN GOT MONEY.

Defaulting Big Four Treasurer Declares He Gave Mrs. Jeannette Stewart-Ford and Edgar S. Cooke About $1000 a Month After He Had Covered Up Friend's Shortage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 2.—About one-fourth of the $643,000 that Charles L. Warriner, defaulting local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad, confessed to having embezzled, was paid by him to Mrs. Jeannette Stewart-Ford, and Edgar S. Cooke of Chicago, according to Warriner's statement today in the trial of Mrs. Ford for blackmail.

The witness said that in the seven years he was embezzling funds of the railroad he had been paying approximately $1000 a month to both Cooke and Mrs. Ford, and declared that, so far as he knew, Mrs. Ford had been unaware that he was short in his accounts.

According to Warriner, he paid blackmail to Mrs. Ford because she knew that Cooke had been short in his accounts when he left the Big Four service, and that when Warriner had succeeded him he had concealed this shortage.

WOULD QUIET WOMAN.

It became apparent that Warriner has no intention of accusing his friend Cooke, of blackmail. The witness repeatedly declared that Cooke had never extorted money from him but that he had supplied him with funds for the sole purpose of keeping Mrs. Ford quiet, as he asserted she was equally dangerous to both of them.

Warriner admitted he had given large sums to Mrs. Ford, but he maintained she had never asked him for money, and said the only reason he helped her and her children was because "they were the only ones I felt any moral obligation to assist."

Warriner appears to enjoy his cross-examination. Seated easily on the witness stand, he answers questions with a smiling nonchalance. His smiling composure is in strange contrast to the demeanor of the woman against whom he is testifying. Mrs. Ford weeps continuously.

LETTERS MENTION WOMAN.

Attorney Thorndyke further developed his apparent line of defense when he read to the jury half a dozen letters written to Cooke by Warriner in which there were strong and frequent references to Mrs. Ford's infatuation for the Chicago man.

"Is it true that this woman was willing to give up friends, money, position and everything in the world for Cooke? Is it not true that he was all in the world that she desired?" Mr. Thorndyke asked.

"I believe so," replied Warriner.

The point that the defense persistently strove to establish was that Mrs. Ford was not a deliberate blackmailer, but that she accepted the money from Warriner as Cooke's friend, to be free to indulge in her infatuation.

Sanitary experts, doctors and mine officers are trying to determine what shall be done with the dead bodies and the seepage water in which the corpses have been floating for more than two months.

It was suggested that the water be pumped into a sewer that runs to a creek south of town. This plan was objected to by residents, who feared pestilence, as the drinking water in Cherry is pumped from shallow wells.

The men of Cherry are begging for employment in the mine. As Archie Frewen, chief mine boss, left the mine today, after working all night in the burned mine passages, Bonfilio Garzafa, 14 years old, asked for work.

"You were one of the twenty fellows who sat cooped in the mine for eight days after the fire, Bonfilio, and now you want to go down there again?" said Frews. "Your two brothers are dead down there, and your sister lost her mind as a result. I'll give you top work."

"Yes, but I want to get down there and save my brothers," said Bonfilio. "They had a big canvas, and they could have put that around them, crawled in a pocket of the mine and stayed there alive, all right."

ELK MINE VICTIMS NUMBER THIRTY-FOUR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DRAKESBORO (Ky.) Feb. 2.—With crepe hanging on every other door along the two straggling streets of the village of Browder, and motley funeral corteges headed by all sorts of improvised hearses moving toward the cemetery, today was largely given over to effacement of death's work in the Elk Valley coal mine. There was no attempt to hold services over the mangled bodies.

Rescuing parties were going up and down in the mine all day, but the last body was brought up at 12:30 o'clock p.m. This brought the count of dead to thirty-four, with one man, Foreman Peter Kelley, missing. The count made by mine officials this afternoon definitely fixes the same total.

Fifty-five men were in the area affected by the explosion, and of the twenty who got out alive scarcely one was unhurt. Two of the injured are expected to die.

No new facts pertaining to the cause of the explosion were obtained today.

PLAN EARLY INQUIRY INTO INCREASED COST OF LIVING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Frankly admitting fear that a prolonged investigation of the increased cost of living by the Ways and Means Committee of the House, or as provided by any rival resolution, might drag throughout the summer, and work to the disadvantage of Republicans in elections next fall, the Senate Finance Committee today formulated a programme for a quick, sharp inquiry.

This important question was considered by Republican members of the committee and, as a result, Senator Lodge introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to do the work.

Suggestion was made that the proposed investigation by the House Ways and Means Committee would accomplish every purpose, but the resolution introduced by Chairman Payne yesterday was characterized as a "drag net." The opinion was expressed generally that such an inquiry as was proposed by the House would not be concluded in time to be of assistance to Republicans in their campaign for reelection.

Senator Lodge, after remonstrating vigorously, finally agreed to undertake to conduct a rigid investigation and report to the present session of Congress, if he were chosen head of a committee.

Senator Lodge has requested that Senator Smoot also be assigned to this committee. Both are members of the Finance Committee, and were hard workers on the tariff bill.

Modesto Will Get Large Sum Left by the Wife of Oramiel McHenry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MODESTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The $20,000 legacy which was left by the late Oramiel McHenry for the city of Modesto to build a public library will be paid over some time this week. J. R. Broughton, president of the Modesto Bank, said: "The money will be paid in Modesto district bonds, which will be accepted at par by this bank."

The money has been tied up in a large estate, and the early receipt of the donation was made possible by the sale of a large tract belonging to the estate. Mr. McHenry left a widow, who is now Mrs. W. H. Langdon of San Francisco; one son by his second wife, and two sons, Albert, aged 21, and Robert, aged 23, by his first wife. By the terms of the will, the city was not to get the money until the boys were 28 years old. The two boys, Albert and Robert, have formed a company with their uncle, A. C. Billicke, the hotel man of Los Angeles, and an earlier settlement of the will is to be made.

BRIDE HUNTER COMES TO GRIEF.

HE MAKES VIOLENT LOVE TO STRANGE GIRLS.

Fresno Man Reads of Bachelor Club's Plan to Furnish Wives and Starts on Matrimonial Expedition, But Lands in an Insane Asylum After Strenuous Search.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON (Wash.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward D. Miles of Fresno was arrested on an insanity complaint here within an hour after his arrival in town, and immediately following his proposal of marriage on the street to a pretty girl whom he had never seen before.

Miles had read a newspaper at his home in Fresno about the Blue Mountain Bachelors' Club recently organized here to find brides for its members. So impressed with the opportunity was Miles that he started for Dayton ostensibly to visit his uncle, E. W. Alcorn, who lives here, but really to see about the bachelors' club.

At Berryman station, ten miles from here, Miles rushed from the train and made a violent avowal of love to a pretty school teacher who was passing. She screamed and fled, while Miles returned to his train.

Arrived at Alcorn's home, Miles had not been seated in the parlor ten minutes when he rushed forth for a girl who was passing, knelt on the sidewalk before her and proposed marriage. Then he was arrested. At jail Miles said the ambition of his life was to join the bachelors' club here and get a wife. He was commited to the asylum at Medical Lake.

PURCELL JURY DISAGREES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—The jury in the case of Edgar A. Purcell, charged with the murder of Charles A. Moss, was discharged today after it had failed to agree on a verdict. Ten of the jurors stood for acquittal. Purcell was a motorman on the cars during the street car strike of October, 1907, and he was accused of having shot Moss during a fight over a transfer.

NOTABLE CAPTURE.

DANGEROUS SWINDLER IN TOILS; MERCHANTS GLAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 2.—Samuel Gray, alias Carl Ryder, alleged by the National Credit Men's Association to be the most dangerous mercantile swindler in the country, was arrested on his release after serving a term in the Buena Vista (Cal.) Reformatory and arrived here last night in charge of officers. He had been pursued from Porto Rico to China and back by the association.

In 1908 Ryder reached Seattle and Portland with a letter of introduction to the wholesalers of both cities, written by J. W. Scriber, a banker of La Grande, Or. This letter, when confirmed, enabled him to obtain about $4000 worth of goods in the two cities, which he caused to be shipped by express to La Grande. The letter from La Grande stated that Ryder had invested $3000 in that city and would open a store there. On receiving the goods at La Grande, he immediately repacked the two consignments, it is charged, and shipped them to Colorado, where they were sold. Six Seattle firms will prosecute Gray.

Gray's operations in the past ten years are alleged to have brought him $100,000.

ABOUT TIME.

IMMORALITY CHARGE CAUSES "SUNSHINE" TO QUIT PULPIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. Dr. McKendree A. Casey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, until last month, has withdrawn from the Methodist ministry, and is now with his invalid wife in Southern California.

Confronted with charges of immorality at Everett, from whence he came here, he has sent to Presiding Elder Elliott his ordination papers, which amounts to a complete withdrawal from the ministry. Mr. Elliott says Casey admitted wrongdoing in a letter accompanying the returned papers. Elliott says the charges against Casey have been formally filed with him by three prominent Everett business men, immorality being charged. He has sent copies of the charges to Casey by registered mail without yet receiving a reply. The charges and his letter of withdrawal will go before the next conference at Centralia in September.

Casey's great congregation here is shocked. He was one of the most magnetic pastors Tacoma ever had, and among intimate friends was known as "Sunshine."

Late last fall Casey took his wife to Southern California. January 1, he was tendered a big reception by his congregation, preaching his last sermon January 2. The sermon seemed in the nature of a farewell address, though the congregation expected him to return again in a few weeks.

A dispatch from Everett says it is charged there he misled at least half a dozen girls in his congregation. His downfall came when one of them made a confession to the Rev. Mr. Forsythe, Casey's successor there, and two members of the official board.

PLANS CHERRY ORCHARD.

WILL BE LARGEST IN STATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sacramento county is to have the largest cherry orchard in the State. It will be planted by Alden Anderson, State Superintendent of Banks, who is a fruit man of experience. It will be located on the banks of the Cosumnes River in the southern part of this county, along the line of the Central California Traction Company's road.

Anderson says his orchard will contain 125 acres planted exclusively to cherries. No other exclusively cherry orchard in the State contains much more than a third of the acreage of the proposed orchard. During the summer the ground will be put into condition and the trees will be set out next fall.

SIERRA TRAIN SNOWBOUND.

VIOLENT STORM HITS VENTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] G. Canonica, at Venton, called up at midnight last night by long-distance telephone and stated that the train on the Sierra Valley Railroad, bound from Clio to Plumas Junction, where passengers transfer to the main line into Reno, was stalled there by snowdrifts, and could not get over Chilcoot Pass until today.

It is said the force of the wind was so strong that for hours it appeared another awful storm had struck the town, so furiously was the snow lifted and driven over the place. Vice-President Dunaway of the railroad declares that never in his experience have such tremendous snowdrifts been witnessed in that country, stalling their trains for the last ten days. Provisions in Venton are bringing high prices.

CATTLE STARVE TO DEATH.

BAD WINTER IN OREGON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PENDLETON (Or.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to reports received here, cattle are actually starving to death in the Ukiah country as the result of the severe winter and the [illegible] mand for beef. [illegible] pelled to start feeding [illegible] vember and have been [illegible] continue it almost continually since that time with the result that the hay supply has long since been exhausted and cattle were too weak to be driven out to where feed can be secured. A number of full-grown cattle in the John Day country are being offered for sale at $5 a head. So far, there has been no actual loss in the county, but the price of hay is almost prohibitive. The ground is covered with snow and the thermometer registered zero here last night.

KI-KI GETS WIFE BACK.

MONKEY MAN HAPPY AGAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ki-ki, the "monkey man," was remarried tonight. He will again try wedded life with Lottie E. Wilson, who got a divorce from him in Seattle a few weeks ago. She is 28 years old, while Ki-ki, known in private life as Harry L. Blitz, is 40 years old.

James E. Moore signed the affidavit that Miss Wilson, who resumed her maiden name when she obtained the divorce, was over 18 years old and that no legal impediment stands in the way of the marriage.

"I would rather have that woman than $1,000,000," said Mr. Blitz to 'Cupid" Prasp, when he applied for a license. "I gave her everything when she got that divorce from me—the home in Seattle—everything I had. Well, she thought it over and decided she was willing to live with me again, even if I do make a monkey of myself."

The wedding was performed tonight by a justice of the peace. Mrs. Blitz declared she was very happy.

JAP CATALEPTIC NOW TALKS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After lying in a [illegible] epsy unable to speak or more for nearly ten months, in a local hospital, K. Ogura, a Japanese laborer, has recovered complete consciousness. He spoke, gesticulated, laughed and danced to show how delighted he was over recovering his dormant faculties. A month ago Ogura showed signs of movement, and a week ago was able to walk with assistance. Ogura's is one of the very few cataleptic cases where there has been a complete recovery. For months, his body was absolutely rigid. Were an arm to be placed in any position, it would remain unmoved for hours. If Ogura were stood against the wall, he remained there. He was fed by liquids poured down his throat through a tube.

...GO, Feb. 2.—The County ...r's office was tied up last ... by a strike of twenty clerks, ... refused to work overtime unless the Board of County Commissioners grants their demand for an increase in pay for night work, Sunday and holiday work. The striking clerks are members of the Cook County Clerical Employes Association, which has been organized with a view of affiliation with the Chicago Federation of Labor. It is said the sixty clerks of the union who are employed in the Treasurer's office will refuse to work tonight. County Treasurer Thompson admitted the strike would cause delay in making up the books of his office. The clerks receive from $100 to $150 a month as salary for the regular work, and say they have not had an increase for years, though the cost of living has increased 40 per cent.

WHY WOMEN POWDER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—American women are only following a common psychological phenomenon when they use face powder, according to statements made by Prof. U. G. Weatherly of Indiana University, in an article on "Race and Marriage," in the current number of the American Journal of Sociology, issued yesterday from the University of Chicago press. Prof. Weatherly declares the women are actuated by the same motives as savages, who paint their skin black. "Man's ideals of beauty usually are found in the best type of what they themselves are, and what they find most useful," he said. "For that reason traits which especially characterize a group are often artificially exaggerated for purposes of ornament. Dark races blacken the skin, tall races increase the stature by special footwear, flat-nose people further flatten the nose, while women use face powder."

POLICE SHAKE-UP IN CHICAGO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Thrown into new terror by another general transfer order, issued yesterday by Chief of Police Steward, members of the united police last night passed word around among themselves to "lay low and be on the job." As a result of the transmission of the orders from the "united police," it was predicted by an old police lieutenant, who for years has been close in the innermost councils of the police organization, that not a single saloon in Chicago would be open after 1 o'clock this morning. In his order of yesterday, Chief Steward, continuing his battle for better police conditions, and elimination of politics from the police department, transferred four lieutenants, three sergeants and eight patrolmen. As usual when asked why the transfers were made, Chief Steward replied, "For the good of the ser...

J. Paul Goode of the University of Chicago, told members of the Woodlawn Women's Club yesterday. "As a member of the commission which recently showed a delegation of Japanese about, I visited every city of size in the country," said the professor. "Of the fifty-eight or more each boasted of some feature which could not be duplicated in the land. I have investigated those of New York, London, Paris and other great cities, but none is quite as bad as ours."

EMMA GOLDMAN CAUSES STRIFE.

Notorious Woman Brings About Serious Political Complications in Wisconsin.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emma Goldman, high priestess of anarchy, advocate of free love and other unconventionalities, has brought about one of the most serious political complications in Wisconsin since the halfbreed and stalwart Republican war.

As a result of the imbroglio, Dr. C. H. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, has been criticised. Prof. E. A. Ross of the sociology department may be asked to quit, United States Senator La Follette faces another fight with the "interests," and Neal Brown of Wausau, one of the most prominent politicians in the State, is charged with again trying to "get" the former Governor.

Almost every politician of any consequence in the State is drawn into the controversy by reason of their affiliations with one side or the other. And the Regents of the university are also priming themselves for a fight. Each side is marshaling its forces now, and the call to battle is expected at any moment.

Railroads to Escape Punishment for Violation.

Sell Coal Contrary to Commodity Clause.

Relieve Suffering Towns and Ask Low Prices.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Some of the railroads have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to relieve them from liability for violations of the commodity clause of the Hepburn amendment, which were incident to efforts to relieve the recent coal famine. In order to prevent a large number of cities and towns located on the lines of the western railroads from being entirely without fuel, the railroads sold, contrary to law, a large amount of their own coal, mined in their own mines. William Ellis, interstate commerce attorney for the St. Paul Railroad, told Commissioner Harlan that his company had charged the consumer just what the coal had cost the company, including the full tariff freight rate, and had thus squared the accounts on the books of the company. "We want the commission to know exactly what we have done in the matter," Mr. Ellis told the commissioner, "and if the commission thinks best to do so, we would like to have it issue an order relieving the railroads of liability, or at least placing its sanction upon what has been done."

"What did you charge for the coal in that case?" asked the commissioner.

"We did not charge the commercial price in any case, but simply charged that it cost the railroad company to deliver the product."

"Was not that a discrimination in favor of such industries and against other industries which were paying the commercial price for their coal?" asked the commissioner.

"We think not," replied Mr. Ellis.

Commissioner Harlan gave it as his personal opinion that it would not be wise for the commission to make any order in the matter, but that it would be best for the commission to take no notice of the infraction of the law.

Mr. Ellis informed the commissioner that it was the purpose of the railroads to draft an amendment to the commodity clause to permit the railroads to deliver their own coal in cases of emergency to industries which are suffering.

RAILROADERS WILL QUIT.

TROUBLE ON MEXICAN LINES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 2.—According to figures given out here tonight by members of the Order of Railway Conductors, 95½ per cent. of the American conductors and 89 per cent. of the engineers and dispatchers employed on the Mexican National lines have voted to resign in a body. The resignations have been placed in the hands of a committee representing the American railroad men, to take effect February 17, according to the El Paso Order of Railway Conductors. Five hundred Americans are affected.

RAILWAY ABSORBS LINES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—Stockholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway, at a meeting here today, voted to increase the capital stock to $180,000,000. The increase is $80,000,000. The absorption of twenty-three auxiliary lines and an increase of $25,000,000 in the bonded indebtedness out of which the lines will be improved were voted on favorably.

Railway Declares Dividend.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The directors of the Chicago City Railway Company have declared an extra dividend of ... per cent. on the $18,000,000 capital stock. The extra rate is 1 per cent. more than was declared at this time a year ago. The board also declared the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on the capital stock.

PROSECUTOR SAYS POISON WAS GIVEN TO MAN.

No Warrant Has Been Requested by Representatives of Estate But Attorney Is Ready to Act at Any Time—The Coroner's Inquest Will Begin Next Monday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An arrest in the Swope case may be made now at any time. This was the statement issued from the Prosecutor's office today. Since the return of Prosecuting Attorney Conkling from Chicago, the attitude of that official has undergone a remarkable change. Before his departure the Prosecutor had some doubts of the case ever going so far as a criminal prosecutor.

"But now," says the Prosecutor, "I am firmly convinced that Col. Swope was killed through the administration of poison."

Asked if an arrest would be made before the holding of the inquest Mr. Conklin was evasive.

"All I can answer," was his reply, "is that an arrest may occur at any time. A warrant may of course be issued if not been asked for and a request shall take no action until With this made of my office."

"We think not," replied Mr. Ellis.

Commissioner Harlan gave it as his personal opinion that it would not be wise for the commission to make any order in the matter, but that it would be best for the commission to take no notice of the infraction of the law.

Mr. Ellis informed the commissioner that it was the purpose of the railroads to draft an amendment to the commodity clause to permit the railroads to deliver their own coal in cases of emergency to industries which are suffering.

RAILROADERS WILL QUIT.

TROUBLE ON MEXICAN LINES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 2.—According to figures given out here tonight by members of the Order of Railway Conductors, 89½ per cent. of the American conductors and 89 per cent. of the engineers and dispatchers employed on the Mexican National lines have voted to resign in a body. The resignations have been placed in the hands of a committee representing the American railroad men, to take effect February 17, according to the El Paso Order of Railway Conductors. Five hundred Americans are affected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—Stockholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway, at a meeting here today, voted to increase the capital stock to $190,000,000. The increase is $8,000,000. The absorption of twenty-three auxiliary lines and an increase of $25,000,000 in the bonded indebtedness out of which the lines will be improved were voted on favorably.

Railway Declares Dividend.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The directors of the Chicago City Railway Company have declared an extra dividend of 4 per cent. on the $13,000,000 capital stock. The extra rate is 1 per cent. more than was declared at this time a year ago. The board also declared the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on the capital stock.

CAUSE FOR ACTION.

PLAN AN ARREST IN SWOPE CASE.

PROSECUTOR SAYS POISON WAS GIVEN TO MAN.

No Warrant Has Been Requested by Representatives of Estate But Attorney Is Ready to Act at Any Time—The Coroner's Inquest Will Begin Next Monday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An arrest in the Swope case may be made now at any time. This was the statement issued from the Prosecutor's office today. Since the return of Prosecuting Attorney Conkling from Chicago, the attitude of that official has undergone a remarkable change. Before his departure the Prosecutor had some doubts of the case ever going so far as a criminal prosecutor.

"But now," says the Prosecutor, "I am firmly convinced that Col. Swope was killed through the administration of poison."

Asked when an arrest would be made before the opening of the inquest Mr. Conklin replied:

"All I can say," was his reply, "is that an arrest may occur at any time. Warrants have not been asked for and of course will not be issued unless a request is made. We will take no action until the final report of my office."

With this significant statement from the Prosecutor it now appears the inquest proceedings will begin whenever the affairs of the Swope estate may be started. Neither Coroner Paxton would give any inkling as to when an inquest is expected.

The Coroner's inquest will begin at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Prof. Heke, chemist for the Coroner, he will testify Tuesday evening, bringing with him a report of the scientific

STEAMER'S CREW FIGHTS FIRE.

The Eldorado Battles With Storm, Cargo Shifts and Flames Are Started in Hold.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Morgan line steamship Eldorado, from New York, arrived in port tonight with fire in the lower hold. For two days and nights it battled with a terrific storm off Cape Hatteras. In the combat with waves and wind the cargo was badly listed.

Emerging from the storm, declared to be the severest ever experienced, fire was discovered in a lot of charcoal. Steam was shot into the hold, and for three days the crew fought the fire. While no accurate estimate of the fire loss can be made at this time, it is roughly estimated at anywhere from $15,000 to $35,000.

PLANNING DASH TO SOUTH POLE.

AMERICAN EXPEDITION LIKELY TO BE MADE.

Commander Peary Tells National Geographic Society If It Will Contribute to Trip, the Peary Arctic Club Will Furnish Steamer Roosevelt, But the Explorer Will Not Go.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Commander Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, has made a proposition to the National Geographic Society, which, if accepted, will mean that an American expedition will be on its way to discover the unconquered South Pole next fall. On behalf of the Peary Arctic Club of New York, Commander Peary suggested that the club and the Geographic Society fit up a joint expedition to reach the South Pole.

The Peary Arctic Club, he said, in making the offer at a dinner given by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell to the board of directors of the National Geographic Society last night, would contribute the steamship Roosevelt, which could not be duplicated for $150,000, provided the National Geographic Society would assume the responsibility for the first $50,000 toward the cost of the expedition.

According to the plan suggested, all expenses above that sum are to be divided equally between the two organizations. Commander Peary estimated that the total cost would be from $75,000 to $100,000.

The proposed expedition would start next fall, and would reach Coast Land about March, 1911. This point is directly opposite the base of the British South Polar expedition. The two camps would be about 2000 miles apart, and approximately the same distance from the pole. It is estimated the explorers would reach the South Pole about December 31, 1911.

Commander Peary's proposal was received with enthusiasm by the members of the board of managers of the Geographic Society, but as the meeting at the dinner was informal no positive action was taken. The matter was referred to the Finance and Research Committee, with instructions to report at a special meeting to be called at an early day.

It is believed the society will decide to accept the proposal. Commander Peary said that he could not conduct the expedition in person, as the sledge work required so much physical exertion that it needed a younger man than he to undertake it.

WIDOW SUES FOR INSURANCE.

Woodmen Made Defendant for Transferring Life Policy to Niece of Man Who Died Here.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Della Cool Walker, leading woman dentist of San Francisco, is suing the Woodmen of the World in the District Court here on account of the transfer of a $2000 insurance policy to his pretty niece by Dr. C. H. Walker upon his deathbed, in Los Angeles. The Woodmen of the World paid the insurance to Miss Helen E. Stone, the niece, upon presenting the transfer, but Mrs. Walker says the transfer was made under undue influence and without notice to her.

The woman dentist has already collected a number of premiums upon her husband's life, at the end of tedious litigation, and says she expects to recover the money paid to her husband's niece in this case. She was formerly married to a man named Peel of San Francisco. She met Dr. Walker in that city, another dentist, and the two decided to enter into a co-partnership, professionally and matrimonially. The husband was taken sick in the early part of 1906, and went to Los Angeles for his health, leaving his wife to take care of the business. He died August 7, 1906, in Los Angeles.

BIGGER DRY DOCKS NEEDED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Dreadnaught type of battleship necessitates the enlargement of all the dry docks of the United States, which will cost millions, according to a statement made by Secretary Meyer before the House Naval Committee today. Secretary Meyer told the committee a new dry dock was needed at Norfolk, at a cost of $2,000,000; that the New York dry dock would have to be enlarged, at a cost of $1,000,000; that the one at Pearl Harbor, which is being built at a cost of $2,000,000, should be enlarged, at a cost of $425,000; and that the dock at Puget Sound should be widened, at an additional cost of $325,000.

Mother of Young Girl Held by Cruelty Society Says She Cannot Visit Daughter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Countess Von Dolgorould, as the mother of Jenta Fishburn, a 17-year-old girl, now in charge of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, is known, was granted a citation today summoning M. J. White, secretary of the society, to show cause tomorrow why for nine years he has refused her permission to visit her daughter.

This is the first step in the effort being made to have the letters of guardianship issued to White revoked. According to statements of her mother and stepfather, the girl is heiress to vast estates in Russia.

Heads Movement to Start a New Jerusalem.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Hospital attendants used grappling irons in the East River in a search for the body of Henry Pennington Toler, a Princeton graduate, former broker. Toler eluded the guards on Wards Island yesterday where he had been confined in an insane asylum since July and plunged into the river. Caught in the eddy from Hell Gate, he sank almost immediately.

Toler became violently insane last summer after controversies with factions in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in this city. For a time he was a supporter of Mrs. Augusta F. Stetson, but subsequently he turned against her. His commitment to the asylum was caused by persons who said he had sent them threatening letters.

Christian Science so interested Toler that he abandoned his brokerage business several years ago, gave much of his money to the church and finally became first reader. Then he became possessed of the hallucination that the upper part of Harlem belonged to him and to Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy.

He organized a movement to recover property valued at three billion dollars to establish a new Jerusalem. His project, of course, failed, his fortune dwindled, his wife left him and his complete mental collapse followed.

He had evidently paid for the room with his last dollar.

OBITUARY.

Maximo Gavito.

NACO (Ariz.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maximo Gavito, comrade of Porfirio Diaz, now President of Mexico, and who once saved the life of Diaz by carrying him from the battlefield, after the latter was seriously wounded, died at his home in this place today, after an illness of several days. For years he was Consul for Mexico at Bisbee and at times was employed as interpreter in both the courts of Arizona and Sonora, Mex. He was a pioneer of the Southwest and aided materially in the development of the Southwest. Gavito was 70 years old and was born in the province of Viscaya, Spain. In the early days along the border he was in many an Indian battle with the Apaches and Comanches and was wounded several times. He was highly esteemed by all Americans along the Arizona border.

M. S. Beale.

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Feb. 2.—M. S. Beale, a leading citizen and promoter of various enterprises that had to do with the founding of this community, died Monday night of pneumonia, contracted several days ago. Mr. Beale, while a pioneer here, was formerly prominent as an attorney in San Francisco, Topeka, Kan., and New York. He was a member of Denver Lodge, No. 7, of the Masonic fraternity, and a member of the Union League and the Bohemian clubs of San Francisco. He promoted and successfully conducted the affairs of the artesian water syndicate here, was a large land owner and held in high esteem by friends and associates. The funeral was held under the auspices of local lodge, No. 21, A. F. and A. M. The body was sent to friends in Topeka tonight. Mr. Beale was 62 years of age, and left a son and daughter in the East.

J. H. Taber.

RENO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. H. Taber, father of Mrs. Charles E. Kaiser of this city, died at his home in Elko, from internal injuries and a broken hip, the result of a heavy fall caused by slipping on the ice in his door yard a few days ago. Mrs. Kaiser had been summoned and reached home the morning of her father's death. Mr. Taber came West with his parents when fifteen or sixteen years old. He enlisted with Gen. Fremont, with whom he marched to Los Angeles, participating in taking the country from the Mexicans. He came to Nevada in 1862 and is mentioned in Wren's history of Nevada as "one of the old and honored pioneers," preceding a long account of his distinguished career in the West. He was seventy-nine years of age and leaves a widow and one other daughter, Miss Clara, who is at home.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYERS' HIT.

"JAMES WOBBERTS, FRESHMAN," PLEASING FARCE.

The Winter Class of the School on the Hill, Gives Amusing Three-Act Play in Presence of a Large Audience—Will Repeat It This Afternoon—Names of Participants.

"James Wobberts, Freshman," created screams of laughter last night at the High School assembly hall. It was a college farce, in three acts, presented by the winter class, and the large audience enjoyed it immensely. All the parts were happily taken, and in several instances with more than ordinary talent.

In brief, the farce is the story of a scapegrace, named Tom Harrington, captain of the football team at Berkeley, who, overwhelmed with debts, of bad record at the university, and involved in other scandals, had to do something to deceive his father in order to get money. The opportunity came when James Wobberts, a freshman from Santa Barbara, appeared on the scene, and announced his presence in a cockney drawl. Harrington and his chum, Reginald Black, seized Wobberts, forced him to wear a ridiculous disguise, to represent himself as "Prof. James" of Berkeley, and to give the father of Harrington a good account of his son at college.

The full cast of characters was as follows: Tom Harrington, football captain, Chester Crank; Reginald Black, his chum, Walter Rivers; James Robberts, Freshman, Walter Saint; William Everett James from Stanford, Watt Smith; Byron Harrington, Tom's father, Horace Elder; Dan Davenant, from Angel's Camp, Marion Wright; Prof. Magee, director of the gym, Paul Davies; Dawley, a collector, Durno Shepardson; Nugata, an honest, industrious Japanese schoolboy, Le Valley Lund; Marian Davenant, Dan's daughter, Margaret Hunt; Dulcie Harrington, Tom's sister, Madge Philbrick; Ruth Thornton, Mrs. Wiggins's niece, Ruth Teetzel; Mrs. Wigginton Wiggins, a boarding-housekeeper, Frances Chandler; Widow Maguire, with a bill, Dorothy Conger.

Horace Elder, as the blustering "Dad" of Harrington; Marion Wright, as Dan Davenant, whose greatest piece of luck was to "ask fer a seegar and git a widder;" and Frances Chandler, as Mrs. Wiggins, the boarding-house-keeper, were as "natural as life." Walter Saint, in the title role of the simpering freshman, "James Wobberts," played the spineless part well. Chester Crank portrayed the cheerful liar, Tom Harrington, skillfully, but he was not the ideal bluff football captain. The play will be repeated this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock in the High School assembly hall.

Philip Hubbard, president of the class, delivered a neat address before the curtain went up, and the school orchestra rendered a number of fine musical selections. The full roll of the class is as follows:

Ruth Alexander, Louise Avery, Ruth Black, Vivien Blythe, Elmer Bromley, Harvey Bruce, Helen Bullard, Mary Caldwell, Frances Chandler, Arthur Chapman, Dorothy Conger, Marie Crabbe, Chester Crank, Roy Crocker, Lois Dannecker, Paul Davies, Lester Donahue, Inez Dunham, Horace Elder, Max Elsner, Helen Fitzsimmons, Ida Fullerton, Clarence Glinn, Edna Goodwin, Agatha Grant, Ulysses Grant, Guy Haddock, Francis Hart, Philip Hubbard, Margaret Hunt, Granger Hyer, Florence Jaden, Julia Kelly, Ella Kinard, Emma Kranz, Jessie Lackey, Ethel Leaver, Hazel Lindsey, Le Valley Lund, Esther McDonald, Nina McEwen, Margaret McGee, Gertrude Millard, William McMillian, Dorothy Mochbee, Harry Morrison, Stanley Ozier, Irene Parker, Margaret Pendexter, Madge Philbrick, Chloe Phillips, Sadie Phillips, Anna Pinkiert, William Powers, Orlando Pratt, Leita Rathwell, Ethel Reynolds, Walter Rivers, Hazel Rix, Howard Rose, Walter Saint, Durno Shepherdson, Watt Smith, Hanza Suzuki, Ruth Teetzel, Maude Teetlebach, Eva Van Loan, Fannie Vaughan, Benjamin Wallbridge, Helen Walker, Edward Warren, Arthur Watts, George Webb, Marian Wright, Florence Westenhiser, Georgina White, Grace Wilson.

52 of them. My! we wish we might say there were 552, for the value is so startling, the styles so remarkable. You see, they were sample dresses that were made up for the spring season of the New York retail stores.

Our representative, being in the market at the present time, was able to procure these 52 dresses at a wonderful discount, so that we are able to announce the wonderful news, beginning today.

These garments are made of fine silk taffeta of superb quality, pure silk messaline and fancy striped silks, in the black and white, and brown and white. Included are rich braided ideas in the silk soutache and rat-tail embroidery. Why, the work alone on some of these dresses is worth more than the price we're asking for the finished dress.

Note the new sleeves, the new style touches that are to be prominent this spring. Note how cleverly they fit and how well they are made. Don't, for anything, pass by the opportunity; 52 women may share in this event.

TRACK MEET SATURDAY.

An interclass track meet is to be held Saturday for the purpose of giving "Dad" Moulton an opportunity to get a line on the material that will be available for the 'varsity team this season. The classes may compete individually or the upper classmen may meet the under classmen.

From Wednesday until Saturday trials will be run in order that the trainer may gain some idea of the condition of the athletes and learn to what events the novices are most naturally adapted.

The band of quarter-milers has been materially strengthened by the addition of R. E. Millsap, '12, of Pasadena, who made a creditable showing in this event last year, but was prevented from competing with California on account of sickness. While at Pasadena High School, Millsap was one of the best 440-yard runners in the south. He is showing good form. The freshmen class contains several fast 400-yard men.

G. L. Horine and J. A. Miller of the freshman class are showing up well in the pole vault. Horine is clearing eleven feet and Miller has already reached ten and a half feet.

Bat Nelson Insists on Big Bet on the Side.

Fight Is to Be Pulled Off in Alameda County.

Champion Says Welsh Can Get All He Wants.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the Nelson-Wolgast forty-five-round fight for the lightweight championship of the world will take place in an arena to be constructed on the site of the Alameda baseball grounds on the afternoon of February 22, was the announcement made today by promoter Sid Hester, after a conference with the champion, who arrived in the morning. Hester has already concluded a deal with the Alameda Athletic Club, of which he is to become manager. This will give him complete control, and as the Alameda club has a license for one year, Hester will be in the field for other matches. The work of building an arena will be started within two or three days.

Nelson, upon his arrival this morning, made it plain the arrangements so far completed are satisfactory to him.

There is only one thing that may cause a dispute, and that is the posting of a $5000 side bet. The side bet proposition originally came from Wolgast and now the Chicagoan says he will insist that Wolgast must post the money. He says, however, that he will not allow the side bet to interfere with the match, but that he wants to show Wolgast up.

According to Nelson, he is out to meet all comers and will take them as fast as they come.

"Freddie Welsh can have all the fight he is looking for," he said, "but he will not name the conditions. He has been flooding this country with his letters about the big offers that I could get in England. Now its strange, isn't it, that Bat Nelson never heard directly from these promoters? For the next twelve months I will keep as busy as I can. I am not going to retire as long as there are men to fight, but I will take them on fewer than I have in the past. Never felt better in my life, and I will give those fellows who think I am due for a beating, a big surprise."

LOCAL PUGS STIRRING.

LANGFORD DRAWS CROWD.

Sam Langford played to the capacity of the gym on Stephenson avenue yesterday and went through some swift paces preparing for the ten-round contest with Jim Flynn, which is scheduled for McCarey's Pavilion for next Tuesday evening. Langford worked first with the apparatus and then boxed twelve rounds, using Cameron for three rounds, Armstrong for two, Collins for three, and Young Langford, the ball player, and Pettus for two each. He seemed to be in grand shape and is ready and fit to battle.

Jim Flynn at Vernon hit the road in the forenoon and later in the day appeared at Doyle's and went through his regular strenuous training stunts, boxing three rounds with Mexican Pete Everett and three with Dick Allen. The officials of the Pacific Athletic Club watched the fireman work and the general expression was that Flynn never has been in such shape for a fight.

The preliminaries are in keeping with the main part of the show and even if the Langford-Flynn fight should end by a quick knockout on either side the bugs should have a good run for their money with the youngsters. The scrap between Marty Kane and Gene McGovern is exciting the bettors as no contest of minor importance has done for a year. The side bet of $500 each has stimulated the lads to great action and the best that is in them should be brought out in this contest. They will weigh in at 122 pounds at 3 o'clock. McGovern is training at the pavilion and Kane is using the Eastside quarters.

Rivers and Roman are expected to put up a slashing battle when they meet over the ten-round course. Their six-session affair was of the liveliest order and they are training sincerely so as to be in the best possible shape for the longer go.

Bubbles Robinson and Kid Troubles are enthusiastic over the chance to appear together and this opener should be a lively contest, also.

Five hundred fans attended the weekly try-outs of the Pacific Athletic Club yesterday at the pavilion and eight two-round bouts were pulled off. Toney Rose, a newcomer, who never had put on the gloves before, proved the star of the afternoon, stopping two boys in the first round in each instance. He will be groomed and put on when he gets in shape.

Lew Powell left San Francisco last night and will be in Los Angeles this morning. He will go out to Doyle's this afternoon and start work immediately for his contest with George Memsic at McCarey's Pavilion on the 15th of this month.

ILLINI WILL MAKE PROTEST.

Middle West College to Declare Against Athletes If They Enter Meet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

URBANA (Ill.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Illinois intends to protest several Leland Stanford entries in the western conference track meet this year became known today. If the Coast athletes include Horton, Crawford and Miller, it is said that Illini will show the Conference Commitee that these men have competed more than the three years' limit of the conference.

Last year the Illini took some interest in the athletic careers of the westerners, but postponed action until too late. It is predicted that Stanford may withdraw a team in the event of a refusal to admit all of her stars.

FLIES IN SNOWSTORM.

Shows Denver Spectators That He Can Sail Under All Kinds of Difficulties.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, Feb. 2.—Louis Paulhan made a fifteen-mile cross-country flight at Overland Park today in a driving snowstorm. Plodding through three inches of snow at the start, Paulhan warmed up his engine by a preliminary flight of about eight miles. It was bitterly cold, but after donning heavier clothing, he again rose in the air and swinging wide over the crowds on the hills, above the track, disappeared in the snow flurries over the western foothills.

Starting for the mountains, he swung back in a wide circle over the factories of Denver, and after a few moments of fancy maneuvering above the course, alighted within a few feet of his starting place.

The snow settled thickly on the planes of the machine, but seemed to cause the aviator no inconvenience. Several thousand spectators tore down the fences about the track and built fires to keep warm.

Paulhan was so stiff from cold after the flight that he had to be helped from the machine.

SACRAMENTO WAKES UP.

Citizens Decide to Have Airship Flights and Other Features in State Fair Week.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the organization of "The Aëro Club of Sacramento" last night, discussion of tentative plans, features and a programme for the proposed festival covering the State Fair week next September, the first steps toward the proposed celebration were taken. The committee decided on an aviation meet, with Glenn Curtiss, Charles K. Hamilton and Charles F. Willard, aviators of world-wide fame.

Other attractions on the programme are a full-sized bullfight, with the gore and cruelty missing; "days of '49" reproduced, with James Marshall, Gen. John A. Sutter, the pony express, miners, sluice-mining and other things as trimmings; a wild west show, with broncho busting, rope throwing and fancy stunts; a great wind-up to take place on the last day of the fair, with Mardi Gras fancy costumes, masks, a free-for-all good time and wide-open programmes.

Phoenix Stirred Up.

PHOENIX, Feb. 2.—Hamilton's biplane arrived today, the first of the machines to be used in the aviation meeting here February 9, 10, 11. The aviators are not expected until the day before the meeting. The city is preparing to entertain an immense crowd of visitors, rooms in almost every residence being listed for that purpose.

South for Paulhan.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2.—Arrangements have been completed for aëroplane flights here by Louis Paulhan, commencing February 5.

The Wolfe Motor Car Company will show a new type touring car, which is to be one of the largest machines in the show. Kinchan and Kinchan are to show the car here. The Wolfe Motor Car Company is hopeful of getting a line of show cars from the factory in time for the opening date.

The Badger Motor Car Company is to have cars in the show.

TIZ-For Sore Feet

Tired, Aching, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet? Corns, Callouses or Bunions? Use TIZ. It's Sure, Quick And Certain.

You Will Enjoy Using TIZ. The Most Pleasant Remedy You Ever Tried and Moreover It Works.

At last here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy for sore feet. No more tired feet. No more aching feet. No more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more corns. No more bunions. No more callouses, no matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief just use TIZ.

TIZ is totally unlike anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel beter the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Dodge Bldg. Chicago, Ill. Recommended and sold by The Owl Drug Co's Stores.

pany will exhibit a Paterson "Thirty," a Westcott "Forty" and a Whiting. These cars are to be shown here for the first time. C. A. Yeager, the agent, has taken plenty of space and will make an interesting display of his new machines.

The Motor Car Import Company is to exhibit the Isotta-Fraschini-Targa-Florio, one of the fastest racing cars in the world and a machine which Lewis Strang has driven at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour. The same concern will also show the Halladay line, newcomers.

BIG MOTOR RACE.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Pickens, manager for Barney Oldfield, announced here today that the Ormond-Daytona Beach meeting, which was declared off, will take place in March. Pickens is on his way north, after passing several days at Daytona, and says a three-heat match race between Oldfield's new 120-horse-power Benz and Lewis Strang's Fiat, now in Chicago, will be the feature event of the meeting.

COMMITTEE GETS BUSY.

Called to Meet Today to Draft a Schedule for Class Games of St. Vincent's College.

The committee appointed to draw up a schedule for the interclass games at St. Vincent's College, which are to take the place of all interscholastic and intercollegiate contests, will meet today for that purpose and expects to finish the work tonight.

The schedule is to be so arranged as to have each of the five grades play three games with every other grade, in basketball and baseball. The schedule for the track contests will probably be arranged by the end of the week.

A silver loving cup will be awarded to the grade having the highest number of points at the close of the season. It has not been decided whether each athlete shall receive a prize. Special prizes are to be awarded for records in track and field work.

The contests will be supervised by a committee composed of the manager of each class team and three members of the faculty. At present only the faculty members are known. These are Dr. Joseph Glass, president of the college; Rev. D. Dugan and Rev. N. J. O'Brien. Besides acting as members of the Athletic Committee the three members of the faculty are also to act as an Arbitration Committee.

When it was first announced that the college would not take part in games with other schools, it aroused some bitter feelings on the part of the students and a few of the athletes left for other schools, but at present the students are taking it a little more cheerfully.

Owing to arrangements that had been previously made, the games scheduled with Los Angeles High School and U.S.C. law school will be played, but all other contests have been canceled.

Coach Rheinschild is negotiating with Purdue University for a position as coach next fall. If he does not go East, it is likely that he will coach the U.S.C. football team.

Big Match Tonight.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—William Hoppe and Ora Morningstar will open their championship 18.2-inch balk-line billiard game here tomorrow night. The table they will use is attracting much attention. It has never been played upon, and is a new style of table not yet on the market. It is called an oriental table. It is inlaid with pearl, and is handsomely carved in the graceful abandon of far-eastern architecture.

Croker to Sell Dogs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Richard Croker, Jr., who for the past ten years has been among the chief exhibitors of high-class dogs in this country, is about to give up his fad and sell his kennel. His reason for this step is his desire to spend a larger portion of his time on his father's estate in Ireland during the elder Croker's declining years. The British quarantine laws prevent his taking his dogs with him.

Owners Win Money.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—James R. Keene's horses have won a total of $1,290,000 on the American turf in the last seven years, according to figures given out by the Jockey Club. Second place for the time specified goes to H. P. Whitney, with a total of $485,000. Other high figures are: Barney Schreiber, $451,000; Sydney Paget, $434,000; August Belmont, $400,000; John E. Madden, $392,000.

SANTA CLARA WINS.

CARDINALS ARE BABY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Santa Clara College baseball team defeated the Cardinal 'varsity this afternoon, 6 to 0. Agnew, the Catholic's prize pitcher, was in the box and the Stanford batsmen were unable to solve his for Stanford and made a good impression.

E. R. Canterbury, '12, of Redlands, who played on the 'varsity nine last year, has returned to the university and played third base today. He will be eligible for the intercollegiate series.

Magnates Out Hunting.

HELENA (Ark.) Feb. 2.—President Ban Johnson of the American League and President Comiskey of the Chicago Americans arrived here and went aboard the yacht "White Sox" for a hunting trip on White River. The party was in a train wreck near Fulton, Ky., but beyond a few bruises to President Johnson, escaped uninjured.

Duffy Lewis Signs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Duffy Lewis, who, for the past two seasons, has been the fielding sensation of the Coast League, signed with the Boston Americans today. John I. Taylor closed the deal. Lewis was ordered to report to Hot Springs, Ark., for spring training with the team. He was formerly with the Oakland team.

HARVARD TRACK MEET.

First Real Contests Today Will Give Line on What Athletes May Do This Year.

Harvard School track candidates will have their first serious try-outs this afternoon, in an interclass track meet which is to be started at 2:30 o'clock.

As Harvard School has the reputation of turning out one of the strongest preparatory school track teams in California, today's meet will be watched with interest, to see how the 1910 material stacks up with that of past seasons. As a general rule, the strength of the crimson team has been in the classy performances of a small number of fine athletes, rather than in the average of a large number of entries. With teams that have averaged only about seven men, Harvard has forged close to the front in every one of the Stanford invitation interscholastic meets against schools with four times as many entries. As the Stanford meet is considered the premier event in California preparatory track athletics, this fact has brought a lot of distinction to the Los Angeles military school.

Wolgast Goes North.

Ad Wolgast, Manager Tom Jones and [illegible]

Nelson and is prepared to make any kind of a bet on the side that Nelson wants.

Byrne in Shape.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—Robert M. Byrne, Pittsburgh's third baseman, who broke his ankle in the last of the world's series games at Detroit, has forwarded his signed contract to the headquarters of the Pittsburgh team. Byrne writes that his ankle has healed and that he is in training and will be ready to report on March 10.

Welsh-Stanley Bout.

RUTLAND (Vt.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jimmy Walsh and the French Kid gave a ten-round exhibition here tonight. The affair was under the supervision of the police. Walsh's manager announced that he has arranged for Walsh to meet Digger Stanley of London at Salt Lake City, July 3, for the bantamweight championship of the world.

New Umpire Secured.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—President Chivington of the American Association today signed William Bierhalter of Columbus, O., as umpire for the coming season.

Orange Cove

35 MINUTES FROM LOS ANGELES

Look to the Golden Future of Close-In Suburban Property

The people whom you will look upon a few years hence as "money-makers" are those very friends and neighbors of yours who are buying close-in suburban property. They are shrewd people. They have seen Los Angeles grow. They see her growing today. They know this city will keep right on growing, faster than ever, and that with its growth the values of well-located, close-in property will increase in like manner. I am offering you in Orange Cove something more than close-in property. I am offering you land that will pay you a handsome income if you cultivate it. Just look for how little this land can be bought today.

$200 Per Acre Up—$5 Per Acre Cash—$5 Per Acre Monthly

Orange Cove is frostless orange soil close to the foothills. It's only ten miles out, within easy driving distance. You can reach it by the convenient motor car service just installed by the Southern Pacific. I sell this land with water—a share of water stock with every acre purchased—an abundant water right for this superb soil. Conditions at Orange Cove are perfect for oranges, for strawberries, for vegetables, and for many small fruits and berries. Growers are close to the great Los Angeles markets. Buy this land today. Cultivate it. Make it pay you an income beyond your living expenses. Hold it and then sell your acreage for building lots. That's the way to make money. My Free Illustrated Folder gives full information. Excursions to Orange Cove daily.

Don't try to doctor yourself with patent medicines, but come to the doctors who have become expert in treating diseases just like your own. A consultation and examination will cost you nothing.

SIX DOCTORS FAILED; TWO SAID I COULD NEVER BE CURED.

Mr. Arthur Steck, whose home is in Bakersfield, but is at present stopping at the Spokane house, Fifth st., this city, says: "My case seemed hopeless when I came to Drs. Shores & Shores for treatment. My ailment was catarrh and ear trouble in the worst form. Besides having all the usual symptoms of catarrh, my ears became infected and discharged a bloody substance day and night, causing me much pain and distress. I came to the city to see Drs. Shores & Shores, as I had heard of their skill in curing catarrh and deafness. After two (2) months' treatment I can say that I am entirely cured of the catarrh and my ear is entirely healed of the discharge, and I want to add my testimony to the skill of these wonderful doctors.

(Signed) "ARTHUR STECK."

Road Tax on Catalina Island Is Legal Notwithstanding County Roads Are Abolished.

Although no county roads are now maintained on Catalina Island, the road tax levied there, to be applied toward keeping up the highways in the Long Beach district, are legal, according to an opinion given by Deputy Dist.-Atty. Shaw, yesterday.

The Supervisors abolished the county roads on the islands more than a year ago. Since then a portion of the taxes levied had been set apart for keeping up the throughfares, but there was no way it could legally be spent. Recently the Supervisors added the Island to the district in the vicinity of Long Beach.

There was a question raised as to whether this was lawful. The County Auditor refused to turn the money over until he was satisfied he could legally do so. Shaw was requested to take the matter up.

"In my opinion the islands are contiguous to the ... said the attorney, yesterday, "and that a stretch of ...

FACE CHARGE OF FORGING STORY.

SUIT IS ECHO OF ENGLAND'S HOT CAMPAIGN.

Former Member of House of Commons and Newspaper Man Are Committed for Trial on Account of Sensational Political Article in the London Daily "Mail."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Feb. 2.—An echo of the recent political campaign was heard today when Frederick Horner, former member of the House of Commons, and a newspaper man named Lambeth, were committed for trial in the old Bailey Court on the charge of having forged telegrams sent to the Daily Mail.

The telegrams were dispatched from Falmouth, and were signed with the name of the Mail's regular correspondent there. They recited a sensational story of an alleged hostile demonstration against David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The latter publicly impugned the accuracy of the report, and inquiry is alleged to have established that the story had been sent by Horner, who previously had instituted an unsuccessful libel suit against the Mail.

The case was brought first before the Lord Mayor at Mansion House. The prosecution suggested that Horner had been actuated by vindictiveness. Pending a trial Horner was released under a bail of £2500.

ALASKA RICH IN MINERALS.

Promoter Declares There Is Enough Riches in Northwest to Make Million Wealthy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Alaska is the richest mining country in the world, and has wealth enough to make a million Americans rich, according to Col. John H. Conrad, who has a town in Alaska named after him, and who has just come East to urge the government to develop the northern Territory.

"If Congress will help the railroad builders to open up the country, the nation will soon get the money back a thousandfold," said Col. Conrad.

"There is a disposition in politics to cry 'wolf, wolf,' when Alaska is mentioned, but while we are delaying action the Canadian Northwest is getting a tremendous start on us. I have helped for forty years to develop various western States, and I know the government rights in Alaska are much better protected than they are out West. There is untold wealth in Alaska, simply awaiting development.

JAPAN OPPOSES CHRISTIANITY.

Has Not Borne on National Thought as Converts Fail in Reverence for the Emperor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The influence of Christianity in Japan has been inconsiderable, acording to Baron Kikuchi, president of the Imperial University of Kioto, who will spend several weeks studying edcational institutions in the East.

"I do not think that Christianity has borne at all on the national thought of the Japanese," said the baron. "It played no part whatever in the political revolution resulting in the establishment of the empire. None of the Japanese moral teachings comes from the West. In fact the attitude of some of the Christian converts among my people has not been acceptable to the body of the nation because they oppose our reverence for the Emperor and our worship of the spirits of our ancestors."

LOYALTY BRINGS MORE SALARY.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—Because he refused a chair in the faculty of Princeton University, and a few weeks later also refused the presidency of a Kentucky college, the Rev. William M. McEwen, of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, known as "Thaw church," has had $3500 a year added to his salary. Dr. McEwen will receive $10,000, making him the highest paid minister in Western Pennsylvania. Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw has been prominent in the support of the church.

CHILDREN TO BUY BATTLESHIP.

HERMOSILLO (Sonora) Feb. 2.—The plan is suggested by Guaymas citizens and approved by Vice-President Corral, a native of this State, for every school child in Mexico to contribute 5 cents toward buying a battleship for presentation to the national government in commemoration of the centennary of Mexican Independence next September. The ship would be called Centenario.

MAN FREEZES TO ICE FLOE.

Feeble Cries for Help Cause Sufferer to Be Rescued from Perilous Position.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Feeble cries for help that seemed to come from far out on the East River were heard early today by employés of the Municipal Ferry at the Battery from a partially-frozen man lying helpless some distance out from shore on a large ice floe that had saved him from drowning and on which he had floated around for more than an hour. Several employés launched a lifeboat from the ferry slip.

The man was found lying on his back. One leg extended over the ice floe and was dragging in the water. His clothes were frozen to the ice. His hair was covered with ice and his body was rigid from the cold. They lifted him off the floe after a great deal of difficulty and took him ashore.

In the hospital he said he was William Wissman, 42 years old. On account of his condition, it was hard to get a coherent statement from him. He said he fell overboard from a dock.

COURTS IN HOT CONFLICT.

Clash Between State and Federal Tribunals in Georgia May Result in Calling Out Militia.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] War between the state and federal courts over the Cureton Distillery in Dade county, broke out anew last evening, when officers acting under instructions of Judge Fite of the State court raided the still and arrested everybody found in the place, including United States Storekeeper and Gauger Thompson.

This action presages one of the bitterest legal battles in the history of the State, which may call out the State troops before the final chapter is written. The United States Court will take action in a few days.

The raid follows the decision announced a few days ago by Judge William Newman, in which he held that Gauger Charles Stengall, whom Thompson succeeded, did not have to answer questions propounded to him by the grand jury, who wished to know of alleged prohibition violations of the Cureton Distillery.

RECEIVES PREHISTORIC BONES.

Expedition in German East Africa Unearths Gigantic Femur and Other Fine Specimens.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The first shipment of prehistoric bones collected by the German expedition in German East Africa, comprising forty-six large boxes, reached the Berlin Paleontological Museum today. Reports from the explorers indicate that they have been highly successful in finding important specimens.

One of the most treasured is a thigh bone that measures 6 feet 11¾ inches, as compared with the 4-feet 11-inch measurement of the corresponding bone of the American diplodocus. It is said that the African specimen is the largest femur in existence.

The explorers have reached the conclusion that the African Saurians were direct progeny of those whose remains were found in Wyoming.

The expedition was sent by the government to investigate the remains of antediluvian animals discovered by Prof. Fraas of Stuttgart in 1907 in the southern part of German East Africa.

CRUEL DESERTION ALLEGED.

It Is Asserted Husband Left Wife in Helpless Condition and Without a Cent of Money.

Paralyzed and helpless, Mrs. Ida Hathaway will be carried to Justice Pierce's court on the 7th inst., to give testimony against Arthur K. Hathaway, her husband, who is charged with having abandoned her.

If the allegations which are made by Louis Dequine, who swore to the complaint against Hathaway, are correct, the defendant is guilty of one of the most serious offenses of this nature that has been committed since the legislators made it a felony for a man to fail to provide for his wife.

It is declared that he deserted her when she was barely able to move her limbs and that she did not have a penny to pay for her support. Relatives, who came here from the East, say that they found her dependent upon charity.

A demand was made on Hathaway for money with which to care for her and he is alleged to have refused to give her a cent. Hathaway is employed by a lumber company at Wilmington. He is at liberty under $500 bonds.

MOST PEOPLE DO NOT KNOW CAUSE OF THEIR SICKNESS

Does human health depend on one organ alone? This question is becoming widely discussed since L. T. Cooper first advanced his theory that the stomach is the true seat of life and all health dependent upon it.

Mr. Cooper, who has met with remarkable success in the sale of his new medicine, believes that the stomach is responsible for most sickness, and that this organ is weak in the present generation. While discussing this theory recently, he said: "I am asked time and again to tell why my medicine has made such a record wherever I have noticed it. My answer always is, 'because it restores the stomach to a normal condition.' No one will deny that today there are more half-sick men and women than ever before. Nothing critical seems to be the matter with them. They are just half-sick most of the time. They don't know really what is the matter with them. I have talked with thousands during the past two years, and few knew indeed what their trouble was. One said nervousness, another said kidney trouble, another liver complaint, some constipation, or heart trouble, or lung trouble. Many had treated, as they called it, for most of these diseases at different times. A very common complaint is 'all run down,' or 'tired all the time,' or 'no appetite.'

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble, and nothing else. My New Discovery puts the stomach in sound condition in about six weeks. Mighty few people can be sick with a sound digestion. That is why my medicine is selling at such a tremendous rate. I have convinced many thousands of people that these things are so, and the number is growing by leaps and bounds."

Among more recent converts to Mr. Cooper's beliefs is Mrs. Lottie L. Misner, living on Rural Route No. 2, Henniker, N. H., who says: "I was in poor health for six years, from stomach trouble and indigestion. Quite frequently my stomach was so weak that it would not retain solid food. I had vomiting spells every morning, and was subject to frequent attacks of dizziness. Life became such a burden that I often felt it was not worth the living. I tried everything I could hear of, but found nothing that would afford relief.

"For some time I had been reading of the Cooper remedies, and finally decided to give the New Discovery preparation a trial. After taking the first bottle I noticed a marked improvement. Five bottles made me entirely well. I can eat anything I wish, and have not been troubled with my stomach since. The dizzy spells disappeared long ago.

"My mother, Mrs. Susan Parkins, is a nurse of long experience. Both she and my father have used the Cooper remedies with splendid results. I will be glad to answer any personal correspondence in regard to my case."

It is worth anyone's time, who is not enjoying good health, to learn of Mr. Cooper's wonderful preparations. We are selling them in large quantities. At all Owl Drug Co.'s Stores.

REASONS FOR CHEAP BRAND

Local Distillery Accused Revenue Dodging.

Hundred Gallons of Boo Taken in Custody.

Government Tax Is M Than Price Charged.

Nearly one hundred gallons of dy have been seized by United S revenue agents at the distiller Demetals Bros., No. 945 North A da street. It is alleged the co has been manufacturing and sell lot of brandy that never paid tax enue to Uncle Sam.

It is the first case of the kind has arisen since the appointme Claude L. Parker as collector o local revenue district. His suspi were aroused some time ago wh was reported to him that the co was selling brandy at from 75 cen $1 a gallon. Italians were flockin the winery in droves, so the w reported, and an immense busines being done.

Inasmuch as the government t $1.10 a gallon, Mr. Parker could figure out how the Demetals m make any profit out of it brandy. If they did dilute it with aqua pu

CONFISCATION.

It is believed prior to this ure that thousands of gallons of b dy have been sold without a cen revenue reaching the government

The case is not identical with "moonshining" in some parts of South. There, men distill liquor without any license from the governm and the mere fact that an illicit is in opedation is a criminal offen

In the present case, the winery a license for distilling brandy, an is under heavy bond to carry out rules of the revenue service. Ag visit the place at stated interval check up the output and estimate amount of the tax.

By working the still overtime, charged the proprietors have been porting only a part of its output liquor and the rest has been sec carted away, to be sold to saloons cheap restaurants. When the off visited the place, two China walked in with demijohns in t hands. When questioned they said went there frequently to buy bra for $1 a gallon.

It is said that a number of witne have been located who are willing testify in court that they purcha 100 proof brandy for $1 a gallon. one fact is considered highly import by the revenue officers, as it is evi that no one but a bibulous philant ... could manufacture liquor, pa tax of $1.10 a gallon and sell for $1.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Touching the case one of more ordinary importance, Parker ... graduated to Bert L. Thomas, chief ... aide agent on the Pacific Coast, came here to assist him in working the details incident to the seiz Thomas arrived yesterday and at o went to work. He highly complim ed Parker upon his success.

L. L. Harding, special representa of Thomas; Will Brashear, Frank Reynolds, L. M. McCormiky and A. Miller aided in making the seiz The winery is now under governm attachment, and a keeper will be stalled to see that no further ad violations occur, and that the prop tors do not conceal the goods.

The existence of such places wo to the disadvantage of reputable c cerns, the revenue officers said night.

"If a distillery can manage to part of its product without paying government tax, of course it can far cheaper than honest firms," Parker. "I have been working on particular case for several weeks. felt confident that the law was be evaded, but the thing was to cap the Demetals red-handed. THREE CHARGES.

Three separate charges may be ma against Demetals Bros. One is s ing illegally-distilled brandy; anot is having high-proof brandy outs the distillery premises, and the th is filling tax-paid barrel with liqu which has not paid any tax.

The Federal statutes imposes a ma imum penalty of $500 fine, or th years in the penitentiary. In so similar cases, the government is sat fied with a heavy fine, without course to a court trial.

The officers decline to say just wh procedure will be taken in the pres instance. They consulted Unite States District-Attorney McCormi yesterday in regard to criminal ... tion, but no complaints were issued.

The defendants, Carlo and Giovan Demetals, admit they have sold bra dy for $1 a gallon, but assert they w unaware that any liquor, which h not been tax-paid, had been offer for sale or otherwise disposed of. is not known whether they intend fight the case or plead guilty and a for leniency.

The confiscated brandy was tak to a warehouse, where it will stored until the case is finally settle It will then be destroyed, in accor ance with the custom of the revenu service.

While there is more or less illic distilling going on all the time, it considered very difficult to get ev dence. As far as known it is the fir successful raid of the kind made Southern California for at least fi years.

REASONS FOR CHEAP BRANDY.

Local Distillery Accused of Revenue Dodging.

Hundred Gallons of Booze Is Taken in Custody.

Nearly one hundred gallons of brandy have been seized by United States revenue agents at the distillery of Demateis Bros., No. 845 North Alameda street. It is alleged the concern has been manufacturing and selling a lot of brandy that never paid any revenue to Uncle Sam.

It is the first case of the kind that has arisen since the appointment of Claude L. Parker as collector of the local revenue district. His suspicions were aroused some time ago when it was reported to him that the concern was selling brandy at from 75 cents to $1 a gallon. Italians were flocking to the winery in droves, so the agents reported, and an immense business was being done.

Inasmuch as the government tax is $1.10 a gallon, Mr. Parker could not figure out how the Demateis could make any profit out of $1 brandy, even if they did dilute it with aqua pura.

CONFISCATION.

Agents visited the place last week to check up on the amount of brandy that was distilled. Monday they returned and confiscated ninety gallons of brandy that was found in one of the cellars, minus the government half-mark. It is believed prior to this seizure that thousands of gallons of brandy have been sold without a cent of revenue reaching the government.

The case is not identical with the "moonshining" in some parts of the South. There, men distill liquor without any license from the government and the mere fact that an illicit still is in opedation is a criminal offense.

In the present case, the winery has a license for distilling brandy, and it is under heavy bond to carry out the rules of the revenue service. Agents visit the place at stated intervals to check up the output and estimate the amount of the tax.

By working the still overtime, it is charged the proprietors have been reporting only a part of its output of liquor and the rest has been secretly carted away, to be sold to saloons and cheap restaurants. When the officers visited the place, two Chinamen walked in with demijohns in their hands. When questioned they said they went there frequently to buy brandy for $1 a gallon.

It is said that a number of witnesses have been located who are willing to testify in court that they purchased 160 proof brandy for $1 a gallon. This one fact is considered highly important by the revenue officers, as it is evident that no one but a bibulous philanthropist could manufacture liquor, pay a tax of $1.10 a gallon and then sell it for $1.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Inasmuch as the case one of more than ordinary importance, Parker telegraphed here to Bert L. Thomas, chief revenue agent on the Pacific Coast, to send here to assist him in working out the details incident to the seizure. Thomas arrived yesterday and at once went to work. He highly complimented Parker upon his success.

L. L. Harding, special representative of Thomas; Will Brashear, Frank L. Daniels, L. M. McComisky and A. L. Miller aided in making the seizure. The winery is now under government attachment, and a keeper will be installed to see that no further alleged violations occur, and that the proprietors do not conceal the goods.

The existence of such places works to the disadvantage of reputable concerns, the revenue officers said last night.

"If a distillery can manage to sell part of its product without paying the government tax, of course it can sell far cheaper than honest firms," said Parker. "I have been working on this particular case for several weeks. I felt confident that the law was being evaded, but the thing was to capture the Demateis red-handed. I have no doubt but what they have been pursuing the same course for years.

"We intend to make an example of them, in order that others, who may think it an easy matter to deceive the government, will see what will result if they violate the law."

Parker said that it was not considered necessary at this time to swear out warrants, formally charging the proprietors with a criminal act. The concern is under heavy bonds, and in addition the winery is now under attachment. Even if the proprietors thought it advisable to flee, they would lose all their property, and, furthermore, would become fugitives from justice. In cases of this nature, the revenue officers would follow the fugitives for the next five years, if necessary, and use all the government machinery to bring them to trial.

THREE CHARGES.

Three separate charges may be made against Demateis Bros. One is selling illegally-distilled brandy; another is having high-proof brandy outside the distillery premises, and the third is filling a tax-paid barrel with liquor which has not paid any tax.

The Federal statute imposes a maximum penalty of $500 fine, or three years in the penitentiary. In some similar cases, the government is satisfied with a heavy fine, without recourse to a court trial.

The officers decline to say just what procedure will be taken in the present instance. They consulted United States District-Attorney McCormick yesterday in regard to criminal action, but no complaints were issued.

The defendants, Carlo and Giovanni Demateis, admit they have sold brandy for $1 a gallon, but assert they were unaware that any liquor, which had not been tax-paid, had been offered for sale or otherwise disposed of. It is not known whether they intend to fight the case or plead guilty and ask for leniency.

The confiscated brandy was taken to a warehouse, where it will be stored until the case is finally settled. It will then be destroyed, in accordance with the custom of the revenue service.

While there is more or less illicit distilling going on all the time, it is considered very difficult to get evidence. As far as known it is the first successful raid of the kind made in Southern California for at least five years.

NEW POOL CHAMPION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Jerome Keogh of Rochester, N. Y., won the world's championship pool title from Thomas Hueston, title holder, in the last game of their series of matches in New York tonight, by a score of 600 points to 500. Keogh's total run of 500 points was made in one inning, while Hueston's highest run was 200.

RUNNERS WORK HARD.

St. Yves, Marsh, Miller and Others Work at Agricultural Park for Sunday's Big Race.

If confidence counts for anything William Stanley, the northern Marathon runner who reached Los Angeles from San Francisco yesterday afternoon, will make both St. Yves and Marsh crowd themselves to win the big Marathon race at Chutes Park Sunday.

After his arrival yesterday afternoon Stanley called on Manager Eyton and several of his friends, appearing to be in the best of condition and spirits. He was exceedingly optimistic concerning his chances to win next Sunday's race, and stated that he was sure of his ability to beat St. Yves. The main reason for his attending the Los Angeles contest he gave as the desire to get another race with St. Yves, against whom he considers that he has never had a fair chance.

Stanley, who will be remembered here through his taking second place in the Venice road race on New Year's Day of 1908, when Miller won first, has been coming up rapidly of late with a long string of victories. He has won every one of the last nine races in which he has been entered, at distances varying five to twenty miles. At Seattle on January 9 his time of 1hr., 54m., 28 2-5s. for twenty miles left the impression that he could cut the world's Marathon figures of 2hrs., 32m., 39 1-5s. if he had been running the longer distance.

St. Yves, Marsh, Miller and Lowe worked out at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, none of them doing anything more than light practice sprints to keep them limbered up. St. Yves ran about three miles in the afternoon, while Marsh trotted several laps in the afternoon. F. M. Lowe, the local distance man, showed up well. His running form contrasted well against the jerky stride of St. Yves. Some Los Angeles enthusiasts who think that Lowe has never extended himself to his limit in his previous races expect him to forge to the front in the big contest on Sunday.

Official measurements of the running track at the Chutes Park baseball field were made yesterday by a corps of surveyors under the direction of Manager Eyton. The exact distance around the track was found to be 353 yards, which amounts to practically five laps to the mile. To cover the Marathon distance of twenty-six miles, 385 yards each runner will have to circle the track 121 times, with an additional thirty-three yards at the finish.

Both start and finish of the big contest will be in front of the grandstand. Both points were marked yesterday by the surveyors who placed both lines, under the direction of Eyton, so that both crowd and runners will be given the greatest possible advantage. As the finish comes thirty-three yards further down the stretch than the start, the runners will have the advantage of the straightaway for both start and finish, while the crowd will be in the best position to watch closely the two most exciting moments of the race.

CORCORAN.

CORCORAN, Feb. 1.—Official notice was received from Washington this morning of the appointment of L. P. Mitchell, editor of the Journal, as postmaster. The office recently advanced to the third class. Mitchell also fills the positions of secretary of the Board of Trade and clerk of the school district.

The demand from Los Angeles for sweet cream is increasing rapidly. At the present rate practically all the cream produced in this section will be shipped fresh to the city, with the result that very little butter will be made here this season.

Trunk's Prescription Means

RHEUMATISM CANNOT EXIST

In the human body in any form; it is ridiculous, absurd, in fact, it is preposterous to talk about Rheumatism, much less suffer with it, when you can get Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout for $1.50 or six for $7.50 at Off & Vaughn Drug Co., Los Angeles. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

FROSTLESS ORANGE LAND

AT YORBA LINDA.

$250 PER ACRE AND UP.

TERMS WILL BE MADE TO SUIT.

Orange land that is exposed to frost is not a good investment. This fact is proven every year. Orange land that is frostless is the best investment in California today.
YORBA LINDA ORANGE LAND IS ABSOLUTELY FROSTLESS.
During the recent cold snap NOT A TRACE OF FROST COULD BE SEEN AT YORBA LINDA, while practically every other district suffered to some extent. This is the future of this great district assured beyond a doubt. The soil is perfect, the climate ideal. With frost eliminated nothing can stop the progress of Yorba Linda.

WILMINGTON CITIZENS HAVE KICKS TO REGISTER.

Committee Visits Board of Public Works to Protest on Delays in Establishing Street Grades and on Ignorance Regarding Municipal [illegible]

Wilmington, judging from the tone of a committee of its business men, who visited the Board of Public Works yesterday, is almost ready to secede.

"We might as well appeal to the law authorizing borough government," said J. F. Cary, president of the Wilmington Board of Trade, "and then we could make progress." C. H. Eubanks, president of the Wilmington Bank, agreed with Cary.

The committee made the visit to urge the advance of the fixing of grades for the streets in Wilmington between Third street and the water front. During the existence of the Wilmington town government these grades were not fixed, and the City Engineer has been working [illegible] months on field surveys. This work is now done, but the deductions have not been completed. While the Engineer seems to be doing his best, that best is far behind the patience of the Wilmington business men, who are unable, they say, to plan for the future until they know what grades their streets are to have.

It is there the difficulty lies. The streets west of Third street are by the action of nature too low to permit the installation of sewers. Without sewers they may not begin building operations. Eubanks said yesterday there is $400,000 ready to be spent in new buildings if the street grades are ascertained, but until they are, foundations cannot be made.

The Engineer must solve the problem of a raise in the grade of the streets, mostly, in the business district, and it will have to be elevated from two to five feet. He reports that he will soon be ready to report, and until that time the board urged the Wilmington visitors to be patient. The board's soft answer did not turn away wrath, however, and the business men will probably meet again this week to devise means to accelerate progress.

They also complained because nothing had been done toward plans for a public wharf. The town bonded itself for $40,000 to build a public wharf and this money was turned over to the city of Los Angeles when consolidation was effected. The complaint was that this money has lain idle for five months, drawing interest, and no steps had been taken to begin work.

The board answered this by showing that there are many legal impediments toward the getting of a right of way for the wharf, as the town had never obtained one. Involved in this is the ride-land litigation now pending before the Supreme Court of the State. The board pointed out the difficulties, but the visitors did not leave appeased.

JOY RIDERS BUSY.

An automobile belonging to Wilson & Burrington of No. 842 South Olive street was stolen last night from in front of No. 1401 Winfield street, while Mr. Wilson was paying a call there, less than forty feet from the automobile at the curbstone. This is the third automobile reported stolen this week. The stolen auto is a Moline machine, with a red body and oval wind shield. The license is No. 29,207. The capacity of the car is five passengers.

HELD "ON SUSPICION."

Alfonso Ajala and Alfonso Allala, two Mexicans, were arrested by Patrolman Pautz near the Plaza last night, on suspicion of being implicated in some of the robberies being committed about the city. The men were walking down Los Angeles street, pretending to be drunk, the officer says, but straightened up and walked rapidly away after passing him. Ajala was armed with a revolver and will be held for carrying a concealed weapon, if nothing else is found against him. Acting Chief Dixon, after the prisoners had been "sweated" by the detectives, ordered them both to be locked up "on suspicion."

How Nature Cures

Whenever Nature cures a disease or relieves a pain, she uses electricity. The human body itself is an electric battery, and when it has a full supply of this wonderful force you are healthy and strong.

Hard work, mental worry, dissipation and excess all go toward using up the electricity of the body. When your stomach, kidneys, liver or digestive organs get out of order it is because they lack the necessary electricity to enable them to preform their regular functions. The breaking down of one of these organs nearly always causes other trouble. Nature can't cure them, because your body hasn't enough electricity to do the work. So you must assist Nature by restoring this electricity to the body. My electric belt does this while you sleep. It saturates the nerve centers with its glowing power and these conduct the force to every organ and tissue of your body, restoring health and giving strength to every part that is weak.

I want every one to read my book which tells how I cure with Electricity—Nature's way. It is beautifully illustrated and gives a lot of information for every sufferer. I'll send it postpaid, free, if you mail me this ad.

CLOVEN HOOF SHOWS IN COUNTY CAMPAIGN.

Goo-Goos Seek Candidates to Capture the Jobs, That and Nothing More—Fight Starts With Republicans Confident.

THE terror, supposed to have been inspired by that Goo-Goo cartoon of Marshall Stimson in a pair of tin pants, having subsided, the county campaign suddenly took on life yesterday.

To get into the Courthouse and out again without signing somebody's petition for nomination would have been a feat of defensive prowess, even for an armless man. You were waylaid in courtrooms and overhauled on the street.

This unexpected outburst has come several months before the campaign would normally have opened under the old system.

It will be the first county campaign ever fought under the new primary election law. The candidates who have come into the field during the past day or two will be, in a certain sense, pathfinders.

Each candidate will be obliged to campaign single-handed, over a territory big enough for an empire and to secure the signatures of 3 per cent. of the entire voting strength on his petition.

It is a new kind of fight and with new weapons. The early start indicates that the fight will involve an unusual expenditure of money, effort and bitterness.

Practically every official in the Courthouse will be a candidate to succeed himself; it is understood that it will be the policy of the Republican party leaders to indorse most of them for reelection.

"SCARE" DOESN'T WORK.

The Goo-Goos, having been disappointed in the terrorizing effect of the picture of Mr. Stimson, in galvanized underclothing, glaring at the Courthouse, are uncertain just how far to go.

Having originally announced their intention of "cleaning out the Courthouse from roof to cellar," with the tin-clad knight of reform at their head, the Goo-Goo party leaders have decided that they didn't mean it.

There is not an office in the Courthouse that is not run with expert knowledge, honesty and proficiency. Their experience in removing Chief of Police Dishman from office has somewhat tamed the ardor of the ruthless spoils hunters for attacking good officials.

They have, therefore, let it be understood that all the prodigal children who scurry back into the fold will be forgiven and allowed to hold their jobs.

In other words, they are quite satisfied to keep the present office holders on the job for another term if the present office holders will change political faith, and surrender their patronage and power of naming deputies to the Goo-Goo bosses.

The word has gone out that every one willing to step up and make the grand kow-tow to Boss Lissner can stay where he is.

FACE GOO-GOO WRATH.

There are, to this, a few exceptions. The Goo-Goos are determined to make a fight against Dist.-Atty. Fredericks, at least two of the retiring Superior judges, Supervisor Eldridge and County Clerk Keyes.

A complete ticket will also be named by the Goo-Goos for the Assembly and State Senate.

Although these offices have been set aside for a fight, the Goo-Goo party leaders have not yet selected their candidates.

It is unquestionably a cause of embarrassment to them that a Pomona paper on Tuesday thrust E. J. Fleming into the fight against Capt. Fredericks, apparently with authority.

The Goo-Goos were considering Tommy Woolwine, Fleming and Guy Eddie as candidates for the hot fight; and were considering them all with dissatisfaction. They had not yet found the man whom they were willing to back against Fredericks—then Fleming made this splash.

Fredericks has actively begun his campaign, and his petitions are out all over the county. The official organ of the Anti-Saloon League—the Searchlight—recently came out with a whole issue devoted to the achievements of Fredericks against the "blind pigs."

RIVAL CANDIDATES.

The only other candidate for District Attorney actually out with his petition is Jack Carrigan. Mr. Carrigan was formerly a railroad brakeman, and was appointed Deputy Sheriff. While bailiff of Judge Smith's court he studied law—and studied hard.

Mr. Carrigan has evidently been seized with a desire to become not only candidate for District Attorney, but also the meal ticket for all the country papers. They have simultaneously burst into bloom with his announcements to the effect that the "business interests" of Los Angeles have persuaded Mr. Carrigan to forsake his lucrative practice and seek public office.

The Goo-Goos for a time meditated upon entering Leslie Hewitt against Fredericks, but have now decided to run him for Superior Judge instead.

There will be three vacancies on the Superior bench created by the expiring terms of Judges Moss, Hervey and Davis.

Although the gentleman has announced that he is not a candidate, the Goo-Goos expect to nominate Lewis R. Works to run as a team mate to Hewitt.

Only two nominations will probably be made by the Goo-Goos for the three places.

WILL SACRIFICE THEMSELVES.

The incumbents are all candidates for reelection, and there are a host of others after the places. Paul J. McCormick, at present a Deputy District Attorney; Maj. J. A. Donnell, a deputy; Justice Ling and Justice Pierce, all are candidates.

The fight to land a Southern California man on the Supreme Court is still a deadlock. All efforts to reduce the number of candidates to one have failed, Judge Wilbur refusing all compromise propositions. Judge Conrey has announced that he will not enter the fight at all if no compromise agreement can be made; so he seems virtually to have retired. Judge James and Judge Wilbur have both started their petitions.

The Goo-Goos will back Harry Lelande against County Clerk [illegible]

WOULD PAY FOR FUN.

Fighter Offers to Advance Fine at Police Station for Beating Man. Disappointed.

Charles Ford, No. 145 South Beaudry avenue, staggered the officers in charge of headquarters last night by entering the Police Station and announcing that he was ready to pay his fine.

"Pay what fine?" stammered the desk sergeant.

"Well, I had a fight, and I thought I might as well come up here, pay my fine and be through with it," explained the visitor.

"We never make any arrests in such cases, unless an officer sees the fight or a warrant has been sworn out. If a warrant is sworn out against you, you may have a chance to pay a fine, all right, but not tonight."

Ford seemed disappointed. He wished to have the whole business over with as soon as possible, and before he left the station, he left his name and address so that he could be found without trouble. He said he had had a row with a man by the name of Jack Corneilson, whose address he did not know, and that Jack was probably too busy just then to give much thought to the swearing out of warrants.

HUSBAND IS ARRESTED.

Arthur Miller, Accused of Shooting Wife in Arm and Deserting Her, Is Apprehended.

Arthur Miller, the young man who is alleged to have shot Myrtle Allen through the arm on January 27, was arrested yesterday by City Marshal Moffatt at Coalinga, according to a telegram received by the local detective bureau.

According to the story told by the woman at the time of the shooting, she was Miller's common law wife, but he tired of her when a little child was born to them in Bakersfield, where he was employed as an oil well worker. Miller left the woman and baby and came to Los Angeles, and the woman followed him here two weeks ago, taking apartments at No. 771 Maple avenue.

She told the District Attorney that on the morning of the shooting Miller called at her room and took from her all the money she had—$2.45, which he spent for drink. Later in the day, she said, he returned and announced that he would leave her definitely. She pleaded with him for the sake of the baby, but her entreaties only enraged Miller, who whipped out a revolver. The young woman threw her arm up to protect her face just as Miller fired, and the bullet went through her wrist, inflicting a painful wound.

Institution's Success Beyond All Expectations.

The organization in this city of an Evening High School has proved to have been a happy inspiration. The number of patrons of the school has surpassed all expectations, and it has already been demonstrated that the field of usefulness for this institution is greater even than was anticipated. Of the entire public school system, the Evening High School is probably the most practically beneficial institution.

It covers a field not touched by any other school and benefits those who are unable to avail themselves of the privileges of day schools. Its patrons are largely, those who are engaged during the day, and who come to the school either to perfect themselves in the line of work in which they are employed, or to acquire something which will open the way to a better position. There are also pupils who have found themselves deficient in some branch of their daily studies at the other schools, and who avail themselves of the evening school as a means of coaching.

TUITION FREE.

The tuition is free to all under 21 years of age, and the charge nominal to students beyond that age. The pupils enrolled range in age from 14 years or so, up to white-haired men and women.

WITHIN THE CIRCLE.

Charmed Numbers Hedge Home Buying, Yet Railroad Man Defies Mystic Fate.

A peculiar combination of "charmed" numbers have entered into the transaction by which W. F. Mitchell, an employé of the Southern Pacific, became the owner of a new home at No. 1336 West Forty-first Place. Railroad men for decades have been superstitious of "hoodoos," and in consequence Mitchell will go down in unwritten history as a brave man.

Mitchell made the purchase of the residence on Friday, January 28, through F. E. Culver of the Sayer-Thompson Company. He laughed about the inauspicious day upon which he was entering on the establishment of a new home, but did not at that time notice that the figures on the front porch, indicating the street number, totaled thirteen.

LOSES LOVE, HEALTH AND WEALTH IN YE[illegible]

A BEDROOM scene, with a woman leaping from her own couch to pounce angrily on her husband, who was snuggled under the covers of his separate bed in the same room, was described in a subdued voice by Attorney George S. Hupp yesterday, in Judge Houser's court. He was the man, so he said, and the woman was Mrs. Elsie Hupp, whom he was suing for divorce.

Many times more, he alleged, she set upon him, sometimes with her bare hands, pulling his hair and scratching him, and at others using the butt end of a revolver as a club. The allegations were all patched together to make out the charge of cruelty and inhuman treatment, upon which the action was based.

In short, these are the things Mrs. Hupp is alleged to have done to make her husband wish he were single. Struck him, beat him with a revolver, pointed a loaded and cocked pistol at him in a threatening manner, told the maid to pay no attention to him, told stories which ruined his business, compelled him to allow her brother to live with them, caused her brother to lock him out of his own home, held him by the [illegible] while her brother beat him, ordered him to set the table for her [illegible]'s breakfast and spent [illegible] an extravagant

...OARD HEARS PETITION.

...idents of South Park avenue, ...filed a monster petition asking ...Council to advertise a railway ...chise for the street south of Jef...erson avenue for sale, appeared be...re the Public Utility Commission yesterday to urge their case. They were represented by former City Attorney Haas, who said they wanted the franchise advertised and sold so that the Los Angeles Railway could continue the operation of its San Pedro street line.

Incidentally President Lissner asked what the effect of granting the franchises would have on the plans for a municipal railroad to the harbor and Haas said a franchise could be sold with provision for the municipal right in it as he did not believe the municipal road would be built before twenty years.

Assistant City Attorney Shenk advised the commission that his office would continue its opinion that the whole San Pedro street franchise is invalid and this led to the consideration of the entire franchise question. Shenk said the Supreme Court had already ruled largely in favor of the opinion he holds and the commission decided to take the whole subject under advisement until after the rate-fixing details of the public utility corporations are completed.

It was stated by property owners that H. E. Huntington had been asked to interest himself in the effort to save car service for South Park avenue residents, but he declined, saying he would operate the line as long as the city permitted him to, but would not ask a franchise.

The franchise granted by the Council over the Mayor's veto in 1907 was rejected at the election last December.

Mrs. Tollhurst Mentioned.

Changes in the Public Library Board are said to be imminent. It is said that Fred A. Hines, appointed about a year ago, has been away from the city so much that he wants to retire and the Goo-Goo Mayor is equally as anxious. Mr. Hines, however, is out of the city and cannot be reached. It is said he may be removed Tuesday for failure to attend meetings of the board and that, if he is, Mrs. Shelley Tollhurst will be offered the place. If she accepts she will be the first woman member since Mme. C. M. Severance retired in 1898.

City Hall Brevities.

Joe Chutuk, who was included in a report of irresponsible bidders by the Board of Public Works, has not been declared irresponsible and has been awarded the contract for the Arroyo de los Posos sewer by the board.

The Civil Service Commission has adopted resolutions commending Dr. D. W. Edelman, lately retired from the board, for his long and efficient work.

Central Park Band Stand.

The Board of Health has declared the public comfort station under the band stand in Central Park a nuisance and has asked the Council to abate it. The former Council appropriated $10,000 for a new band stand and convenience, but eight months have been wasted in disputing where it should be built. The Council will be asked to take up the question Tuesday and urge immediate action by the Park Board.

Peeping Into Chinatown.

Chinatown's hidden recesses were visited last night by members of the health department, in charge of Detective McIntosh, who is supposed to know all the darkness of the region. The expedition was to discover the sanitary condition, especially the crowding of Chinese in the squalid quarters. The data secured may result in the order for the evacuation of a number of buildings. Dr. Gibbons, Prof. Stabler and Assistant Health Officer Bancroft composed the party.

Grown Offspring Located in San Francisco and an Elaborate Funeral Is Arranged for Long-Unknown Father—Money Found Sewed in Clothes of Deceased—Small Estate.

Only a babyis shoe! Only a memento of happy childhood, but it brought a tear to many of the spectators in Judge Rives's court yesterday, when the matter of the settlement of the estate of Nathan H. Franklin, who died at the Pisgah Home, in February, a year ago, was brought before the court.

Franklin was supposed to have no friends and to be penniless, but when he died there was found sewed up in his clothing 1910.78, which he had secreted there unknown to any of his friends. He was almost a tramp, and had made his home at intervals in and about Los Angeles for a number of years.

But another thing was found in one of his side pockets, a tiny little baby's shoe, and inside the shoe was discovered a card bearing the address of Thomas J. Franklin, San Francisco.

It was supposed that the latter was some relative of the decedent, and a correspondence was taken up by the hospital authorities, with the result that it was found Thomas J. Franklin was the son of the old man. His identity was established by the name in the tiny shoe.

It developed that father and son had not met for more than twenty years, and had, within that time, had no communication with each other. The son was so touched by the love of the father, who had, under all the vicissitudes of his miserable life, retained possession of the priceless relic of the babyhood days of his boy, to whom he was almost a stranger, that he provided a most costly funeral for the father, of whom, in his lifetime, he did not even know the whereabouts.

The expense of the obsequies amounted to $250, and when the costs of the estate were settled in full the son had but $172.36 left out of the small property.

AFRAID TO GO HOME.

AND THE WIND BLEW HARD.

In Judge Hutton's court yesterday, the contested divorce action brought by Hattie Dorothy Laughlin against Harrison F. Laughlin, owner of a machine shop in this city, was begun. The only witness up ... adjournment of court was ...

...stated of extreme cruelty and failure to provide. They were married in October, 1906, and went to housekeeping at No. 121 East Avenue Forty-one, the wife testifying that when they were married she carried all of her clothes in a basket to their new home. In February, 1907, she was poisoned by an ivy vine and was quite sick. It was on this occasion that her husband insisted in smoking in the sitting-room, and the practice was so nauseous to the sick woman that his mother-in-law compelled Laughlin to go out in the kitchen and smoke his pipe.

Afterward, she left her husband and went to live at the home of her parents, No. 815 East Thirty-third street, where she is now. One of the allegations of extreme cruelty on the part of the husband is that on several occasions he refused to come to her mother's house and take her home, and she testified that she was afraid to go home alone on account of the high wind.

"Then you were afraid to go home in the dark?" asked her husband's attorney, to which she nodded an assent.

"Is it not true," was the next question, "that you are trying to get this divorce so that you can marry a young lawyer employed in the office where you are a stenographer?"

"Not me!" hotly flashed back the witness; "never again marrying for me:" she said.

Mrs. Laughlin had an action for divorce against her husband in Judge Monroe's court some time ago, but for some reason it was stricken off the calendar.

DR. PRICE AGAIN.

SLANDER IS CHARGED.

Last week Dr. Mary J. Helm of Long Beach had Dr. W. R. Price, who, at one time, was the head of the Society of Psychological research in Long Beach, in Judge Monroe's court to collect $1900, which the plaintiff alleged she had sunk in stock of the National Gold Dredging Company, and the court held against the defendant as to the first investment of money in the worthless stuff. She is also the complaining witness against Dr. Price in an action for obtaining money under false pretenses, set for early trial in Judge Willis's court.

As if that was not enough to keep Dr. Price awake, Miss Helm had an action in Judge James's court yesterday, alleging that in June and July, 1909, the defendant had made certain slanderous remarks against her, to the effect that "Dr. Helm swore to a falsehood," that "Dr. Helm swore to a lie on the stand," and finally, as the capstone of his inuendoes, had said that "Dr. Helm is a liar, thief and perjurer." For these alleged various lapses on the part of the philosopher of occult thought, Dr. Helm asks $12,-000 damages.

Dr. Price came back with an answer and gave his evidence to the effect that his words in regard to the plaintiff were as follows: "Dr. Helm swore to a falsehood when she testified that she paid the money on the day (having reference to transactions involving the capital stock of the National Gold Dredging Company,) that we had the settlement," and he declared that the words were neither false nor scandalous. The alleged use of the objectionable words on the part of Dr. Price arose in the trial of a case before W. S. Brayton, Justice of the Peace at Long Beach, the case afterward being transferred to the court of Justice H. Steigitts.

The case was submitted with the understanding that the defendant should be allowed to file an amended answer, the allegation in the new document to allege that the statement of Price, if made, was in the nature of a privileged communication.

PETIT JURORS DRAWN.

JUDGE BORDWELL'S COURT.

The following jury was drawn in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday, to report for duty on the 15th inst.:

Frank B. Alexander, J. F. Hall, Alhambra; E. W. Boehm, Christopher Johnson, T. R. Lowe, W. E. O'Malley, C. E. Rutledge, Santa Monica; George H. Curtis, William H. Turner, Pasadena; George E. Cross, Puente; M. C. Fordham, E. A. Forrester, W. J. Doran, K. H. Dorsey, C. W. Dameral, Willis M. Dixon, Theodore A. Carter, Frank W. Bailey, Sam Behrendt, M. L. Carter, James E. Calvin, Albert Cohn, Emil Firth, A. W. Fisher, J. B. Gren, George L. Hasson, A. E. Halsey, Z. T. Ingalls, J. A. Keeny, Joseph Lucas, S. M. Newmark, Dr. C. F. Pepper, H. J. Robinson, Louis G. Scherb, A. Z. Taft, Walter W. Tanner, J. N. Williams, Charles E. White, Los Angeles; Henry D. Kirk, Colegrove; Henry McDonald, San Gabriel; Joseph Todd, Whittier; Clark G. Wilkinson, Tropico; W. F. McLaughlin, The Palms; L. R. Parsons, Inglewood; James C. Stout, Downey; I. F. Wire, Claremont; George Cowdry, Pomona; John Franklin, Charles Seward, El Monte; W. I. Clapp, J. E. Counts, Isaiah L. Fetterman, Harry H. Meyers, George M. Roe, Clarence G. Stansifer, R. H. Tripp, Long Beach; F. H. Fabrick, Covina; Leroy Calvert, Azusa; Carl Dohn, Artesia; L. E. Jordan, Lamanda Park.

INTERESTING POINT.

NOT DECIDED BY THE COURT.

It was expected that an important question would be decided by Judge Willis yesterday in the habeas corpus action instituted in behalf of Ida Densmore, who is being held in the County Jail as a witness against her husband, M. H. Densmore, who is now in custody on a complaint sworn out by the wife, alleging that he sought to compel her to enter a house of ill fame.

After Densmore had been arrested the wife was held as a witness, as she notified the prosecution she had changed her mind about desiring to prosecute him, and said she would not testify against him. She was sent to jail, and the writ for her release followed.

The court found that the order for the arrest of the woman was without the jurisdiction of the court, and ordered Mrs. Densmore discharged. The court remarked en passant that the question whether she could be compelled to testify against her husband could be decided at the time of the trial, when Densmore may answer the complaint sworn to by his wife. The issue, whether she could be compelled to so testify was not passed upon at all, much to the regretted many interested attorneys.

AN HEIR FOUND.

BLIND FIDDLER'S MONEY.

H. Dietrich, a blind fiddler, who used to perform in front of the cathedral on South Main street, and solicit alms from the charitably inclined, had a daughter.

At least, a woman calling herself Leslie D. Scroggins of Danville, Ill., has laid claim to the money left by Dietrich, amounting to $604.64. It is alleged that father and daughter have not met since 1881, when the present heir, then a child, was deserted by the parent in Memphis, Tenn. Afterward she grew to womanhood ...

BONUS SYSTEM PAYS.

Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Aqueduct Shows How City Saves Its Money.

Answering criticisms of the City Auditor on the pay rolls for the tunnel work, which were on the bonus basis, William Mulholland, chief engineer of the aqueduct, has shown that the city is getting the work done in some cases as much as 75 per cent. less than estimated by reason of the bonus system.

Mulholland says the system sets a premium on competency and efficiency, and that the workmen themselves weed out the lazy members. Its extraordinary results have been shown in the many world's records for tunnel work broken by aqueduct shifts, one record being broken six times in Elizabeth Lake tunnel alone.

Analyzing the November, 1909, pay roll, which was under dispute, Mulholland shows that work estimated to cost $13.80 a foot, has actually cost $9.87, and while this saving was being made for the city, the men were earning only 17 per cent. over the stipulated wage.

This is shown in the totals of a huge table. The required day-task distance in tunnel work in November was 5870 feet. The amount done under the bonus system was 9121 feet, an increase of 72 per cent. This work cost $76,-847.38, on the wage scale, and $13,133.94 bonus. The bonus was 17 per cent. of the day-task cost, which is rated less per day than the miners' scale—the city paying $3 and the scale being $3.50.

That shifts are able to do double the amount required he explains by comparing the trained and untrained athlete. The training of one shift may permit it to double the work of the average miners' shift. Alluding to Jawbone division, he says the work there is being done at 40 per cent. of the lowest price under competition, and if all the work were to be done over he would urge the bonus system.

SKELETON IN CLOSET.

WIFE'S STORY BELIEVED.

The record of Edward Watkins, as a deserter of his home and fireside, is certainly unique, if the evidence given by the wife, Ollie Watkins, in Judge Hutton's court yesterday, is a true bill. The court evidently believed her story, for he granted her a divorce on the ground of desertion.

The couple were married about three years ago, but it seemed from the evidence that he had left her four times in seven weeks, at the end of which period he stayed away for good.

It appears that at the time he married his wife he was engaged to another girl, and it was the custom for Watkins to hide his wife in the closet whenever his old flame called to see them at the rooming-house. By the employment of such a subterfuge, the wife did not happen to "meet up" with his old sweetheart.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SAYS NOT GUILTY. In Judge Willis's court yesterday, Frank Edwards, charged with securing eight horses under false pretenses, pleaded not guilty to the complaint, and his trial was fixed for March 1.

ASKS PROBATION. George Taylor, who, some time ago, pleaded guilty to disposing of fictitious checks, was in Judge Davis's court for sentence yesterday. The accused asked for probation, and the matter was postponed until next Wednesday to give the court an opportunity to look into the record of Taylor.

THEY WANT TO MARRY. The case of Harry Howe, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Maud Richardson, was before Judge Wilbur yesterday. The girl acknowledged the fault, and both expressed a desire to get married, but the father of the girl, L. S. Richardson, would not consent. Howe is 18 years old and the girl is 17. Richardson testified that he had separated from his wife seven years ago, and that he had had the care of raising the girl ever since. Howe was connected with Chutes Park at the time of the commission of the crime.

DAMAGES FOR A FALL. Anna Ohmer brought an action against N. Armstrong in the Superior Court yesterday for $10,000 damages, on account of injuries alleged to have been received by the collapse of a step on property owned by the defendant, at No. 6923 South Figueroa street, of which the plaintiff was a tenant. It was said the step had been in bad condition for some time, and that the defendant had neglected to repair it, although asked to do so on several occasions.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed by the Van Sant Piano Company, capital stock $25,000, incorporators J. W. Van Sant, C. O. Arnold, D. H. Gustaveson and F. Belles, amount subscribed $10,000; Clover Crest Resort Company, capital stock $50,000, incorporators Anna E. Lux, George P. Lux, Hal W. Siemmons, Charles B. Mason and J. E. Stewart, amount subscribed $40,000.

ALL TO THE WIFE. The will of Charles T. Eller of Long Beach was filed for probate yesterday. The estate consists of $25,000 worth of personal property, and it all goes to the wife and widow, Flora N. Eller, and after her death to their children, Ernest W., Orlando S. and Mildred L. Eller.

ACTION FOR MAINTENANCE. Mabel E. Tubbs sued Elmer W. Tubbs in the Superior Court yesterday, for sufficient money to care for herself and three children. She alleges that he deserted her in Oakland in December last, and that he is well able to furnish enough money for the care and support of his family, whom he has left penniless.

COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL. In Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday, William Murray, George Froelich, Joseph Ackerman and Walter T. Stiles were ordered committed to the State Hospital at Patton.

CHANGE OF NAME. The Pacific Tank Company filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday, asking for the privilege of changing the name of the corporation to the Pacific Tank and Pipe Company.

ANOTHER MAN. The police officer who was a witness in the case of Leo Kolah, in Justice Willis's court, Tuesday, was not Detective T. H. Zeigler, who is yet a member of the police force of the city, but another man bearing the name of Zeigler, who has not been on the force for some time, but who is now engaged in the fruit business.

NEW TRIAL WANTED. A written notice of appeal in the case of Fred Loomer, sentenced by Judge Davis to twenty years in San Quentin for the murder of John Perry of Arcadia, will be filed in that court today.

DANFORD CASE. An information charging W. J. Danford with forgery in connection with a telegram concerning the value of a bond he sought to dispose of will be filed in Judge Davis's court today.

INFERIOR COURTS.

Didn't Judge That Particular Speed So Fine and Host for Ride Pays Up.

A. D. F. Reynolds, who called himself an old time railroad man, tried to out-guess a speedometer in judging speed and came off second best in Justice Williams' court, yesterday morning. W. S. Rollings, a chauffeur of Ocean Park, was driving Reynolds at the time of the arrest by motorcycle officers.

Reynolds told the court yesterday that because of his long service on the road he could judge to the second all rates of speed. He declared the car was not going a second faster than twenty miles an hour. The speedometers on the officers motorcycles showed, twenty-eight miles an hour and Rollings was called upon to serve twenty-five days in jail or pay the court $25. H preferred the latter.

Likes 'Em Clean.

George Rohn, charged with stealing garments from clotheslines, was fined $90 or ninety days, on a petty larceny charge, yesterday, in the Police Court. Rohn was arrested upon complaint of George W. Curtain of No. 732½ South Los Angeles street. Curtain alleged the man swept his clothesline clean and a bulky parcel of garments was produced as evidence.

HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE.

J. Compos was taken before Justice Summerfield yesterday on a charge of burglary. He was held in $1000 bonds for examination on the 10th inst. Com-

HIT OF THE SEASON.

RAND SPECTACLE OF COLORS, SPLENDOR AND LOVELINESS.

Inspiring Music, Beautiful Costumes, Witching Women, Stalwart Men, Lively Dances, All Combine to Make the Kirmess Production the Most Brilliant Theatrical Event of Recent Years.

O THE MUSIC of a many-stringed, sonorous orchestra, the heavy green curtain of the Auditorium rose shortly before 8:30 o'clock night, revealing a spectacle of atric brilliance seldom ever duplied on any professional stage in this ntry.

is in fact doubtful if any production of recent years, no matter where, matter under whose auspices, no tter how lavish, has excelled in erial gorgeousness the breathing revelations of fabrics and laces silks and satins and brocades and ching women and stalwart young provided by the Kirmess management last night.

The costumes were real, expensive harmonised with wonderful taste. Usually, you know, the amateur duction of any description means il in its appearance, but—well, t's about all.

Yet, in this case, adjectives may be d sincerely and rightly. The color mbinations effected were superb, d in the blend of the grand march, by a sturdy fool in cap and bells—illiam May Garland—they shone to gnificant advantage. It was a mphony of color, in which the tones the individual dances, soft yet tinct, were like leading-motives in me great massed harmony.

INSPIRING MUSIC.

f you know "Billy" Arend you ow what inspiring music he and his n can make. Add to your remembrances about a dozen violins, some e-quality brass and a grand piano der the Arend hand itself, and you ll have the material that turned out at first brilliant "walking-around." The procession with which these evolutions were executed brought whirlind after whirlwind of applause from e dress-suited house; there were a eat many people in this biggest of e Angeles theaters, and at many ments even the orchestral tutti fierce tarantella music in the orchestra, and, garbed in bright Neapolitan costumes, a bevy of veritable children of Italy burst in whirlingly upon the other. There were duet dances, solo dances, ensemble dances. It's safe to say that half the audience thought the Italian movements were Spanish, and the Spanish movements Italian, but that didn't matter; it was all dancing, and it was all delightful.

Scarcely had the Vesuvian applause commenced when the ushers rushed to the footlights with their flowers, and, while one of them used a megaphone to call the names, there commenced the pretty presentation feature that continued through the evening.

And the last of the flowers hadn't gone when, just in the wings, the bagpipes began to skirl, and, led by a sturdy Highland player, as fine a lot of lads and lassies "as e'er the sun shone on" ran onto the stage in all the glory of kilts and Glengarrys. They danced flings, they danced reels—they danced other dances that seemed good to everybody, but which only an Edinburgher could properly identify. Harry Lauder's songs, too, came in for a rousing rendition, and "She's Ma Daisy" rang against the vaulted ceiling that so recently reechoed the high-priced but not always appreciated voice of its author.

After the Scotch, the Irish, but the Scotch didn't have the precedence, for the Irish not only followed them—followed hard and fast. There were dances that everybody knew to be Irish, but which nobody could properly designate. But they were good dances, and the best of it was that the girls were as full of Celtic ginger as the men, and there was no lagging on the part of either sex.

"FLUFFY RUFFLES."

Then the audience got away from national costumes, and onto a delightful peachbloom, feathery, girly-girly thing that the programmes called "The Fluffy Ruffles Dance." The society editor, it is to be supposed, would tell about these fluffy-ruffle costumes in measure, every moment reminiscent of "The Merry Widow," were Misses Katherine Graves, Annis Van Nuys, Ella Gardner, Marybelle Peyton, Mary Bobrick, Mamie Packard, Jeannette Garner, Rose Zobelein, Nora Forthman and Helen Newlin; Norris Bucklin, Gurney Newlin, Walter Van Pelt, Clarence Fitzhenry, Carleton Bainbridge, Roy Naftzger, Jack Macfarland, Kurt Koebig, Alfred Wright and Clyde Wallace.

The dance of the Four Seasons was among the most attractive figures of the evening and showed much beauty and originality as wrought out by Mrs. George Goldsmith, assisted by Mrs. John Newton Russell, Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Stoddard Jess, Mrs. E. L. Doheny, Mrs. Louis Cole and Mrs. Bannister. The dancers included Misses Gladys MacDonald, Frances Newmark, Bernice Marcher, Martha Levy, Katherine Smith, Hazel Mayer, June Eskey, Lelia Coulter, Lucy Broderick, Sophia Dinkelspiel, Florence Norton, Ethelyn Carson, Rose Germain, Rose Hoffman, Irma Polaski, Henrietta Acker, Jennie Hartman, Josephine A. Seaman, Dorothy Simpson, Frances Whitesell, Edna Landers, Mildred Baer, Rhea Cashman, and Mrs. Alfred W. Allen.

And now for the "Fluffy Ruffles," a thoroughly down-to-date and roguishly attractive number. Those in charge included Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Kate Vosburg, Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee, Mrs. E. J. Marshall and Mrs. L. N. Brunswig. Dancers were Misses Harriet Severance, Marjorie Severance, Madeleine King, Emma Conroy, Florence Brown, Jane Rollins, Lucy Sanders, Lucile Gage, Francesca Brodrick and Anita Brodrick; Robert Elmore, Paul Grimm, Reynolds Sanders, James Utley, James Page, Stuart Salisbury, Walter Brunswig, Morgan Adams, Eltinge Brown and Kenneth Moore.

Chaperons of the Spanish dance were Mrs. Edward Stimson, Mrs. Harvey Van der Leck, Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Willard Doran and Mrs. John T. Jones; dancers being Misses Barbara Burkhalter, Virginia Nourse, Mary Stockard, Olive Erdt, Clarisse Stevens, May Ridgeway, Marguerite Rimpau, Florence Clark, Mary Lindley, Mrs. Van Kaathoven, Mary Burnham, Mrs. Carrie Fay Law; J. Walter Kays, Raymond C. Moore, J. R. Coffman, H. W. Reed, Charles Henderson, William Miller, Earl Holland, George Mossbacher, George Reed, Harold Janss, Philo Lindley and Mr. Marsh.

In the Tarantella dance Mrs. Jules Kaufman presided, while her deputies were Mrs. Maurice Hellman, Mrs. Alfred Stearns, Mrs. Max Isaacs and Mrs. John Kahn. The dancers: Misses Hazel Beatus, Rose Cohn, Freda Goldsmith, Beatrice Goldbaum, Nettie Krakauer, Gladys McMurray, Grace Moakley; Messrs. Herbert Green, Ivan Kahn, Edward Ferrario, Earl Cheney, Berto Goldsmith and Mr. Duke.

Mrs. Clover presided over the Indian dance, assisted by Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. H. B. Wing, Mrs. Lynn Helm, Mrs. Scott Helm and Mrs. Caroline Van Dyke. The dancers were: Misses Louise Freese, Romaine Poindexter, Mary Boynton, Helen Parker, Hazel Parker, Florence Wadsworth, Agnes Whittaker, Rae Belle Morgan, Rowena Newton, Katie Freese, Dora Rogers, and Lilly Christensen; Messrs. Everett C. Maxwell, Charles Rogers, Edgar K. Brown, Charles S. Sutton, Fred Letten, William Behr, Nelson C. Lally, Roy F. Allen, Norman H. Bradshaw, Thomas Bradley, Fred Wells and Edwin A. De Vore.

The brilliant Polo dance, one of the novelties of the evening, was ruled by Mrs. Walter Scott Newhall, assisted by Mrs. Walter Jarvis, Barlow, Mrs. James G. Porter, Mrs. J. H. Utley and Mrs. Roland Bishop. Dancers were: Misses Anna Andrews, Elizabeth Wood, Alice Rooser, Ethel Shaw, Florence Pollard, Isabelle Dulin, Lola Allen and Mollie Adella Brown; Messrs. Carroll Stilson, Irwin Janss, Cloyd Lott, Paul Buckler, Irwin Armstrong, Edmund Apes and Alan Morphy.

off-stage by as merry a Winter as you ever saw—six bouncing girls, all in furry white, dancing like mad and now and then viciously hurling make-believe snowballs into the hands of auditors in the near rows.

INDIVIDUAL GOWNS.

The polo dance, next in the list, was one of the most brilliant events of the evening. The gowns of the women, for the first time in the series, were entirely individual, and the participants had made for themselves veritable creations, one stunning purple—purple in gown, shoes, hat and parasol—being especially striking in the spot light's glow. The men, two dashing polo teams, assisted their partners in a series of fine evolutions, and as a finale, were driven off in two merry teams, amid the cracking of whips and the sound of great applause.

The intermission, which came as the polo dance was finished, was followed by a Spanish dance, which revives memories of old California in superb style. This dance was one of the largest of the evening, in point of numbers participating, and was enthusiastically received.

A distinct comedy variation came next, in the quintette from the Bank Clerks' Minstrel Show. These distinguished "artists," amid much laughter and applause, gave their renowned success, "Have You Got Another Girl at Home Like Mary?" W. E. Shipley being chiefly responsible, with Kenneth Wiseman, Grange Thatcher, J. Nell Hastings and Henry Hafner assisting him in the burlesque. It was good fun, received exactly in the spirit it was sent.

There have been Indian dances galore, but no Indian dance at any function here in years has equaled in lavishness of costuming, in fine detail of movement, in general plan and complete execution the spectacle afforded by these make-believe aborigines in the cause of charity.

STRIKING FEATURE.

The Marsovian dance, the last thing on the programme, was in some ways the most striking feature of the long and bewilderingly magnificent entertainment. The writer is wondering where these splendid "Merry Widow" costumes were found; at any rate, the original Savage company, in which money was spent with all the skill of professional experience and the lavishness of a manager determined to make one great cast for fortune, did not exceed nor even equal in elegance and detail these superb costumes of "Merry Widow" design shown at the Auditorium last night. The original company had one Sonia and one Prince Danilo. But here there were a score. The familiar music served to illustrate a series of striking dances and march steps, and the number was concluded by Miss Rose Zobelein's singing of the "Villa," one of the best-known "Merry Widow" numbers. A Russian dance and the Rumanian national dance were also features of this altogether unparalleled Marsovian performance.

After the final dance, the selection of badges to the most popular companies, was indulged in under the direction of Joseph Scott.

The Assistance League has provided here an entertainment of such lavishness, such bewildering complexity, and in such rapid succession of fine events, events worthy the professional stage, that it will repay the time of any man or woman. It should not be missed. It is a revelation of the really fine, artistic things Los Angeles society is capable of doing on occasions of need. New York may have its monkey dinners, but Los Angeles has its Kirmess—a genuine whirlwind of terpsichorean accomplishment.

There will be performances each night until the end of the week, and on Saturday afternoon there will be a number of special dances.

In addition to the work of the pretty multitude upon the stage, equally valiant service is being done by the bevy of flower girls, the battalion of programme beauties and the phalanx of pink-cheeked candy maidens in the front of the house.

Last night's audience at the Auditorium was one of the most brilliant ever assembled there, and indications point to splendid attendance at each repetition of the affair.

Among the prettiest and most talented of the young dancers was handsome little Miss Lucile Gage, daughter of ex-Gov. Gage.

THOSE TAKING PART.

Society was never better represented at any function in Los Angeles than in the tremendous cast of the Kirmess dances, which practically depopulated the clubs and, all the great houses in the exclusive residence districts.

At the head of the fascinating company of Irish dancers was Mrs. William May Garland, assisted by Mrs. Russell Taylor, Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mrs. Rae Smith and Mrs. J. E. Cook, with these dancers: Mrs. Chester A. Montgomery, Mrs. Will Hook, Miss Gertrude King, Miss Caroline Trask, Miss Marjorie Utley, Mrs. Rae Smith, Miss Virginia Garner, Miss Florence Wood, Miss Gladys Letts, Miss Edna Letts, Mainard McFie, Arthur Dodworth, Arthur Bumiller, Arthur Bobrick, Kingsley Macomber, Bruce McNeil, Warren Gillelen, Hugo Visscher, Andrew Mullen and Fred Stamm.

Akin to the Irish company was the Scotch group, chaperoned by Mrs. T. J. Fleming, assisted by Mrs. Walter Trask, Mrs. Willard Stimson, Mrs. John Mott, Mrs. Frank Thomas and Mrs. Hamilton Bowman Rollins. The dancers were: Misses Sally Polk, Virginia Walsh, Mercedes de Luna, Caroline Canfield, Genevieve Wilcox, Margaret Fleming, Louise Fleming, Charlotte Wadsworth, Kathleen Spring, Edythe Bryant, Rita Morris and Margaret McMillan; Harrell J. Harrell, Marcus Marshall, Gabriel Duque, Nelson Crandall, John Garner, Hamilton Rollins, Arden Day, Mr. Cranfield, Roy Ward, Mr. Gillette, George Caswell, Hilliard MacGowan and Waverly Waggoner.

There was no daintier number than the Marsovian group, at the head of which were Mrs. M. J. Connell, Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mrs. Hugo Visscher, Mrs. Edward Stimson, Mrs. Harvey Van der Leck, Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Willard Doran and Mrs. John T. Jones; dancers being Misses Barbara Burkhalter, Virginia Nourse, Mary Stockard, Olive Erdt, Clarisse Stevens, May Ridgeway, Marguerite Rimpau, Florence Clark, Mary Lindley, Mrs. Van Kaathoven, Mary Burnham, Mrs. Carrie Fay Law; J. Walter Kays, Raymond C. Moore, J. R. Coffman, H. W. Reed, Charles Henderson, William Miller, Earl Holland, George Mossbacher, George Reed, Harold Janss, Philo Lindley and Mr. Marsh.

In the Tarantella dance Mrs. Jules Kaufman presided, while her deputies were Mrs. Maurice Hellman, Mrs. Alfred Stearns, Mrs. Max Isaacs and Mrs. John Kahn. The dancers: Misses Hazel Beatus, Rose Cohn, Freda Goldsmith, Beatrice Goldbaum, Nettie Krakauer, Gladys McMurray, Grace Moakley; Messrs. Herbert Green, Ivan Kahn, Edward Ferrario, Earl Cheney, Berto Goldsmith and Mr. Duke.

Mrs. Clover presided over the Indian dance, assisted by Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. H. B. Wing, Mrs. Lynn Helm, Mrs. Scott Helm and Mrs. Caroline Van Dyke. The dancers were: Misses Louise Freese, Romaine Poindexter, Mary Boynton, Helen Parker, Hazel Parker, Florence Wadsworth, Agnes Whittaker, Rae Belle Morgan, Rowena Newton, Katie Freese, Dora Rogers, and Lilly Christensen; Messrs. lence. The complaint alleged that she struck him in the face and threatened to kill him, while pointing a cocked and loaded revolver at him. The plaintiff admitted that he fled so that his life might not be taken.

In the summer time, she is alleged to have stated tales that she was compelled to support her husband. Three hundred dollars a month is the sum he declared he was settling on her then.

The incident in which the servant was included occurred on August 1. Hupp ordered the girl to leave and she is said to have insolently told him that she took no commands from him.

CASE OF BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Carl Sandgren, brother of Mrs. Hupp, took up his residence in the house on trouble in the fall. Hupp objected to him, as having been "obnoxious."

His "obnoxiousness" was said to consist in keeping the attorney out of his own home until he broke through a window, then having assaulted him.

Hupp spoke in such a low tone that there were few of the eager auditors could hear a word of what he said. Not all of the charges he made against his wife, he would probably now have been given a decree but for the testimony of his sister, Mrs. C. M. Widney, she had a conversation with Mrs. Hupp, in which the latter was alleged to have admitted she would have killed her husband if he had not died.

In explaining about the trouble over his brother-in-law, Hupp said: "Mrs. Hupp insisted when she was sick in preparing his breakfast. I remonstrated with her and she ordered me to set the table. I left the house. When I returned at 5 o'clock, I didn't have my keys and found the door locked. I went to the window and asked Sandgren to let me in. He said he wouldn't do it. I went to the back and got in

THE HONEST MAN FOUND.

SOME MEN HAVE CONSCIENCES.

Yes, praise be, some people have consciences, and it is only to these that this article is addressed—to the men who carry their consciences with them into politics as well as into business and domestic affairs.

The Times of Sunday and Monday pointed out the devilish iniquity of the movement promoted by Goo-Goo bosses and Lincoln-Roosevelt League leaders all over the State for the illegal registration of Democrats, Prohibitionists, Populists and Socialists as Republicans. Let us make the object of these schemers of the Lissner type as plain as possible. They wish to break up the Republican party and organize one of their own. They are lean; they have had poor pickings; are hungry and thirsty for spoils, and, as recent events in Los Angeles have demonstrated, are pleased to take any sort of office or go to any length to provide "jobs" for their followers. They are in a minority in the great Republican party and always will be, and they can only accomplish their aims with the assistance of Democrats, Populists and members of other parties opposed to the tenets of Republicanism. Now these Democrats, Populists, Prohibitionists and the like are naturally desirous of defeating and smashing the Republican organization, and the Goo-Goo schemers propose to "use" them by inducing them to falsely register as Republicans, vote in the Republican nominating primaries and foil the wishes of the great body of Republicans by making objectionable nominations and bringing confusion to the party. If Democrats could swing Republican nominating primaries, would they not put up in every case the weakest and most easily defeated ticket? Ha-ha! Would they? If Populists or Socialists could dictate Republican nominations, would they not select the men easiest to be beat? We wonder!

We believe almost any reader can see the cat in the meal and appreciate the significance of the appeals of the Goo-Goo and Lincoln-Roosevelt organs all over the State to members of other parties to register as Republicans for the fall elections.

But a political party has as many rights in the eyes of the law as a private individual. Statutes have been enacted to protect these rights; it is as much a crime to trespass against them as it is to infringe upon those of a man in business or a corporation. A party has the same legal claim for a square deal and honest treatment as has the proprietor of a merchandising establishment or of a hotel, who, the law decrees, shall be safeguarded against the dishonest debtor and the passer of fictitious checks. A party is still protected by the law in its right to select its own nominees and to conduct its own affairs in its own way. Whoever seeks to interfere with this right or exhorts others to such interference is guilty of a crime in the eyes of the law. Were it otherwise we could not hope for anything like purity or fairness in politics, and the ballot would be a farce. If Republicans could upon occasion register as Democrats and prevent the Democratic party from nominating the men it really wanted to nominate; or if Democrats were permitted to capture Republican caucuses and primaries and estop the Republicans from making nominations agreeable to the wishes of the majority of that party, the result would be government by chicane instead of by the popular will.

And so the law of California directs that each registering voter shall declare his political affiliations. He must take oath that he belongs to and proposes to act with a certain political party—the purpose of the law being to prevent the accomplishment of the crime described above. If a Republican declares himself on oath to be a Republican he is entitled to vote as a Republican at the primary election making the Republican nominations—but not as a Democrat; he cannot without committing perjury help make the Democratic nominations. And the same rule applies to Democrats and Populists; they cannot, without perjuring themselves, help make Republican nominations. And if you are at heart a Democrat or a Populist you cannot register as a Republican and interfere with the Republican nominations without committing perjury.

Nothing better is to be expected of these Goo-Goo bosses and Lincoln-Roosevelt League leaders than that they will seek to lure the unwary into this guile by telling them that in this way they can "smash the Republican machine"—whether the Lissner machine (south) or the Rowell machine (north) it is not stated! But The Times cannot believe that any considerable number of Democrats or Socialists or Prohibitionists will stoop to such trickery or be made tools of such conscienceless politicians whose "goodest" ambition is to feather their own nests. This may be a word in season. It may draw attention to a matter of plain right and wrong, to a question of obedience or violation of law. No voter who consults his conscience can register as a Republican if he is not a Republican and does not intend to vote the Republican ticket after Republicans—not Democrats or Socialists—shall have selected it. If his sole ambition is to disrupt the Republican party, if he at heart desires the success of Democracy or of Populistic principles, then he commits perjury if he follows the adjuration of the Link-Roost ringsters to register as a "Republican" (joke, in quotation marks.) Any voter guilty of such a trick is on a par with the check-kiter, illegal rebater and robber of hen-roosts.

As a plain statement of fact, to be verified by any voter who may go to the statute books, The Times repeats that under the registration law of this State, passed by the last Legislature, a voter, in order to qualify to vote a party ticket at a primary election, must make oath that "he intends to affiliate at the ensuing primary election" with "such political party." In order to help nominate a party candidate for any office the voter must make oath that he is "a member of the party" the indorsement of which the candidate is seeking. The Times asks every honest voter who has been approached with the shameless proposition of the Goo-Goo machine that he violate this law—to pause, to think twice, to sleep over it, to decide the matter as an honest man would decide it if urged by some swindler to be a party to a fraud and an outrage upon his neighbor.

JOHN WOULD BE A JIM.

The Mississippi Legislature is still deadlocked on the United States Senatorship question. If the views of an outsider are worth anything, we beg to suggest that a way can be found out of the present situation by the election of "Private John" Allen of Tupelo. Allen was in the House for a number of terms and contributed much to the gayety of the nation by his wit and antics. There are entirely too many solemn people in the upper house of Congress. They take themselves too seriously. But Private John, he would make a Jim-dandy Senator for old Mississip—eh, Mike?

GOVERNMENT OF FADS—BY FADDISTS.

Who recalls the flutter in the camp of the saints when some one in Congress proposed that in the investigation of charges against Secretary Ballinger the committee might well take a side step into the forestry service? Later in the day, when it was decided that this should be done, former Chief Forester Pinchot made a little spectacular play by saying he was ready to welcome the Congressional committee into the woodlands.

Now we begin to see why the flutter was so loud in the flapping of frightened wings, and why Mr. Pinchot's welcome was so tardy in announcement.

The cold fact is, the forestry service was a mere fad of the late Chief Forester, a costly fad to the country, and the funds were spent not only in an extravagant manner, but illegally as well. These forest reserves are nearly all virgin forests. The ax is a stranger to them. They have been growing for ages. They are now as well timbered as they will be in a century. If they can be made to pay ever, it is now. Timber is sold from these woods, but not a cent finds its way to the treasury. It all goes to pay fees for young faddists in colleges, to pay their traveling expenses while fitting themselves for duties at some future time, provided they develop industry and capacity to learn.

Give us back a little of the plain common sense and common honesty of the days now counted as back numbers. Time was when our fathers had the slowness of conception to imagine that they were to obey the laws, spend public money according to the terms of the act by which the appropriation was made, and turn in an itemized account in which an expert would find no flaw. Inner illumination is great, and to be born a patriot is fine. But this republic may be wrecked as disastrously by fads as by robbers, by faddists as by corruptionists.

The inner life of the late Lord Sackville West is exposed in London by the efforts of Ernest Henry Sackville West to have himself declared the legitimate son of the deceased diplomat. It will be recalled that Lord Sackville West was British Minister at Washington during the first Cleveland term, and spilled the beans for the Democrats and his home government by writing the celebrated [illegible] had much to do with the vic...

The Biggest Game on Earth.

HONOLULU, January.

"Say," remarked the Big Black Buck, reaching with a prong of his branching antlers after a big black bug that was tickling his big backbone, "did you see the sporting edition of the Hot Scentury this month? We're all in it. All about hunting big game. Real hunting; virile as a philanthropist; no camera nonsense about it; just the genuine dope."

The Big Black Bass anchored by his fins in the eddy of the creek beside which the convention was assembled, made a pass at a big black fly darting above the water, got it, absorbed it with submarine relish, and said:

"Yes; I've seen it. Inland hunting isn't so much in my line, although I reckon I'll come in a little later on. The water's fine this morning." He added, to a wary young frog, watching him from a little bower in the moss a long, long jump above the innocent-looking stream. "Thanks," he croaked softly. "Had my plunge before breakfast."

"Have another one before mine," suggested the bass. But again the suggestion was declined with thanks, and the bass, being in conversational humor, resumed the interrupted hunting topic.

"Talking about big kills," he said, "I took in something last week night in this creek that's worth putting in water color. I had been cruising up and down the banks nearly all day with about the poorest luck that ever trifled with a hungry fish. I was about tired out and made up my mind I'd reel in and try a cast above the second dam, and if I didn't get a rise there I'd quit and go back to camp.

"Well, after I worked past the dam, not a quarter of a mile up stream where the pool was deep and still, I saw a boy about ten years old sitting alone on the bank. He wasn't fishing. Just sitting there, dreaming down into the water. His straw hat was lying on the grass beside him; his curly hair dropping into his eyes; half a dozen wild strawberries and some field flowers in one hand; dangling his toes in the water, and watching the ripples with his girlish blue eyes. He was a beauty, and no mistake. I hardly dared move a fin for fear of frightening him.

"But I sneaked up under some lily pads, tied on a new hook with a four-foot leader, swung it out with nearly twenty feet of line, and before he knew what had happened last or was going to happen next I fastened him right through the upper lip. Jeemses River! If you could have heard that boy scream! He leaped up in the air, I should think, about twice his own length—a tremendous jump for a boy—but I had him. I'd struck him fair and the hook held like a harpoon.

"I played him up and down the bank a little while. I could have reeled him right into the creek and drowned him in a minute. But I'm no beastly pot hunter. I don't fish for a living, but just for the gentle sport of it. So I played the little fellow up and down the old mill patch. Now and then he'd make a desperate dart for a tree, to get a bight of the line around it. But I held him steadily, and when I saw his game I'd reel him a little closer to the bank. Every time he'd scream and jump it would thrill down the taut line until every scale of me thrilled with the joy of the conflict between strength and skill.

"Talk about sport! Any creature, animal or fish, that has never felt the noble excitement of hooking a strong, healthy, handsome boy, full of life and spirit, and then played fair with him for his life, doesn't know what real sport and innocent pleasure is. This lad was game, too, down to his bare feet, for all his tender blue eyes and oval face. He fought for his life like a thoroughbred. Once when he came to a little open meadow he made a dash for a clump of trees on the hillside. How he did run! The line spun out till it fairly smoked, and the reel hummed like an aeolian harp with the music that thrills and uplifts the soul of the true sport, with the splendid ecstasy of the game. By and by I saw he was getting tired. I'd played him for nearly half an hour and begun to ache with fatigue myself, as the excitement died out a little.

"His face and breast were covered with blood; he was panting furiously, and I could fairly hear his heart beat in great, bursting jumps. His eyes were starting from their sockets with exhaustion and terror. I had a multiplying reel, and when I began to feel sorry for the brave little fellow it didn't take me long to wind him close to the creek. He realized what was coming and made a rush that nearly snapped the line. But I prepared for that and paid out cautiously. The line held, and the next second he came over the bank and splashed into the water with a scream that echoed away back in the hills.

"He struggled fiercely at first, but only for a little minute. I had him in my own element, and common sharkly kindliness forbade me to prolong his sufferings needlessly after I had had my sport. I let him get his head above water once or twice for a gasping, choking breath, and then I drowned him. One of the finest boys, I think, I ever [illegible] half minutes in killing him. I wouldn't have [illegible] fifty dollars and missed that afternoon's sport."

The little audience of hunters and fishers, every one of them a true sport, applauded the [illegible]ited narrative, which only true, thorough sports could appreciate. One of them asked the big bass if he had the skull mounted.

"Oh, yes," the fisher replied. "I couldn't [illegible] to throw away such a trophy as that. We [illegible] in the dining-room of the club in the cleft of a big boulder just below the first dam. I presented it to the club, you know. The boy's mother [illegible] him, and she and a lot of the neighbors came [illegible] and dragged the creek for three or four days. But they couldn't find the skull. Queer, isn't it, how these humans pine after their spawn? I've seen that woman walking along the creek a score of times since I got the boy. I eat mine, if they don't pen to get in my way."

"Do you suppose it hurts a man as much [illegible] does a fish to be taken with a hook and line?" asked a little minnow, who from the shallows underneath a shelving rock had listened with breathless delight to the fish story of the bass.

"No," answered the big bass. "How can it? [illegible] are big, lumpish pieces of bone and muscle. They have no nerves of sensation. They can't see beyond the length of their noses. They can't put a foot into the water, and when it is clear as [illegible] day clean down to the bottom they can't see a thing in it. I've steadied myself against a [illegible] in plain midstream, lots of times, and watched a man crawling around the stream looking for me, making more noise than a bull chasing a cow through a swamp, and thinking all the time he was quieter than a clam. And they can't hear. A leaf drops into the water the man thinks it's a fish jumping, and when there is a leap he can't tell whether it was a fish or a frog."

"And they can't smell," said the buck from the bank. "I've scented them before they were in sight, and then laughed to see them try to get to the windward of me, sneaking about in plain sight and smell, about as cunning and secretive as a bulldog on a fox hunt."

"I wonder," said the big bass, "why they [illegible] such game sport for us, then?"

"It's because they're such cowards," replied the gray wolf with admiring but cautious glance at the big buck. "A man is afraid of everything. He's afraid of a bite and of a kick; he [illegible] anything that hurts. He wouldn't go out after a rabbit without a gun. He fears death with a [illegible]terness and agony worse than a hundred deaths and fights for his life with the last gasp of his [illegible]. That's what makes him such great hunting."

The conference applauded. And the big buck, wading out into the deep water of the pool, turned and faced the wolf with the remark that this was the finest place in the whole creek for dogs. "I put two big, gaunt wolf-hounds right here a month ago," he said.

And the assembly broke up, the wolf remarking that he never dined until after sundown.

Sad Russia's poor, and gaunt, and bare; she should be beastly rich; and evermore is there the ghost of wantovitch; the discontented nobles fret, the monarch has a pain; the peasants toil and sweat, and sweat and toil in vain. And Russia still at progress sneers, at freedom with a scoff, while shedding weak and futile tears of griefovitchokoff. The Czar, trembling at his meals and hardly dares to eat that his czardines and soup and eels contain no [illegible] out dope. The statesmen carry guns and knives, the plumber makes their shirts; [illegible] tremble lest their wives hide razors [illegible] There Terror holds its ghastly sway, and [illegible] never comes, and bombs are busted every day; scores of busted bums. Uneasy as a man [illegible] sighs beneath a dose of itch, poor Russia [illegible] floor and cries in sadnessowskivitch. In this [illegible] violates no rules, nor from the record roam; always thus where Terror rules, in nations [illegible] homes. Some guy may say that Russia, [illegible] earth would ne'er be missed, then fill his [illegible] home with dread, and fear and sorrowquiz.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE [illegible]

A New "Dope" Plant.

The Catha edulis, or the kat plant, is used by natives of Abyssinia for the suppression of [illegible] about the same as the coca plant is by the [illegible] of India. Certain tribes in Abyssinia chew leaves of the kat plant commonly when they are compelled to exert special or long-continued [illegible] the immediate effect of which is to produce agreeable sleeplessness and stimulation. The [illegible]ly-cut leaves have a rather pleasant taste and [illegible]duce a kind of intoxication of long duration, none of the disagreeable features of ordinary [illegible] ebriety. Messengers and soldiers are enabled [illegible] chewing the leaves, to go without food for [illegible] ber of days.

Generally speaking, the action of the [illegible] stimulating and tonic and non-narcotic. [illegible] the natives would be incapable of accomplishing their ordinary tasks before the absorption of [illegible] which takes the place of the European alcohol [illegible] companied by the same phenomena of excitement. Among those who abuse the habit the body [illegible] to dry, the visage becomes emaciated, and [illegible] trouble follows, the most usual being a trembling of the limbs; but these cases are rare. As the [illegible] too copious absorption of kat produces a state of drunkenness, particularly when the large leaves are employed.

A beverage called "tedj," a variant of [illegible] is also made from the plant and is a very agreeable drink, particularly when taken after some violent exercise.

Chinese Woolen Factories.

Two woolen factories have recently been established in China as a result of the introduction of woolen clothing for the modern, well-drilled troops of that country. One of the factories is at Shanghai, a large building fitted with up-to-date [illegible] machinery and employing at present several [illegible] gian operatives to teach the Chinese students. The factory is capable of turning out sufficient cloth for 1,000,000 men. The other was established in 1908 at Chingho, about six miles from Peking. It is well equipped with British machinery and employs three or four British operatives. If the Chinese of China show any inclination to follow the lead of the army in wearing wool, there is no doubt that the number of such factories will increase.

Vegetable Ivory Buttons.

The vegetable ivory now used for the manufacture of buttons now almost wholly comes from South America instead of from Africa. The African nut costs about one-third as much as the other, but the buttons made from them are understood to shrivel and warp, while the contrary is the case with the South American nut. It yields more than double the number of buttons, but even then is more expensive than the African nut, for which reason methods of manufacture are being sought that will overcome the defects of the latter.

Couldn't "Bile" It.

Two hundred pages of a recent issue of the Los Angeles Times reached us last week. Wonder if they think a small country editor has nothing to do but dig through 200 such pages to see what's in them. Of course it's a big paper, reflecting much credit on the Far West where they have got the sufficient energy to accomplish such a feat, but in our opinion the paper would give a great deal better satisfaction to its readers in general if it boiled things down and made about ten pages of it.—[Glasgo (Kan.) ...RRY FAMILY FEUD TO GRAVE.

...pedals Chief of Police Guards ...Draper Home to Prevent Brothers Attending Funeral.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—The feud which broke out in the Draper family at Hopedale a few years ago was carried to the very brink of the grave, for the Chief of Police was stationed at the door of the home of the late Gen. William F. Draper, while his body was lying in state today, to prevent Gov. Eben S. Draper and his brother, George W. Bert Draper, from entering the house.

"I was ordered by members of the William F. Draper family," said Mr. Fairbanks, Police Chief, "not to permit the Governor or his brother to enter the house and I was mighty glad they did not show up."

Neither brother attended the funeral or the service at the grave. The cause of the feud has never been known. It is understood that it grew out of trouble between the wives of the Draper brothers, who all married famous Kentucky belles. It is said that the trouble between their wives has always been more bitter than that between the brothers.

The bitterness between the latter was intensified when Eben Draper announced before he ran for Governor that he believed the tariff should be raised and lowered. Gen. Draper was an extreme protectionist, and this announcement caused him to make several high tariff speeches which were aimed at his brother and embarrassed him in his campaign. This led to a split in the Draper Company, manufacturers of machinery at Hopedale, Gen. Draper retiring and starting a plant of his own.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Lowman, who were recently married and in whose honor a large reception will be given Monday evening.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

MRS. A. H. BURREL of San José announces the betrothal of her daughter, Miss Viva, to J. Eugene Law, cashier of the First National Bank of Hollywood.

For Bride and Groom.

Complimentary to Dr. and Mrs. C LeRoy Lowman, who were recently married in Galesburg, Ill., Miss Grace Dering, Mrs. Harry Cardell, Miss Atina Duryea, Mrs. J. Clarence Cook and Mrs. Alice Dering will entertain with a large reception Monday evening at the home of the former, No 1517 Van Ness avenue. Dr. and Mrs. William Horace Day will receive with Dr. and Mrs. Lowman. The bride is a graduate of Knox College and a member of the Tri Delta Sorority.

Charming Bride.

The wedding last evening of Mrs. Ethel Bennett and Bert J. Thompson took place at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Satterlee, No 912 South Burlington avenue, Rev. Warren F. Day presiding. The bride wore a handsome gown of white satin, veiled with Duchess lace over silver net, and carried a cluster of cyclamen lilies. Her little daughter, Wilma Bennett, in a dainty white creation with perky pink bows, carried a basket of flowers. The maid of honor, Miss Alice Tobey, wore an imported lace gown over pink and carried sweet peas of the same color. The ribbon bearers, Miss Mary Currier and Miss Wynette Bailey, were garbed in pink satin with silver trimmings. They also carried flowers matching their gowns. Dr. Harry Thompson acted with his brother as best man and the groomsmen were Ned Currier and Dr. H. G. Rosenberg of Whittier. James Lacey, in charge of the music, played the wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn.

The home was transformed into a pretty spring bower, with almond blossoms and ferns. The bride's table glowed with a huge wedding cake, covered with candles.

The young couple will make their home in Forest City, Iowa, where Mr. Thompson is engaged in the practice of law. Before returning to Iowa they will tour Southern California.

At Home to Friends.

Mrs. Theodore Leah Seeley and her daughter, Miss Ada B. Seeley, who was recently introduced to society at a large reception given at the family home, No. 1515 South Figueroa street, were at home to friends informally yesterday afternoon.

Will Not Receive.

Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle will not be at home to friends Friday, as she is preparing to move into her new home on Ardmore street.

Dancing Party.

Members of the Los Angeles Cricket & Tennis Club entertained last evening with their annual dancing party at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Guests of Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Traber of Kansas City are visiting their daughter, Mrs. F. R. Feitshans, No. 413 South Evergreen avenue.

Studio Luncheon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Borglum of Sierra Madre recently entertained with a studio luncheon for a number of Los Angeles friends. The guests were Judge and Mme. Erskine M. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Housh, Mrs. J. A. Osgood and others.

Birthday Celebration.

In honor of her husband's birthday anniversary, Mrs. Frank L. Orr of No. 1145 West Thirty-seventh place entertained with a whist party this week. Garlands of flowers and ferns ornamented the home. Scores were kept on cards bearing sketches of Gibson heads. The prizes fell to Miss Florence Lee, John Anenius, Mrs. M. H. Vaughn and A. A. Robins.

The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huff, Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Vaughn, Mrs. E. J. Campbell, Mrs. Anna Robins, John Anenius, Miss Emma Anenius, Mrs. Florence Lee and Charles Nickerson.

Into New Home.

Mrs. Burton Williamson and her daughters, the Misses Lillian and Estella Williamson, are domiciled in their new home, No. 2345 Ocean View avenue.

At Kirmess.

Not a One-Idea House

Most music firms in Los Angeles, so far as the Player-Piano is concerned, may be aptly termed "one-idea houses." With the single exception of The Wiley B. Allen Co. practically every store shows one player-piano, advertising and featuring that instrument as the best in existence and being under contract with the makers of that particular piano to sell their product exclusively.

The broad policy of our House allows no dictation on the part of any manufacturer, and permits us to buy that which we consider and know by actual comparison to be the best possible at the price, the most dependable and the most musically satisfactory.

We are showing today on our floors twelve distinct styles of player-pianos, combining the very latest and most advanced types of construction in 88 and combination 65-88-note instruments, installed in the finest line of pianos ever shown on the Pacific Coast, thus giving intending buyers the only opportunity offered in this city for intelligent comparison of twelve different types side by side.

The Knabe-Angelus, unquestionably the greatest player in the world, heads our line. The magnificent Hardman Autotone, indorsed by Caruso, Scotti, Tetrazzini and practically every metropolitan artist, also is shown. The Emerson-Angelus, the Angelus Piano, both with the marvelous Melodant, which separates melody and harmony, give the greatest possible opportunity for individualism on the part of the operator. The Conover and the Kingsbury Inner-Players possess distinct and decided merit. The Harrington Autotone, the Ludwig and others are shown in moderately priced players, every one in 88-note types and up to the minute in development. Prices $575 to $1075.

Easy payments.

Ours Is Not a One-Idea House. The opportunity for comparison, for the purchase of the best possible in players, in pianos and talking machines, is here.

WHEN CUPID IS MAIL CARRIER.

VARIOUS VALENTINES VEHICLES OF FUN AND LOVE.

Custom of Remembering Sweethearts and Friends Continues Popular in the Southland and Artistic Creations Please Thousands—Post-Card Souvenir of Day Is Latest.

Maidens and swains who desire to express their affection via the valentine route have more diversified vehicles, this season, than ever before. There are many new styles shown in the little messengers of love—and some not intended to advance the tender passion.

For several years there has been a gradual falling off in that atrocious parody of the season, the so-called comic valentine with its vulgar, insulting verses and caricatured humanity. In its place has sprung up a really comic valentine of the post-card variety; a valentine that may be sent in a spirit of fun and be received without causing a feeling of resentment on account of the clean, quaint humor they possess, both as to verses and illustration.

The post-card valentine has surely come into its own. Greater varieties are shown this season than ever before, and the class of matter they contain ranges over a wide scope dealing with the subject of the season.

Many new and novel ideas in valentines have found their way to the counters of dealers this year. Prominent among them are dirigible and spherical balloons—particularly appropriate to the foremost city in air navigation in America.

Mechanical valentines are new departures that are attracting much attention. The majority of the comic supplement heroes are depicted ... ing impossible couplets, of a decade ago, have given place to the more conservative form of construction and expression. That there has been no falling off in the custom in Los Angeles of sending valentines is clearly shown by the amount being sold, even at this early date. Wherever they are on sale two and three saleswomen are kept busy attending to the wants of the throngs surrounding the counters.

The Newark, N. J. police believe they have averted a serious tenement-house fire and perhaps saved the lives of many by seizing 4,000,000 matches in an Italian flat house. The matches had been purchased by Solomon Paplowski after they were damaged by fire. When the police entered Soloman was drying them over a stove in the hope of making them marketable.

However and Therefore.

However, merchants are perfectly aware that if we, as a sex, are a bit fussy as shoppers, we are ten times more valuable to the trade than men. You just notice next time you go into a big store, and compare the number of women shoppers with men. You will discover that we outnumber them ten to one. As proof that merchants realize it, just listen to this, culled from the columns of the Dry Goods Economist, a trade journal which circulates among merchants exclusively: "As every one who is connected with the selling of dry goods knows, the weather has an important influence upon sales. Therefore, the dry goods trade has a vital interest in the accuracy or inaccuracy of the predictions issued by the Weather Bureau and its local offices. Women—(note that—no reference to the other sex)—patronizing a trip downtown or to the stores, if they live in the city, or to the country are influenced by weather conditions, and inaccurate predictions may result in the unnecessary putting off of purchases, and possibly of their abandonment altogether. Might it not be well therefore for retailers, if they find their local weather predictions harmful, to induce the publishers of the local newspapers to omit them from the front page, printing them in a less conspicuous position, as is usually done with the detailed weather report?" FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

There's no denying it—men certainly are more expeditious shoppers than women. I asked the manager of a department in one of our big stores about it yesterday. At first he gallantly fenced. He was so chivalrous to our sex that he hesitated to admit the truth on this point. I admired his chivalry, but I was seeking the plain, unvarnished truth.

"Well," he finally said, "here comes a couple now. You watch and judge for yourself."

The man was of the big, bustling type, while his wife was small, and nervous, and rather fussy, and very, very particular. They were in quest of steamer rugs. "We want a couple," said the man in his, brusque way. "Show us the best you have."

The clerk pulled down a dozen or two from the shelves. "Here's a rug," he said, "that will give perfect satisfaction. It's fine and soft and warm. Just feel that quality, will you?"

The big man took a corner of the rug between his fingers. "How much is it?" he asked.

"That's one of the finest rugs we have, and its price is $40," said the clerk.

"I'll take it," said the man. "Now pick out yours," he said to the little woman, pulling his watch from his pocket at the same time to see how many minutes had already been wasted in shopping.

This is the way she did it.

"Well, now, first of all, about the colors. You see, I am rather particular about that. Now, I don't know whether I'll be seasick or not. I never took a long voyage, but, in case I should be sick, I think a rug with some bright color in it—red, for instance—would be more becoming, don't you?" with an appealing glance at the clerk.

"You see," she went on, "when one is seasick, the countenance takes on a frightful bilious color—a regular jaundice shade, don't you know—and on that account I wouldn't want a rug with a single speck of yellow in it. I'd want red, rather, to sort of counteract my paleness, you know, and throw a glow over my face, don't you see?"

The experienced clerk "saw," and he went on hauling down rugs and spreading them over counters and indiscructo trunks, and draping them over the shoulders of every stray clerk who happened that way. In his zeal he came within an ace of throwing one over the shoulders of a customer who happened to come along. Then he would throw one around his own manly form, in the picturesque Roman toga style, and parade down the aisle to show the effect. Gradually the place assumed the look of an East Indian warehouse or an oriental auction showroom, and within fifteen minutes he had summoned two other clerks to help him haul down rugs from the shelves.

Such a display of steamer rugs I never beheld. I didn't know any single firm in Los Angeles had such a variety. There were rugs running in price all the way from $5 to $40, and there was a magnifying glass which one could put into your eye and inspect the quality through a microscope that made every individual thread in those rugs stand up like trees in the park. You could diagnose its quality through and through.

The little woman hovered about the display, and was distinctly in her element. Her husband in the meantime wandered off into the trunk and handbag section, and finally pulled a morning paper from his pocket and sat down on a trunk under a window and began to read. Meanwhile the selection of a rug went on.

Finally the little woman discovered just the very rug she had been looking for.

"There, now, that's what I mean," she said as the clerk threw a beautiful red Scotch plaid rug over the shoulders of one of his lay figures.

"That's just the very thing," and she stepped closer to more thoroughly examine it. "Oh, what a shame—now that side is perfectly all right, but this side won't do at all. You see, my traveling dress is dark blue, and it would never do to have a rug with dark green. It wouldn't harmonize at all. Now, if you could just give me one like this on one side and like that," stepping across to another rug thrown over the counter, "on the other side, it would just exactly suit me."

And so it went on. At the end of exactly one hour and three-quarters by my watch, the rug was selected, and the little woman expressed herself as perfectly satisfied.

"I'm sorry to have taken so much of your time," she said sweetly to the clerk, "but you know it was such an important matter to get just the right colors and combinations and quality, and you have such an enormous assortment that I got sort of bewildered, don't you know?"

The clerk smiled with the utmost good nature. "That's all right, madame," he assured her. "We want you perfectly satisfied. Always glad to show our stock." And he meant it, too. Not a shade of sarcasm.

After the little woman had departed the check and gone an hour before—I said to the clerk:

"Odd, isn't it, that the average woman selects the last one shown out of an exhibit or dozens of rugs—like finding to the bottom of a trunk before you find the desired article?"

He laughed. "Yes," he said, "but in this case she finally selected the very first rug I showed her."

However and Therefore.

However, merchants are perfectly aware that if we, as a sex, are a bit fussy as shoppers, we are ten times more valuable to tie trade than men. You just notice next time you go into a big store, and compare the number of women shoppers with men. You will discover that we outnumber them ten to one. As proof that merchants realize it, just listen in this, culled from the columns of the Dry Goods Economist, a trade journal which circulates among merchants exclusively:

"As every one who is connected with the selling of dry goods knows, the weather has an important influence, upon sales. Therefore, the dry goods trade has a vital interest in the accuracy or inaccuracy of the predictions issued by the Weather Bureau and its local offices. Women—(note that—no reference to the other sex)—planning a trip downtown or to the stores, if they live in the city, naturally are influenced by weather conditions and inaccurate predictions may result in the unnecessary putting off of purchases, and possibly of their abandonment altogether. Might it not be well therefore for them to find out from their local weather prediction, if harmful, to induce the publishers of the local newspapers to omit from the front page the printing of this conspicuous position, as is usually done with the detailed weather report?

"Think of putting up a job like that on the women folks, whose whole business is shopping! Why, merchants realize that women are the most liberal and profitable patrons and well worth catering to. They can afford to be patient with our fads and foibles—and they are—as a rule.

The Peasant Type.

The peasant type is one of the dominant notes of the new spring styles. We have the washerwoman turned-up tunic, the Tartar and Cossack and other adaptations of Russo-Turkish peasant attire. The leading Paris houses are exhibiting costumes, wraps and waists which are characterized by the absence of the armhole seam which indicates the importance they attach to this peasant style. Many variations of this idea are now to be seen and a still greater development is prophesied for the immediate future.

It is claimed that attention was first drawn to the peasant costume as a possible fashion development through the successful presentation in Paris last spring of Russian dances in native costume. They took Paris by storm, making a deep impression upon the artistic sense of residents of the gay French capital and the result was an almost immediate adoption of the Russian effect in the dress of ultra-fashionable women. In this distinctive type of dress the Paris model makers found a wealth of new ideas. The Russian note having its limitations, the idea has since broadened to include kindred peasant types, and we have an admixture of Turkish and Grecian characteristics which makes for even more striking and picturesque features.

A Study in Brown.

I met her on Broadway yesterday. She was a perfect model in brown. Not a dull, dark brown, but the bright, burnished-copper brown—a regular yellow brown. The suit was homespun in texture and perfect in cut and fit and the shoes on her feet matched it perfectly in color as well as the velvet hat perched on her head, the veil over her face, the topaz necklace around her throat and the gloves on her hands. The only other touch of color about the whole costume was the pair of old rose plumes in her hat, which gave the contrasting note and perfected the whole.

Homespun and Hopsack.

Unfinished fabrics, such as homespun and hopsack basket weaves, are popular as novelties.

Sleeves made up in a series of flounces are among the prettiest conceits in dancing frocks.

Printed Jersey silk is a novelty in the new spring silk field and looks like real silk Jersey, but is, of course, not elastic.

Dull gold or silver braid, worked into all sorts of weird ornaments, is used as trimming on some of the smartest late winter hats.

It would be difficult to find anything more beautiful in the way of trimmings than the exquisite jeweled decorations of this season.

The indications of the present are all in favor of the greater introduction of Russian blouse effects in suits and separate coats.

The latest innovation in hats is the immense brim that swoops up at the back. It is not becoming to any one, but will probably be worn by the majority.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Programme at Ebell Club.

Programme for the current month at the Ebell, announces a lecture by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, for next Monday. Dr. Jordan's subject will be "The Stake of Women in Public Affairs." The following Monday there will be a lecture by Mrs. Chapin, on "Current Events."

HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES

which have stood the test of time deserve a place in the medicine chest of every family. Mothers are today administering to their children the remedies their grandmothers used.

For thirty years, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been curing the women of this country from the worst form of female ills, and merit alone could have stood such a test of time and won such an enviable record.

Itching Eruptions Quickly Cooled

Just a few drops of oil of wintergreen properly compounded in the thymol, glycerine, etc., and applied to the skin will take away instantly the worst kind of an itch. We positively know this.

The D. D. D. Prescription made at the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago seems to be just the right compound. It sells regularly at $1 a bottle, but we have secured a limited number of special bottles for a trial at 25c on a special offer, and advise you to take advantage of this offer now, as we do not know how long the Laboratories in Chicago will continue the 25c offer.

We KNOW you can take away that itch TONIGHT.

The Home Physician

THIS RECIPE MAKES A SPLENDID REMEDY FOR COUGHS.

The home-made remedy described below will be found a very handy and effective thing to have in the house ready for use. It is simple, pleasant to take, easy to prepare, and lasts a family a long time. It wipes out a cough quickly.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add one-half pint of warm water, and stir about two minutes. Put two and one-half ounces of Pinex (50c worth) in a pint bottle and fill up with the granulated sugar syrup. Take a teaspoonful every 1, 2 or 3 hours.

Cough preparations, as a rule, are mostly syrup. Granulated sugar syrup is both cheap and excellent. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract and is rich in all the healing pine elements.

None of the weaker pine preparations can compare with the real Pinex itself. If your druggist hasn't it, he can easily get it for you.

This recipe is also splendid for chest pains, whooping cough, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup

Vapo-Cresolene

Whooping-Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Coughs, Diphtheria, Catarrh.

Cresolene is a Boon to Asthmatics.

Does it not seem more effective to breathe in a remedy for diseases of the breathing organs than to take the remedy into the stomach?

Cresolene sends healing vapor, rendered strongly antiseptic, is carried over the diseased surface with every breath, giving prolonged and constant treatment. It is invaluable to mothers with small children.

Those of a Consumptive Tendency will find Cresolene relief from Coughs or Inflamed Condition of the throat.

Pictures—a Sale at Half And Less Than Half Price

—It's going to be far and away the biggest picture sale we have ever been able to announce—

—There's hardly a picture in the whole lot but has been reduced a half, and many of them are now marked at a third—and some even a quarter of their former prices—

—It's an opportunity to buy wall furnishings that you won't care to miss—

—Note the few items that follow—and plan to come to the Seventh Floor early today—

—Small pictures in gilt oval frames complete with glass—A variety of subjects way less than half at 5c.

Pictures at 5c

—Sunbonnet babies—and Little Red Riding Hood series—They have been marked two and three times today's price.

Pictures at 10c

—American poets—and authors in Passe-Partout bindings—
—10c stands for less than a third of their former price—

—Puritan pictures in wooden frames with spinning wheel ornaments. The original price was triple this price—

Pictures at 25c

Pictures at $1.00

—The beautiful "Modern Madonna" exactly reproduced in platinum. Very close to half price, at $1.00.

And there are other pictures at 30c, 50c and $1.50 that are all half price and less—It's a wonderful opportunity—Seventh Floor.

How to Get the Pick of 3,000,000 Cans of Asparagus

We put up three million cans of Asparagus this year. All high grade, tender, California-grown.

This great quantity was taken from over 2,600 acres of Asparagus beds, cooked and canned the day it was cut.

Most of the three million cans were put out under our four hundred odd brands and some for dealers who own their own labels.

The choice selections—the large, tender spears, we put up under our favorite brand, Del Monte.

Del Monte Asparagus is the pick of this great quantity. It is chosen because of its excellent flavor, tenderness and color.

All Del Monte Asparagus is carefully watched by our expert gardeners. One or two hours make a great difference in the quality, for Asparagus grows one to two inches a day, and unless it is cut at just the proper time it becomes tough, "stringy" and takes on color.

You will like Del Monte Asparagus. It is cooked, ready to serve as a salad, or it may be heated. You will find from twenty to twenty-five large spears in each Del Monte can. The retail price everywhere is 35c a can.

Most grocers sell it.

Packed Where They Ripen
The Day They're Picked

The Choice of all Our Fruits and Vegetables is Packed Under Del Monte Brand

We put up six of every ten cans of Peaches; more Tomatoes than any other five concerns; the largest amount of Sugar Peas; and handle more than six-tenths of all the canned fruits and vegetables grown in California.

More than thirty thousand people are on our pay roll during the canning season, and thousands of others contribute in various ways to the growing, canning and distribution of our products.

We put up fruits, canned and dried, vegetables, preserves, jams, jellies, catsup, condiments and pealed Chili peppers. All are packed under hundreds of different brands, according to quality, and for different dealers who use their own labels. But our choice, the pick of this vast quantity, is packed under the Del Monte label. You get our favorite selections when you get Del Monte. All grocers can supply you.

NATIONAL BANKS IN GOOD SHAPE.

STATEMENTS TO COMPTROLLER REVEAL SOLIDITY.

Condition of Nine National Institutions Much Better Than a Year Ago. Deposits and Loans Each Show Gain of Nearly Seven Million in Twelve Months.

A call by the Comptroller of the Treasury upon the nine national banks of the city for a statement of conditions at the close of business on December 31 ult., was received yesterday. The reports forthcoming showed without exception, a healthy condition in the affairs of these institutions.

The change in the figures offered by practically all of the national banks was so slight since the last call on November 16, 1909, as to be almost negligible. The total of deposits was $49,-808,834, as compared with $50,740,592 on the earlier date. The loan and available cash columns also show slight losses. The prosperity of the city's banking houses is best revealed by a comparison of the totals compiled yesterday with the call of February 5, 1909, which is for all practical purposes, the corresponding period of last year. Here the difference is most strikingly in favor of the present statement.

In the accompanying tables the figures for the old American National Bank, now merged with the Citizens' National, are not included. Allowing for this addition to the last year column, the gain in both deposits and loans and discounts is between $6,000,-000 and $7,000,000, while the available cash has increased by over $1,000,000.

Following is the detailed statement:

YOUNG VETS INTERESTED.

Department Standard to Be Presented Tomorrow Evening—Congressional Bills Worth Boosting.

Arrangements are practically completed for the presentation of the national colors and department standard to the Department of California, Spanish War Veterans, by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, tomorrow evening in Western Fraternal Hall, No. 231½ South Spring street. The colors are now displayed in the show window of Dyas & Cline and are attracting much attention. All the patriotic societies in the city are invited to the exercises. The G.A.R. Fife and Drum Corps will be in attendance, together with the Young Veterans' Orchestra.

A circular issued by P. C. Mulqueeney, Commander of the Department of California, United Spanish War Veterans, gives a list of bills presented at the present session of Congress which are of far-reaching importance to the young veterans, and active and united effort by all camps in the State is urged by the Department Commander in interesting Senators and Representatives, to the end that these measures receive favorable consideration in committee and active support when up for passage:

(1.) Travel pay to Philippine soldiers who served in the Philippines beyond the period of their enlistment.
(2.) The raising of the Maine.
(4.) Preference in United States civil employment for Spanish War veterans.
(5.) Uniform pension law.
(6.) Twenty-five-year retirement bill for regulars.
(7.) The issuance of discarded rifles and ammunition to camps of Spanish War Veterans.
(9.) Preference in government land entries.
(10.) Widows' pensions to those married subsequent to 1890.
(11.) Extension of United States civil service to include Philippine civil service.
(12.) Special pension for Admiral Coghlan's widow.

Los Angeles county now boasts of eight camps of Spanish War Veterans, Hamilton A. Hawkins Camp, located at the National Soldiers' Home, being the latest addition. There are forty-two camps in the

NO REMARRYING FOR PHIPPS.

Pittsburgh Millionaire Most Emphatic in Statement That He Will Not Wed Divorced Wife.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—"Now let me say once for all that there is no chance for Mrs. Phipps and myself remarrying, and I hope this statement will end the foolish reports circulated that we would," said Lawrence C. Phipps, the Pittsburgh millionaire, today as he sailed for Europe with his daughter, Miss Emma Phipps, on the steamer Celtic.

Mr. Phipps stated positively that Mrs. Phipps was not on the vessel, and spoke with indignation in regard to the reports printed here in the last week. "I, myself, don't mind the reports so much," he said, "but they must prove trying to Mrs. Phipps. It is not fair to her that they should be printed."

WIFE BLAMES STENOGRAPHER.

Ohio Traction Magnate Alleges Woman Nagged, But She Tells of Pretty Typist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOISE (Idaho) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Whether Valentine Winters, wealthy traction magnate of Dayton, O., shall have a divorce from his wife or remain in unwelcome wedlock is to be decided in the District Court here this week.

Mrs. Winters is contesting the suit and at the trial just held she named Anabell Clayton, former stenographer for Winters at Dayton. Winters is president of the Dayton and Western Traction Company.

It is charged by Mrs. Winters, and by her husband admitted, that he has taken up his residence in Idaho solely for the purpose of bringing suit for divorce after having failed in a similar attempt in Texas. Only six months' residence is required of divorce seekers here and with this stipulation Winters has complied.

Winters gives as a reason why divorce should be given that for years she has nagged him and made life unbearable. He has introduced evidence to support this contention. Mrs. Winters replies that their only trouble was over his pretty stenographer.

"I demanded the girl's dismissal," Mrs. Winters says, and offers in evidence a letter which she declares Winters wrote to Miss Clayton, in which he addresses her as "My Dearest Anabell," and "My Darling," and tells her his heart bleeds at their coming separation. The evidence was taken in chambers, all outsiders being carefully excluded. Judge Fremont Wood took the case under advisement.

WILL SEND COMMISSION.

MELBOURNE, Feb. 2.—The Victorian cabinet has decided to dispatch, within a few days, a mission to the United States and England with the object of promoting immigration. Representatives of the government, including, probably, a member of the Cabinet, will constitute the mission, which will first visit England.

PEACE SECRETARY DECLARES WAR IS DOOMED.

Address of Robert C. Root, Before the Federation Club Yesterday—Man Worth More Than Forests and Water, Power—Compares Cost of Schools and Dreadnoughts.

"The World's Awakening; or the Doom of War," was the topic upon which Robert C. Root, secretary of the Southern California Peace Society and Pacific Coast representative of the American Peace Society, delivered a strong and eloquent address before the Federation Club at noon yesterday.

He introduced his subject by saying that it is the question of settling international disputes by means of brains and not by bullets. He said that he spoke with peculiar feeling upon the topic, because his very being is filled with its importance.

"The doom of war is sealed," he said. "The handwriting is on the wall; plain to he who has an eye to see and a heart to understand."

He declared that preparations for war have gone on until 70 per cent of the national revenues is spent in that way, and he gave a detailed review of what this and other nations are spending in the creation of great navies and for the support of standing armies.

He further said that the sentiment expressed by President McKinley, to the effect that the greatness of this country is due to the triumphs of peace and not the triumphs of war, is the sentiment that has swept around the world until there is an anti-military sentiment in every nation. Continuing, he said:

"The schools of the United States are eliminating from their history teaching references about battles hoenix Will Be Benefited by the New Plans.

All the so-called Randolph lines in izona have been merged into the izona Eastern Railway Company, the papers for the merger have en filed with the Secretary of the rritory in Phoenix.

Specifically, in the new incorporation ll be included the following-named ads: Phoenix and Eastern, from hoenix to Winkelman; Maricopa and hoenix, from Phoenix to Tempe and Maricopa; Gila Valley, Globe and Northern, from Bowie to Globe, via Solomonville and San Carlos; Arizona nd Colorado, from Cochise to Pearce, Pearson and Courtland.

The Randolph system also embraces he Sonora Railroad and the Cananea, iver Yaqui and Pacific Railroad systems in Mexico, the latter including the oad from Naco to Cananea, a cross-ut line from Nogales to Cananea, and he whole West Coast system that now s in process of construction.

These Mexican lines seem to be mitted in the incorporation just filed.

CONJECTURES.

While the absorption of the present ads would appear to be an immense erger, they represent only $5,321,400 f the $40,000,000 capitalization of the rizona Eastern system, into which hey have been taken on their face valuation.

Just what will be done with the ther $15,000,000 is a matter that keenly interests Arizonans. One very definite point is that Phoenix is to be given a through main-line connection with the present line at or near Yuma.

The present Phoenix and Eastern is to be built eastward through the Gila Canon, the key to the whole system, connecting at San Carlos with the present road to Globe on the north and to Bowie on the south.

Greatest of all in cost and importance will be the new line to Durango, Colo., which will probably leave the present Gila Valley, Globe and Northern line at Talkai Station, near San Carlos, though an alternative route is being surveyed northward from Globe, through Tonto Basin.

Continuing, the Gila Canon line eastward, the Gila Valley road is to be diverted about twenty miles to Solomonville, where the new main line will branch again, up to the Gila, through Guthrie and Duncan, to the present line at or near Lordsburg.

SIDE ISSUES.

Several side issues are suggested in the incorporation papers, including a road from a point near Florence to Superior, another from near Florence to Casa Grande and another from near Florence to Hansen on the Maricopa and Phoenix.

Reference is made also to the proposed extension of the present Arizona and Colorado from Courtland to Douglas, paralleling a road of the competing Southwestern system, and with branches to Bisbee and Naco. This last road would give connection at Naco and Naccozari with the Randolph lines in Mexico.

As an alternative for the Globe-Durango line is one laid out from Guthrie northward through Clifton. Nothing seems to be specified of the Tucson-Calabasas road, now being built from the end of the Twin Buttes Railroad, this last project seeming to be a purely Southern Pacific enterprise, not handled by the Randolph offices. Several short roads into the mining country around Globe are on the list, including one already constructed into the Miami district.

Nearly all these projected roads are expected to be of great benefit to Phoenix, where the Southern Pacific has purchased a large acreage across the southern edge of the city, including two plats that are suitable for shops and yards.

The main object of the Southern Pacific in pushing through the Gila Canon line is to secure the lowest possible grades, the canon being by far the lowest feasible passage through the backbone of the continent. There has been effort to block this canon route by the filing of a water storage reservoir location, but there is now general belief that the railroad will be given the pass, as desired.

FEW DOSES END KIDNEY TROUBLE

BACKACHE AND BLADDER MISERY VANISHES BEFORE YOU REALIZE IT.

A Few Days' Treatment with Pape's Diuretic makes your out-of-order Kidneys act fine and overcomes Urinary troubles—Thousands of men and women of Los Angeles are suffering unnecessarily, as a thorough cure is waiting.

Usually sufferers from backache, bladder trouble or out-of-order kidneys feel relieved after several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, inflamed or swollen eyelids, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, listless, worn-out feeling, and other symptoms of inactive, sluggish kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all Bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worried is needless because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order Kidneys and Bladder, distributing its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it. The moment you suspect any Kidney or Urinary derangement, or feel rheumatic pains, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a 50c treatment of Pape's Diuretic which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment will make any one feel fine.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—50c treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

to teach about wars in order to develop patriotism, and that preparations for war bring peace. Look out upon the fields of wheat and see if the man who planted them reaps wheat; whether he who plants oranges gathers oranges. The same rule holds good in all other directions; it is impossible to prepare for war and reap peace."

He applied to the contention that preparation for war begets peace, the story of the Scotchman, who had but three objections to his pastor's sermon: "'Ye read it; ye did na read it weel; it was na worth reading.'"

Secretary Root said that there have been many failures of satisfactory settlement in case of war, but that in the more than 600 decisions made by international arbitration, there has not been a single failure. He also referred to the fact that when the Atlantic fleet came around Cape Horn, a year ago, it was attended by twenty-eight colliers under a foreign flag. In making reference to the great sacrifice of life in war, he said:

"If our national resources are worth conserving, then I contend that, over and above our forests and waterpowers, stands man. The great 'Oregon' built at the cost of millions of dollars twelve years ago, now lies useless and out of commission. Harvard University cost a million dollars less, is nearly 300 years old, and is yet expected to do her best work. The cost of one great dreadnought would build twenty-two of our Polytechnic High Schools, and many of our teachers and preachers get less for a year's salary than it cost to fire a single shot from one of the great guns of our navy. Tell me not of the useless waste of war."

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

NORTH MIDWAY IS VERY ACTIVE.

LOS ANGELES COMPANIES HAVE PROVEN THE FIELD.

California Midway Stock Occupies the Center of the Stage on the Local Exchange—Oil Operators Are Visiting the Fields—Reports of Activity.

California Midway continues to occupy the center of the stage on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. There has been heavy trading in the stock for several days. It sold as low as 13 cents on last Saturday, and opened strong on Monday at around 25 cents. On Monday and Tuesday the total sales aggregated about 75,000 shares. Yesterday a total of 41,000 shares was dealt in, the price ranging from 24½ to 26½. Brokers are said to be supporting the market so strenuously because of favorable reports from the field.

M. P. Waite, of Hale & McLeod, in the H. W. Hellman building, received a telegram from the Midway district yesterday to the effect that the California Midway well No. 1 was doing nicely, and there was every indication that it would prove a great property. He also was informed that the Crandall well No. 2 had been cleaned out and was "flowing oil all over the country." The Crandall wells are in the same district as the California Midway, about one-half mile distant.

F. L. Lower, president; Harry Cole, secretary, and A. T. Jergins, treasurer, of the California Midway Oil Company left Tuesday night for the Midway district to inspect the property. They will be absent several days.

All reports that are coming from the North Midway district these days are to the effect that great activity is apparent on every hand. Among the biggest operators now working in North Midway are the Standard Oil Company, the Union Oil Company, and the new American Oil Fields Company. The latter company now has nine complete rigs on the ground in this district, and began drilling well No. 1 on last Saturday. Five strings of tools are kept at work continuously by this big corporation.

The United Oil Company, with offices in the Citizens' National Bank building, also is interested in the North Midway district, and Manager Hedrick left last night for a visit to the field. The company only recently brought in a well of considerable size.

TWO NEW OIL WELLS.

MIDWAY DISTRICT ACTIVITY.

The Matson-Crandall Oil Company officials received word yesterday morning that oil had been struck in their well in the Buena Vista Hills at a depth of 2000 feet. This well is located on section 10, 32-24, and is six miles east of the heretofore proved Midway district. The Crandall of the company said last night that the oil gas was struck in this well, and until it was plugged there was a flow of 12,000,000 cubic feet a day. The gas was encountered at a depth of 1700 feet.

On last Sunday oil was struck in the Crandall well No. 2, in the North Midway district, section 31, at a depth of 2325 feet. The oil, according to Mr. Crandall's information, is of 19 gravity, and the well is flowing 2000 barrels a day. The Crandall well, No. 2, is about one-half mile from the California Midway well, which struck oil on the same day at a depth of 2326 feet.

Local Oil Briefs.

The annual meeting of the Associated Oil Company will be held on February 28, at the offices of the company in the Pacific Electric building. The work of this company during the past year will prove of great interest to the oil men of the entire State.

General Superintendent of Construction Cushing of the Producers' Transportation Company has returned from a visit to the company's lines in the Coalinga district.

The management of the Hotel Green gave a theater party last night to about forty guests to see William Crane in "Father and the Boys" at the Mason Operahouse. The party went over to the city and returned in a private car; Mrs. L. E. Shields and daughter, Miss Shields, prominent society women of St. Paul, arrived at the Green yesterday for the season.

BRIDGE PROBLEM.

The Bridge Committee of the Board of Trade held a short meeting last night for the purpose of discussing plans for the new structure over the Arroyo Seco on West Colorado street. One set of plans were received from a firm named Thomas & Post, for a high bridge. Others are promised. The committee expected to have the plans and cost of construction from the Highway Commission for the low bridge proposition, but was unable to get them.

CLUB GIVES BANQUET.

Pomona Men Hosts at Church Dinner. Masons Hold Their First Installation in New Lodge.

POMONA, Feb. 2.—The Men's Club of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, held its second annual banquet at the Pomona Tavern last night. A. E. Tate, as toastmaster, introduced Dean MacCormack of St. Paul's, Los Angeles, whose subject was "Leadership of Men;" Rev. John W. Nichols of Shanghai, son of Bishop Nichols, who had for a subject: "The Work of the Church in China;" Charles P. Huey of Upland, who spoke on the "Work of the Layman." Other speakers were H. J. Haysom, S. D. McIntyre and H. J. Stembridge. There were violin solos by Richard Loucks, vocal solos by Harry Hinman with accompaniments by Cecil Lee.

MASONIC OFFICERS.

The Masonic lodge held its first meeting in the new temple last evening. After the routine business, officers-elect were installed thus: Jerome Ladden, worshipful master; James Wilkinson, senior warden; Edward Wilton, junior warden; C. M. Stone, treasurer; J. L. Armstrong, secretary; C. R. Hutchings, D. Crites, deacons; Fred Charles, steward, J. R. Garthside, marshal; W. B. Todd, chaplain; George Elles, organist; F. D. Baker, tyler.

Following the installation ceremonies a banquet was served and talks were made by Messrs. Nichols, Hyatt, Midgley, Wilson, Dole and Thomas. Numerous visitors were present from eastern lodges.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

Bold Burglary Pulled Off in Whittier. Police Arrest One Youth and Look for Another.

WHITTIER, Feb. 26. — A daylight robbery of unusual boldness was pulled off here on the main business street yesterday, when the cash drawer of the J. H. Pace Toggery was pried out of the safe, and $200 was taken. The burglar left $25 with the drawer in an outhouse at a residence nearby.

Pace was absent in Los Angeles and his store was in charge of a clerk. It is believed the cash drawer was abstracted while a confederate kept the clerk busy in the front of the shop on pretense of purchasing a suit. The loss was not discovered for several hours, when the proprietor returned. The police arrested Earl Holt as one of the suspects, landed him in the County Jail, and are now looking for Bill Leonard, who, they think, can throw some light on the subject. The young men have been here only a few months, the former coming from Georgia and the latter from Oklahoma.

LONG BEACH.

NEW SYSTEM IS NOW PLANNED.

MORE SEWERS NEEDED TOGETHER WITH LARGER OUTFALL.

Draughtsmen Are at Work on the Profiles—Seven Torpedo Destroyers Will Assemble to Test the Speed of Their Engines—Bank Statements Are Encouraging.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 2.—Draughtsmen are at work on plans for a new system of trunk sewers and a larger outfall, made necessary by the growth of the city. The system built five years ago has proven totally inadequate. City Engineer Dewey suggests the removal of the outfall and septic tank from Seaside Park to near the ocean entrance of the inner harbor.

DESTROYER TESTS.

The torpedo-boat destroyer Perry, Lieut. F. McCommon, anchored off the wharf this morning. Her officers marked off a nautical mile on the beach, east of the Auditorium, for the purpose of allowing the seven vessels of the flotilla, which will assemble here tomorrow, to determine the speed of their engines since being overhauled at Mare Island two months ago. The tests are officially called standardization steaming trials. Lieut. Lewis Richardson, commander of the flotilla, wishes to determine exactly how many revolutions of the screws of the several destroyers are made in a nautical mile. After the Long Beach tests a course will be laid off Catalina and a second test made.

Statements of the four national banks were issued today. They show deposits of $2,147,975.27, an increase of $125,000 since the last call in November, and an increase of over $500,000 in a year. The National Bank shows double the deposits of any other.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Well-Known Monrovia Woman Expires After Few Hours' Illness. Engineer Inspects Roads.

MONROVIA, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Leota Henderson Montgomery-Dash, wife of Charles J. Dash, died suddenly today at her home on West Linnwood avenue, after an illness of only a few hours. She was a prominent member of the Saturday Afternoon Club, and other social organizations, and was well known both in Los Angeles and this city. She was born in Lancaster, O., and when a girl became the wife of James Montgomery of Columbus, O. In 1888, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery were among the pioneers who began the development of Monrovia. Three years later the family returned to Columbus, where Mr. Montgomery died, leaving a widow under 20 years of age and two baby sons. Twelve years ago, Mrs. Montgomery returned to this city. Two years ago she married Mr. Dash.

J. A. Sarwine, City Engineer of Upland, and a party of property owners from that city, were guests today of Street Superintendent F. M. Monroe in a tour of Monrovia thoroughfares. Sarwine stated that he wished to give his townsmen an object lesson in petrolithic road construction prior to the awarding of extensive contracts.

PEADER IS INJURED.

His penchant for reading while at work nearly caused the death this morning of Tom Davids, a teamster employed by Frank J. Cornes. Paying more attention to the adventures of a magazine hero than to his team, he was hurled by a jolt of the wagon from a two-story load of baled hay, and struck on his head. He was badly cut about the face and neck, the vertebral ligaments were wrenched, but no bones were broken.

BURGLARY AND FORGERY.

Covina Store Broken Into; Young Man Arrested, Charged With Uttering Fictitious Checks.

COVINA, Feb. 2.—The People's Store was burglarized early this morning. When the proprietor, H. M. Friedman, opened up he found the place in great disorder, piles of clothing upset and garments strewn about the floor. The burglars evidently tried on several suits before finding a suitable fit, and threw the discarded garments wherever they happened to fancy.

Several pairs of shoes and stockings were also taken, but little money was secured, about $3 being taken from the cash register.

Mr. Friedman's desk was ransacked, the contents pulled out of the drawers and thrown upon the floor, but nothing of value has been missed.

Bertie Benson, who gives his age as 17 years, was arrested this morning for uttering forged checks. He attempted to cash one at the First National Bank, purporting to have been signed by Warner, Whitsel & Co. The work was of such a bungling character, that as soon as the paper was presented at the window the fraud was discovered. The young man made a hasty exit. He was arrested two hours later by Deputy Sheriff Van Vliet, as he was boarding a car for Los Angeles. The lad's home is at Bell Station, on the Whittier line, and his parents are highly respected. He will be taken before the Juvenile Court.

TO TRY JAP BIRD KILLERS.

HONOLULU, Feb. 2.—Twenty-three Japanese, arrested on Laysan and Lisainsky islands for violation of the United States regulations against the killing of birds of plumage, promulgated by President Roosevelt, were brought here today for trial on the revenue cutter Thetis, which also brought 250,000 pairs of wings which were seized by her commander, Capt. William Jacobs, and will be used as evidence.

MINERS DEMAND RAISE.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—That the bituminous miners of this district are firm in their demands for an increase of the wage scale, which will be considered at the meeting with the operators, is the statement of John Driscoll, a member of the executive board of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Driscoll says:

"There are about 50,000 miners in this district, and they demand an advance of $5 a month. They are unable to save anything out of their wages and can barely live, owing to the high prices of food commodities. The wage scale agreement between the Stamina In Men and How To Possess It.

(From "Man's Maladies.")

A prominent physician being asked the question: "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered, "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success." Any man possessing these five attributes is a success. Any man possessing the first three can be a success and have the other two. Possession of a sound body with strong nerves is really the requirement which men need most. Men need stamina, courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance, but in order to have those qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every emotion. When a man has forebodings, sensations of fear, timidity, accompanied with such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousness, sleeplessness, numbness, dizziness, heart palpitation, restlessness, forgetfulness, melancholia, weariness without cause, and many others of a similar nature, it cannot be expected that he will be a success financially, socially or otherwise.

Strong, virile magnetism comes only to those whose nerves are properly nourished in a sound body. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which, if properly blended, will restore a normal keenness to the nerves so that any man can feel the rich red blood surging through his body supplying all the elements necessary to derive the most out of life in all its various phases.

For the benefit of those temporarily deficient in nerve strength the following ingredients can be obtained of an good druggist and prepared in the privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six-ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom) and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL.

of the institution is the fact that all are there because they wish to be. They really want something—know just what it is that they want, and are getting it, as earnestly and rapidly as possible. And, as one of the instructors has said, pupils here as a rule learn much more rapidly than in other schools—"five times as rapidly," he put it.

THE INSTRUCTORS.

Many of the Polytechnic teachers are instructors in the Evening High School, usually in the same branches which they teach daily. This gives an opportunity of earning a little something extra, as the pay is by the hour, and many teachers are sufficiently interested in their work to be willing to carry it beyond the regulation hours.

Prof. Francis is principal of the evening school; Robert A. Thompson, vice-principal. The programme for the new term, which opens next Monday evening, at 7:15 o'clock at the Polytechnic High School building, is as follows: English literature and composition, A. C. Wheat; plane geometry and advanced algebra, R. G. Estep; beginning algebra and computation, A. N. Hatherell; Spanish, beginning and advanced, Helen D. Geis and E. H. Skinner; typewriting, beginning and advanced, F. J. Armstrong; stenography, beginning and advanced, Ida Baldwin and W. H. Wagner; commercial arithmetic, beginning and advanced, Theodore Fulton; book-keeping, George M. Evans and Charles Putnam; penmanship, Myrtle Baldwin and Ida Baldwin; elementary chemistry, A. W. Towner; qualitative analysis, M. S. Moore; domestic chemistry, M. E. Blanford, physics and electricity, M. S. Richer; electrical engineering, H. LaV. Twining; mechanical drawing, H. L. Detrick and A. R. Redman; architectural drawing, C. A. Faithful; freehand drawing, Thea Kjelland; woodshop, A. N. Hatherell; machine shop practice, Charles Rillict; dressmaking, Frances Kingery; millinery, Margaret Colby.

NO GRADUATION

While there is no graduation, nor marking, as in the day schools, the preparation is adequate for college. Most pupils, however, are preparing themselves for better work along the lines of their daily occupations, rather than for anything purely scholarly. There are in the chemistry department, for instance, men who are clerks in drug stores and who are fitting themselves for better work, to draw higher salaries, either with their present firms or to go into business for themselves.

There are teachers who are preparing for more lucrative positions, and are studying specialties. There are men from the mills who are studying in the architectural department the subject of interior finishing, such as mouldings and woodwork, with a view of enlarging their field. Cornice-makers are also here, ornamental ironworkers and plumbers, studying their craft, in its connection with the best modern building. The designs for this work in the new art and science buildings of Polytechnic emanate from the workers along this line in the evening school. Pupils here are also experimenting with new plans of lighting for the new buildings. Landscape gardening is also taken up in its relation to architecture.

Speaking of the work in the wood shop the instructor, Mr. Hatherell, said: "We come to the studies here from a different side than do those in the day schools. There students are acquiring knowledge for future possible needs; but in the night schools pupils are filling a demand which already exists; they want to apply tomorrow that they are learning tonight.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the shops are in use. Not only are the departments of book-keeping, typewriting, stenography, electricity and all the practical lines popular, but the art department, of which Miss Kjelland is head, is well patronized by all ages of pupils. Freehand drawing in charcoal and pencil and the various arts and crafts are taught by this able Polytechnic instructor.

There is no social side to the life at the evening school; no clubs, programmes nor diversions of any character.

The evening school has an enrollment of about 700, and it is believed that a larger number will, at the beginning of the coming term, avail themselves of the great advantages to be obtained in the institution.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

"YOU ADVISED ME TO USE S. S. S. FOR RHEUMATISM, I DID SO AND IT CURED ME."

The above is an extract from a letter which we publish below, from Mr. J. O'Malley. As he says, we advised him to use S. S. S. for Rheumatism, and at the same time we told him why it would cure him. In this short talk we want to tell every one who is suffering with Rheumatism, about the principle on which S. S. S. works, and explain exactly how it cures this disease. We believe you will agree with us that it is the only possible way in which to cure the trouble.

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood. This uratic impurity gets into the circulation by absorption, usually because of chronic constipation, weak kidneys, and other systemic irregularities. Then the blood becomes weak and sour, and irritating urate particles are formed in this vital fluid. When in this impure condition the blood cannot furnish the necessary amount of nourishment to the different muscles, tendons, nerves and ligaments of the body. Instead, it constantly steeps them in the briny, acrid matter, and the gritty, urate particles collect in the joints, which causes the pains, aches and soreness of Rheumatism. Gradually every symptom grows worse, the pains are more frequent and severe, the muscles become sore and tender, and constant contact with the acrid blood slowly dries up the natural fluids of the joints, causing the knees, ankles, fingers, etc., to become swollen and stiff.

You advised me to use S. S. S. for Rheumatism, I did so and it cured me. I was for a year in such a helpless condition from the effects of Rheumatism that I was scarcely able to dress or feed myself. I tried a great many things during that time, but nothing gave me any permanent relief. Then I commenced S. S. S., and took the first dose while hobbling about on crutches. After using it awhile I was so much relieved that I was able to relinquish the use of one crutch. A faithful continuance of S. S. S. cured me sound and well shortly afterward, and I was able to go to my work. I have never had any return of the symptoms of Rheumatism, although S. S. S. cured me five years ago.

J. O'MALLEY.
2135 N. Senate Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

Rubbing the affected portions of the body, or the application of liniments, plasters, hot cloths, etc., may furnish relief from the acute pain of an attack of the trouble, but until the blood is purified of the cause Rheumatism will remain in the system, gradually growing worse.

There is but one way to cure Rheumatism, and that is to cleanse the blood of the uric acid poison. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and attacks the disease at its head. It removes the cause for the reason that it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It filters out every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid-heated blood, furnishes the material for multiplying the rich, nutritious corpuscles, and by its tonic effects assists the system to rapidly overcome every symptom of the disease. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, and may be used by any one with perfect safety. The fact that S. S. S. has been curing Rheumatism for more than forty years is one of the reasons why we say it will cure you. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired, to all who write and request same.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

IDENTIFIED.

IS TRACED BY HIS CLOTHES.

NAME OF ACCIDENT VICTIM AT LAST FOUND OUT.

Man Killed by Train at Cucamonga Last October Turns Out to Be Baltimore Salesman Who Bought Suit at Spokane and Lived in San Francisco—San Bernardino Notes.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 2.—Harry Alden, a Pacific Coast salesman for Sharp & Dohme, manufacturing pharmacists of Baltimore, who made his headquarters with Serwe & Prein, San Francisco, was the unfortunate who was ground to atoms beneath a Southern Pacific train at Cucamonga last October. Coroner Van Wie has just been able to establish the man's identity through a sample of cloth cut from his clothes.

The remains were found one October morning. The greater portion was literally ground to a pulp. The only source of identification was his clothes. As a last resort Coroner Van Wie cut out a sample and sent it to the Chief of Police of Spokane, Wash., the clothes having been bought from the Padgett Clothing Company of that city.

The concern at once commenced to trace all the suits of a similar style it had sold, and located the buyers, with the exception of the one sold to Harry Alden. It was known that his headquarters were at San Francisco, and the firm there was communicated with. It replied that he had been missing since October.

WILL FILED.

Late this afternoon the will of the late Mrs. Alpha Drew-Gage, who died here recently, was filed for probate with the Superior Court. The estate is valued at $150,000, and consists of Los Angeles real estate valued at $12,000; 1250 shares of stock in the Drew Company of this city; household goods, $1000; promissory notes, $50,000, and cash, $1200. The estate is equally divided between her four sons, Arthur, Fred, Roy and Walter. Her aged husband is made a life beneficiary, while the grandchildren each receive gifts of money and jewelry.

RECALLS CONTRACT.

The filing of an action for divorce by Mrs. Lillian Tuttle at Los Angeles against George Tuttle recalls the marriage contract which was forced upon the girl before Tuttle would marry her. The instrument denied the girl, who is a daughter of the late C. J. Watkins, any interest in her promised husband's future, and freed him from all responsibility either for her support or that of their prospective child. The marriage contract was drafted by a local law firm and the ceremony occurred before a local justice.

Found Chinese, a native of California, registered today for the primary election. He is the first Mongolian to do so in this county. He is 24 years old.

MEET IN NEW TEMPLE.

Masons of Redlands Hold First Gathering in Recently-Completed Structure.

REDLANDS, Feb. 2.—The Masonic Temple is completed and last evening the officers of the Royal Arch Chapter and of the Blue Lodge were installed, this being the first gathering in their new temple. The officers of the Royal Arch Masons are: H. P., C. J. Suess; K., J. A. Merritt; S., F. Montigel; Secretary, J. A. Brown; C. H., John Morehead; M. 3rd V., W. Medland; M. 2nd V., W. Montigel; M. 1st V., John F. Allen; S. H. Rose. The officers of the Blue Lodge are: W. M., N. L. Levering; S. W., R. Clock; J. W., C. E. Latham; Treasurer, R. M. Hamilton; Secretary, O. G. Suess; Marshal, J. A. Stone; Chaplain, J. D. Easter; Assistant Chaplain, W. M. Cook; S. D., H. P. D. Kingsbury; J. D., C. H. Clock; S. S., W. H. Montigel; J. S., George P. Taylor; Tyler, S. S. Waldo.

The new temple will be formally dedicated the middle of this month.

The temple, which is located on Cajon, street adjoining the Methodist church, is 104x60 feet. It is two stories in height, is a concrete building, with a cream pressed brick front, and cost $75,000.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Today's arrivals at La Casa Loma Hotel: Mrs. A. B. Gibbs, Portland, Me.; J. A. Fitten, J. H. Fitten, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duncan and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Seattle; Mrs. George Sanborn, Miss R. L. Sanborn, Mason City, Iowa; J. R. Sanborn, Pukezena, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Ames, Ontario, Can.; John A. Peck, Jr., New York; Mr. and Mrs. George Cood, Venice.

Mrs. Charlotte Heineman, an official of the George Junior Republic at Chino, yesterday addressed a meeting at the Contemporary Club-house, after which a local auxiliary was formed, with these officers: President, Mrs. T. T. Smith; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Johnson; treasurer, H. H. Ford. The purpose is to aid the California Republic until the sale of farm products is sufficient to make the institution self-supporting.

The Ministerial Union met Monday evening at the home of Rev. Meber Rice. Supper was served, after which Rev. F. B. Matthews, pastor of the Baptist Church, read a paper on "Is the Church Meeting the Modern Needs?" The next meeting will be on the 29th inst. at the Congregational parsonage, the pastor, Dr. J. H. Williams, being host.

President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fé Railroad, was in the city yesterday to inspect the new depot.

The following have been appointed a committee for financing a new lodge building of the Elks: A. E. Brock, F. G. Feraud, R. M. Hamilton, N. L. Lelean and William Medland.

COLTON.

COLTON, Feb. 2.—A majority of the citizens met in the City Hall last night to discuss plans for the no-license campaign. A resolution was adopted to launch the campaign. The Trustees will be asked to place on the ballot at the next regular municipal election the following question: "Shall the traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes be prohibited within the city of Colton?" A committee of fifteen was appointed with F. F. Lightner as chairman.

The Woman's Club met yesterday afternoon. The programme was in charge of Mrs. M. D. White. Mrs. Rowley read a paper on "Amateur Photography and Composition." The club is opening and grading H street, from Tenth to Mt. Vernon. On the completion of the work residences will be erected on the tract.

ADOPTS TWO STANDARDS.

Lima Bean Growers' Association of Ventura County Grades the Crop. Notes from Oxnard.

OXNARD, Feb. 2.—The Lima Bean Growers' Association has adopted two standards for marketing. The best it calls "association choice recleaned limas." Twenty-five per cent. of the crop will grade to the first class. The remainder rates as "standard choice." During previous years a large quantity of lima beans were shipped from California to eastern jobbers as "choice recleaned," but as a matter of fact, had never been recleaned. Much trouble resulted through rejections. To obviate this the association has decided that it will not ship lima beans that have not been recleaned no matter how good they look beforehand.

Donlon and Greenwell have been awarded the contract by the Interurban Land Company for driving piles and building bulkheads along the Chronicle property, on the Santa Clara River. This work is necessary in order to protect their tillable land from the ravages of the water. It will also serve to make new land, formed by sediment and silt deposited by back-water.

The Pacific States Telephone Company linemen will hereafter receive $3.75 per eight-hour day, with time and one-half for all overtime. This is an increase of 25 cents per day.

According to the semi-annual reports of the schools it seems that an unusual condition exists, inasmuch as there are more boys in attendance than girls. In the second grade there are twenty boys and six girls; in the eighth grade, fifteen boys and nine girls; seventh grade, fifteen boys and nine girls; sixth grade, eighteen boys and ten girls; fifth grade, nineteen boys and twelve girls; fourth grade, twenty-six boys and the same number of girls. Prof. J. B. Nichols, principal of the local grammar schools, state that so general a preponderance of boys has never before come under his notice. The totals are 113 boys and seventy-two girls.

SLIP AWAY TO GET KNOT TIED.

PROMINENT PAIR OF ONTARIO GO TO SAN BERNARDINO.

At Catholic Church Difficulty Arises Because of Fact That Man Is Protestant—Before It Is Settled Relatives Are Informed and They Witness Ceremony.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ONTARIO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Excitement was caused this afternoon, when it leaked out that two well-known young people, Miss Mary McDonald Lindley, daughter of W. H. Lindley, an old and prominent resident rancher living on West A street, and Charles Henderson Ripple, who has been visiting at the home of his mother for the past six weeks, had slipped away to San Bernardino to be married.

None of the friends or relatives of the two people had an inkling of their intentions. They secured a marriage license at the county seat and went to the Catholic Church, of which faith the bride is a communicant. There some difficulty arose, owing to the different religious belief of Mr. Ripple.

In the meantime, the parents of Miss Lindley received word of the intentions of the two and made all haste to get to San Bernardino. William Arden, a cousin of the bride, took Mr. and Mrs. Lindley and Mr. and Mrs. Muehe, the latter a sister of Miss Lindley, to the county seat in his automobile. After the arrival things seemed to have moved smoothly and the young folks were married at the Catholic Church by Rev. Father Brady, in the presence of the abovenamed witnesses.

Both young people are well known and move in the best social circles here.

The Citrus Fruit Association has just paid the first dividend on this season's oranges. It is on December fruit. Grading was done carefully at the packing-house and the fruit brought satisfactory prices. The percentage of injured oranges is small.

The Current Events Club last night successfully carried out the first of a series of entertainments for the benefit of the clubhouse fund. The card party was attended by over 100 persons.

GREECE AND TURKEY NEAR WAR.

Cretan Issue Is Hourly Nearing Crisis and Is Likely to Involve All Europe.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thirty-five thousand Turkish troops are stationed on the border of Greece, and today 10,000 more were ordered from Eastern Turkey to western points, where they will be available for immediate service. The Turkish-Grecian-Cretan issue is hourly nearing a crisis, and war that may involve all Europe may be declared at any moment.

The German Ambassador is doing his utmost to avert an armed clash, but the government has learned that Greece is running military preparations, and if they continue Greece will be warned to cease or it will have to fight.

It is believed that the Grecian National Assembly, which King George has promised to summon, backed by the Dragoumis Cabinet, and the Military League, will decide for war.

CALIFORNIA LAND WITHDRAWN.

Nearly Half-Million Acres Closed to Entry Because of Proposed Petroleum Legislation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Approximately 760,187 acres were designated today by Secretary Ballinger as open under the enlarged homestead act. Of this amount, 672,940 acres are in Wyoming, 34,540 in Montana and 61,787 in New Mexico.

Proposed legislation affecting the use and disposition of petroleum deposits in the public domain caused Mr. Ballinger to withdraw temporarily 448,000 acres in California, making the total area of petroleum withdrawals in California to date 2,400,453 acres.

In aid of proposed legislation affecting the disposal of water-power sites, the Secretary today temporarily withdrew from all [illegible]

Do You Know Where You Stand?

Nearly every business man has under his very feet, or, at least, in his back yard, a gold-bearing vein which he himself guesses not of. It pays, once in a while, to drop one's present work and scrutinize the elements of opportunity hitherto untouched.

A prominent Chicago business man has in his office-building what he calls his "dream-room." He goes there for an hour a day and just thinks.

If you are not an advertiser, give your first hour of thought to advertising-method. Or, if you are an advertiser, think if you are cultivating sufficiently the women of America. Their buying-influence is radically underestimated.

TESTIFIES.

DETECTIVE PUT ON THE STAND.

DENIES WOMAN OF SAN DIEGO PAID HIM MONEY.

Prosecutor Criticises Chief of Police for Giving Evidence for Defense, Asserting 'Twas Done to Hinder Effort to Clean Up Graft—National City Postoffice Looted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Marshall Smith, the detective on trial in the Superior Court for alleged bribery, today testified in his own behalf. He denied that Blanche Collins paid him money to guarantee her that the police would not arrest a man in whom she was interested if he came back to San Diego. He said the woman offered him money, but he told her she needed it worse than he did, because he was well paid for his work by the city. Arguments were begun immediately after Smith's testimony. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Wheeler attacked Superintendent of Police Scheon for taking the stand for the defense, declaring it was done to hinder the District Attorney's office in its efforts to clean up graft. Wheeler will conclude his argument tomorrow.

SAFE CRACKED.

Expert yeggmen early this morning blew open the safe of the National City postoffice with nitro-glycerine and took $300 in money orders and cash. In their hurry to leave the cracksmen overlooked $50 in silver and gold. A large amount of stamps was left untouched.

The work was accomplished by two men. Nightwatchman Wade was three blocks away when he heard a muffled sound of an explosion. He hurried in the direction of the report and as he reached the postoffice two men ran out of the building and escaped in the darkness, although he fired several shots at them.

The robbers broke into an automobile garage and secured tools. The postoffice door was pried open with a jimmy and the work of cracking the safe was done in plain view from the street through large windows, the room being lighted with electric lamps. Mail sacks were piled around the safe to muffle the sound of the explosion.

Federal authorities were this morning notified of the robbery and several inspectors arrived on the afternoon train.

ENGAGES PARSONS.

The Park Board has engaged Samuel Parsons, a landscape engineer of New York, to take charge of the work of beautifying the city's open spaces.

Rain fell yesterday morning and again at night, but the measurements show but .02 of an inch, making the season's total 8.21 inches, which is 2.85 in excess of normal. Last year's total to date was 5.38 inches.

RESERVOIR PUT TO USE.

The University Heights reservoir, covering a city block, with a capacity of 24,000,000 gallons of water, was dedicated this morning when Mayor Conard turned the faucet which sent twenty-four inches of pure mountain water into the huge basin for the first time.

VENTURA.

VENTURA, Feb. 2.—James Bridgman Wells, a native of South Dakota, aged 23, and a resident of Los Angeles, was married here Monday to Josephine Gertrude Hohman, a native of Oregon, aged 22, and a resident of Portland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Stone at the parsonage of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Frank Hobart left last evening for Oakland, where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Forbes.

Frank H. Mouser, Los Angeles, candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Secretary of State, was in this city today in the interests of his candidacy.

ULTIMATUM TO SUPERVISORS.

Orange County Board Ordered to Appoint Certain Men as Highway Commissioners.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 2.—The Good Roads Committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county today made a written proposition to the Supervisors that may result in the filing of the petitions calling for a bond election. These have been withheld because the committee had no assurance as to who the Supervisors would select for highway commissioners. The committee wants C. C. Chapman of Placentia, M. M. Crookshank of Santa Ana and W. H. Burnham of Orange appointed.

ASKS FOR PERMIT.

G. P. Nickey, a director of the Southern California Sugar Company, today told the Supervisors that unless the factory secures an outlet for its waste water it cannot be operated, and will be liable for damages for failing to handle the beets grown on 7000 acres contracted for. The statement was made in an argument for a permit to lay a pipe line along a county road. The petition will be taken up next Tuesday.

NOT IN LEGAL FORM.

J. A. Knapp of Anaheim and C. S. Holt and W. W. Mills of Garden Grove asked the Supervisors today to indorse the formation of a protection district for the portion of the Santa Ana River from Olive to Santa Ana. The board refused to act because the matter was not in legal form. During the discussion, Knapp said the Supervisors failed to put in all the territory that should have gone into the Newhebert Protection District two years ago, that a "pull" had been exercised, and some lands left out. Chairman MacMullen told Knapp that the lands referred to for the new district were never petitioned to be put in the district and could not have been put in, and if Knap expected to discuss the matter he must talk like a gentleman.

"I am as much of a gentleman as you are," replied Knapp.

"Yoy don't act like one," said MacMullen.

Isabel Muruato, a Mexican, was today sentenced to eighteen months in San Quentin for stealing chickens from I. L. Collins of McPherson.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses: Edward J. Rubien, 21, of Morenci, Ariz., and Pauline E. Heinig, 24, of Wimelka, Ill.; Fred W. Vermeulen, 22, of Fullerton, and Erika A. Hinze, 19, of Santa Ana; James S. Dutch, 33, and Blanche E. Reed, 27, both of Los Angeles; Ralph E. West, 39, and Frances M. Gray, 30, both of Los Angeles; José Leon, 23, and Mary Domingues, 16, both of Anaheim.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

REPORT HAS HEALTHY TONE.

FIRST MONTH'S BUSINESS SEEMS TO BE SATISFACTORY.

Petroleums Lead in Activities Wednesday—Pacific Railway Bond Is Sold and Mining Issues Furnish Some Trades, January Tabulations Showing Shares Exchanged.

Yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was almost entirely confined to the petroleums, a single bond of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company and three or four mining stocks being the only issues handled out of the oil column.

Eighty of Associated Oil changed hands at 46.50@46.25. American Petroleum was a trader at 75.00 to the amount of 10 shares. Fifty of Mexican Petroleum common were marketed at 28.00@28.12½.

Of the cheaper oils, 10000 of Olinda sold at 46, buyer 30 days; 1000 of Globe at 17 and 41,000 of California Midway at 24½@25¾.

There were no changes of particular significance in quotation.

The clearinghouse department of the exchange yesterday afternoon made public a report of January's business. This report, which is embodied in the accompanying tabulations, reveals a healthy business condition on the exchange during the first month of the new year.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

Atlanta Is Conspicuous Among Active Stocks—Goldfield Con. Loses Five Points—Prices.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, No. 112 West Third street.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—The strongest stock in the Goldfield list today was Atlanta, which closed 14 bid. This stock has been gradually climbing from 10 cents. The excellent condition of the leases on the property is responsible for the rise in price.

Goldfield Consolidated lost five points; Florence was up 2½; Jumbo Extension was unchanged, while Fraction lost one point, closing at 21 bid. These were the only changes of consequence in the Goldfield list.

The severe break at the close of the New York market was responsible for the sharp decline in Belmont, which lost 15 points, closing at 1.27½ bid. This property is controlled in Philadelphia and eastern stockholders naturally think that all Nevada stocks must go down when eastern stocks sell off sharply. There were no other important changes in the Tonopahs, although an easier feeling was manifest.

Nevada Hills is getting weaker on the ask price, there having been no bids for some time. It is now offered at 46, a loss of ten points in the price of yesterday.

The Bullfrogs, Rawhides and Round Mountain were unchanged.

The Comstocks showed considerable weakness in sympathy with the balance of the market. Ophir lost five, closing 1.17½ bid. Mexican was off 2½. Consolidated Virginia lost 5; Hale & Norcross lost 1, and Belcher, 2½; Confidence was off 22½ on the asked price there being no bids for the stock at the close. Union lost 2, Union 4, Chollar and Potosi each 3.

Trading was on a limited scale and orders were hard to execute.

MARKET PRICES SHOW WEAKNESS.

SLOW DEMAND FOR CASH WHEAT CAUSES DROP.

Expectations of a Siege of Bad Weather Which Might Interfere With the Moving of the Field Crop Caused Early Strength in Corn, But Buying Grows Easy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Wheat ruled lower today. Corn and oats, after showing early strength also fell off. Provisions closed at an advance over yesterday's final figures. Slow demand for cash wheat here and in the Northwest and Southwest was the controlling factor in the wheat pit and was largely responsible for the decline in prices. The high point of the day for May was 1.11⅛ and the decline carried the figures for that month down to 1.10⅝@1.10⅝. The close was weak at the low points in all the months. May being 1c lower. Prospects of a recurrence of weather unfavorable to the transportation of the bulk crop, together with an improved demand from outside interests gave early strength to corn. The variations ranged from ⅛c to ⅜c, May touching 67⅛, and failing to 66¾@66⅞, where it closed. Oats followed the course of corn, advancing early on improved buying in spite of the large arrivals, and, like corn, dragging at the close through the influence of the downward wheat market. The variations in prices were from ⅛c to ¼c, May touching 47⅛, and declining to 46⅝. The close was weak in all the futures at nearly the low points of the day. May closed at 46¾@46⅞, ¼@½c lower. In provisions, May pork, closed at 21.90, 10c higher; lard, 12.07½ to 12.10, 2½@5c higher; and ribs, 11.77½, 2½c higher.

New York Cotton Market.

[Private wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 113 Wall Street.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The average sentiment in New York in the early hours was not in keeping with the Liverpool opening and in consequence the market at first was narrow and depressed; but the depression found buyers ready to take contracts and later the market recovered. As statistics, if possible, are getting even more bullish every day, those at least have their effect and a higher week end movement in price may be looked for. It is a fact that receipts at interior points and ports are absurdly small and that unless the spinners takings are much under any previous rate for the last decade, eventually prices for the near months must go higher. It is well to still observe conservatism in buying in these months and under present conditions. Yet a reversal of a real bull market is hardly expected in the near future and though we see a probability of higher prices for the next months, it seems just as certain that we will surely see lower prices for the new crop and would sell October, for instance, on all bulges.

Hill, of Logan & Bryan, says: "Liverpool is slightly better than looked for, with a fair volume of sales of 30,000. Public interest in cotton, however, has waned to such an extent that any movement in prices either way is hard to accomplish and until more of the visible has passed into the hands of spinners the situation will hardly be acute enough to bring the market back to its old-time form. A gradual reduction of stocks will finally accomplish a bull market. Volume of trade is very small at the moment."

THUGS MISS A VICTIM.

Aged Man, Well Heeled, Sleeps in Dolgeville Station—Held Until His Sanity Is Determined.

After having slept all night in the waiting room of the station at Dolgeville, H. J. Dunkall, an aged man, was found wandering aimlessly around that village by Constable Ben Ward yesterday morning. He was brought to the County Jail, to be detained until it could be determined as to whether he is suffering mentally.

The old man would have been an easy victim for thugs. He carried $150 in gold, checks for several hundred dollars and a bank book showing he had about $800 on deposit.

He declared that he was a salesman in the carpet department of the Maier & Frank establishment in Portland. He told the officers that he came south on a pleasure trip about two months ago, and intended to go home soon.

Dunkall's story ... entirely rational, but after he reached a certain point, each time he told it, he seemed to suffer a lapse of memory.

The Sheriff is attempting to locate some of the old man's friends or relatives, as he does not believe that it is the proper thing to allow him to go alone.

WILL CREMATE BODY.

Relatives of Late Moses A. Harmon Will Disregard Wishes of Dead Man for Dissection.

While a Chicago doctor named in the decedent's testament says he is ready and waiting to receive the body of Moses A. Harmon, now in this city, a daughter and other relatives of Harmon are hurrying to Los Angeles to take charge of it, declaring it shall never be put to such a use as decedent evidently wished. When news of her father's death was received, Verna Harmon of No. 1532 Fulton street, Chicago, started at once for this city to take charge of the body, and is due here today.

Yesterday Verna Harmon, 11, a grand-daughter of the decedent, issued the following statement in Chicago, according to a dispatch received here:

"I am sure my grandfather never requested that his body be given to doctors for dissection, and if he did, we won't allow any such thing to be this matter. He had no right to leave directions which would put us in such an unpleasant position. No, the body is going to be cremated in Los Angeles."

DEFENDS MEAT PRICES.

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 2.—J. A. Jastro, president of the Live Stock Association, speaking of the high price of meat and the consequent boycott, declares that meat is cheaper in proportion than any other food commodity. He says that corn, which used to sell at 25c, is now 70c, and hay that sold at $3 to $4 a ton, now commands $10 and $12. The farmer and feeder have to pay increased prices for every commodity they use, and it is impossible that meat prices should not advance.

TOBACCO FUMES OVERCOME MEN.

Fire Fighters Are Almost Suffocated in Basement of Factory During Bad Conflagration.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—So many firemen were overcome by the tobacco fumes from a fire in the basement of a wholesale tobacco dealer of this city today, that their fellows were compelled to stop fighting the flames to rescue them. Six fire fighters were carried from the building, one of whom, Lieut. Eugene Valenti, was so badly overcome that his recovery is doubtful. Valenti had staggered from the basement twice and attempted a third trip. Alarmed at his long absence, a rescue party went in and found Valenti and three other firemen face downward in the water which was several inches deep on the floor.

The four were carried out and taken to the hospital where three of them received under treatment, but Valenti was resuscitated with difficulty and still remains in a critical condition. The
